

Important Provincial News of the week for Saturday Subscribers.

MONDAY.

The police on Saturday afternoon searched the premises of George O'fer, Sydney Street under a Prohibition warrant, but failed to find any liquor there.

The marriage took place at the Methodist parsonage, City, July 14, by Rev. Wm. Harrison, of George Hill, City, and Miss Grace Wilson, Hampton. Miss Annie Beaton acted as bridesmaid while Walter Young ably supported the groom.

A number of youthful depredators are still at large in the City and operating in a small way. On Thursday afternoon or evening S. W. Crabbe's brick warehouse near the S. A. Barracks was entered by breaking a window. Some goods were disturbed but so far as known not much of value was stolen. Yesterday two small boys broke into the store of George H. Tinto, corner of Great George and Fitzroy Street. They were seen coming out with some musical instruments which a gentleman assisting took from them. They had broken two windows in the rear. The boys' names are Wakeling; they live near the store they entered. It is not known whether the same parties entered Mr. Crabbe's premises.

H. J. Richardson of the General Electric Co., Schenectady, New York, who has been on the Island for the past few weeks, left on return to his home on Saturday. Forty years ago Mr. Richardson was conducting a general clothing store in Summerside, having come here from New Brunswick. After remaining here for about ten years he moved to the United States. Since then he has never forgotten old friends in and around Summerside and has made frequent visits to the province always taking much interest in the improvements going throughout the country. He says there is no where to be found so many beautiful farms and fine residences as are seen on Prince Edward Island. The hospitality of the people and the beauty of the scenery cannot be surpassed, and he hopes yet to make many visits to this, the best spot on earth to spend a summer vacation.

About eight o'clock last evening there was towed into this port by the tug James Reid, the steamer Turret Bell, which was stranded at Cable Head, on the north side of the Province three years ago, at the time the Sovinto and other vessels were wrecked.

The Turret Bell is a large freight steamer of 2200 tons, nearly 200 feet long. She is lying anchored off the Plant Line Wharf and is apparently none the worse for having been marooned on the North Side for three years. The principal evidence of her misadventure is the coating of rust which covers her from stem to stern.

It will be remembered that after this steamer became stranded the underwriters paid the insurance and then proceeded to set the vessel floated. S. M. Brockhill took the contract but later surrendered it, when the James Reid wrecking company of Sarnia, Ont., undertook the job. Last year the tug James Reid in command of Capt. H. R. Reid, a son of the head of the firm, came down and started work, using air and powerful jacks. A lot was done then but not enough to get the steamer off before winter came.

This summer Capt. Reid again came down and worked hard at the job. His labor was rewarded when, on Saturday morning at 2 o'clock he moved the hull about 150 feet. Then two hours later he gave another pull and finding things coming his way he kept going till he had the Turret Bell well afloat. There was a high north-west wind blowing at the time and it was no joke getting the steamer off.

Now Capt. Reid is receiving congratulations on the successful outcome of his work. The Turret Bell is practically unhurt. She had steam up in her boilers and was able to steer herself and operate her donkey engines on the trip down.

Capt. Reid stopped at Souris on his way here. He will remain in this port till further orders.

There is very little rise to the tides on the North Shore when the vessel was stranded—four feet being the limit. This, however, with the work that had been done was sufficient for his purpose and Capt. Reid was confident he would be successful on Saturday morning—the event proving his judgment correct.

On Tuesday last James Chandler of Hazelbrook drove the horses in the mower. It gives his friends great pleasure to see him so active considering the fact that he is in his 90th year.

Citizens who are in the habit of bathing on the shore in the western part of the town of Summerside will take notice that there has been added to the large amount of rubbish already there 150 broken bottles. Police officer Philpotts destroyed these bottles with their contents on Saturday by order of the Police Court, it being a quantity of beer confiscated some weeks ago and which was above the standard three p. c.

TUESDAY.

Yesterday morning Policeman Walker made another capture of an unsuspecting offender over whom he had been hanging for some time an unsatisfied Prohibition Act sentence. The sufferer in this case is John McKinnon, who formerly operated on Richmond Street, and was convicted in 1905. He "flew the coop" at the time before the police could take him to duress. He evidently thought that three years absence would absolve him but for himself mistaken when Mr. Walker took affectionate but firm hold of him and walked him off to jail.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of John and Mrs. Gillis, Flat River, on the 28th inst., when their daughter Christina A. was married to John A. Clark of Quincey, Mass. The solemn ceremony was performed by Rev. S. D. McPhee, in the presence of a large number of invited guests. Many beautiful and costly presents testified to the popularity of bride and groom. Mrs. Gillis, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Ernest McLeod supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will spend their honeymoon visiting friends in this Province, before returning to their future home in Quincey, Mass.

The remains of Stewart McTavish, so foully murdered at Cambridge, Mass., were lovingly laid to rest in the family plot at St. John's Cemetery, Boston, on the 28th inst. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. S. D. McPhee assisted by Rev. Mr. McEwen of Iowa. The exceptionally large concourse of people forming the sad funeral procession showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held in his native land and the deep sympathy felt for the sorrow-stricken parents and relatives.

The message came to the bereaved, one never to be forgotten. He promises "to wipe all tears from our eyes" is graciously sustaining the broken-hearted parents and family by the sweet consolation of His grace and presence. "Stewart" was a young man of exemplary character and a general favorite. His untimely and cruel death has cast a deep gloom over the whole Province. The bereaved parents and relatives have the prayers and sincere sympathy of all.

J. Walter Jones, B. A., B. S. A., has just received the honor results in agriculture from Toronto University. He led his class at the Ontario Agricultural College and took honors in seventy-five per cent. of his subjects. All students entering the Ontario Agricultural College with a B. A. degree as Mr. Jones did are required to spend three years on the B. S. A. course. But in Mr. Jones' case, owing to his high standing after the first set of examinations, this condition was waived and he was allowed to take the examinations in two years instead of three—hence the honor and reflects most creditably upon his ability at a student. Besides this he led the inter-collegiate debate against Woodstock College and was all round champion athlete while at the O. A. C. Mr. Jones has accepted an agricultural position in the Hampton Institute, Virginia—one of the finest trade schools in America. He is now spending the summer at his old home and leaves in September to take the position referred to. All congratulate this brilliant Principalist on his marked success, both as a student and as an athlete.

Commissioner Wakeham held a very interesting meeting in Summerside yesterday. There were about 60 of the leading lobster packers present from the eastern half of Prince Edward Island. About 20 of those came forward and gave voluntary sworn evidence of the conditions of the lobster industry as it occurred to them from their experience and observations. Although there were some differences in the opinion expressed by them as to the days of opening and closing of the lobster season along their different points on the shore. Yet much valuable information was brought out which no doubt will be helpful for future action in regulating the lobster industry. Commissioner Wakeham's long list of questions which he placed before each of the witnesses, were all practical and showed clearly that he is deeply interested in the work of improving the situation if possible, and of doing all that can be done to assist the packers and fishermen in this important industry. The question of lobster hatcheries was discussed to some extent and the packers were unanimous in their opinion that this would increase the number of fish and would be of great advantage. There was very little brought out in the evidences to show that the law regulating lobster fishing has been violated. The meeting was considered a very profitable one.

William McKinnon, of Boston, who accompanied to this Province the body of Stewart McTavish, of Eildon, returned yesterday to Boston, after paying a visit to the brother D. L. McKinnon of Montague. Mr. McKinnon is discussing the tragic death of McTavish says that the Boston papers have the facts in the main, correct, although of course, the sensational element is very pronounced. The general opinion is that McTavish was drugged and robbed, and that on recovering consciousness he naturally made such a vigorous protest, being a strong active fellow, that violent measures were used against him. He had about $50 in his possession when he went to the Richmond House, and there was no money on him when the body was found on the eventful Friday morning. Mr. McKinnon saw the remains about four hours after they were discovered. There was a bullet wound in the head, which was also frightfully hacked with an axe. The Richmond House was generally patronized by teamsters and men of outdoor occupations. They were on the whole good hearted friendly fellows, though lacking society's polish. Some facts in connection with Mrs. Richmond's history have appeared in the papers. It is stated that she inherited a fortune of $40,000, but that was several years ago, and it is said that she has gone through with that money, and was not very flush of late.

WEDNESDAY.

...In Montague yesterday dealers were paying sixty cents a bush for potatoes, fifteen to eighteen cents a lb for butter, eighteen cents a doz. for eggs and six to eight dollars a ton for loose hay.

A very noticeable product on the City market yesterday were berries. Cherries were abundant at eight cents a quart, raspberries plentiful at ten, blueberries not so numerous ranging in price from five to ten and gooseberries at eight. The strawberry season is practically over. The potato market was dull, oats selling at fifty cents a bush for water and fifty-five for bulk, hay nine and ninety to nine dollars and fifty a ton for pressed and from fifty to fifty-five for loose. Straw sold at six dollars a ton for pressed and thirty cents a cwt for loose. Eggs sold at eighteen cents a dozen and butter at seventeen to eighteen cents a pound.

Two men, for selling the journal known as Free Speech, were arrested in St. John the other day. As this paper has been circulated in this Province with the intent to corrupt the minds of the people, the papers of St. John Standard will be of interest: George Merriess and Nicholas Aliotis, two Greeks, were arrested last evening on the charge of selling printed matter tending to corrupt public morals. They had in their possession a large number of copies of the paper known as Free Speech, which is published weekly in Montserrat and which for the last two months has been on sale in this city. The two Greeks who are employed in Sperdake's fruit store, were arrested between 8 p. m. and 9 p. m., by Acting Sergeant Scott and Policemen Marshall and Hughes, on a warrant sworn out by Officer Lucas. The information was laid under the section in the criminal code which makes it an indictable offense to sell printed matter which tends to corrupt the minds of the people. Free Speech is edited by C. B. McDougall, of Montserrat, and the name of "W. C. Loggie" is announced as business manager. The sheet is printed in Newcastle and is sold broadcast over the Maritime Provinces wherever buyers are found at the price of five cents a copy. The mails were closed to the publication some months ago and it has since been shipped by express to the other parts of the Maritime Provinces. Since May 22 it has been sold every Friday in the city through the medium of several dealers and newsboys. The stores pay three cents for each paper and retail them to the public for five cents. Sent direct from the publishers the boys made a profit of a quarter of a cent on each paper. It is estimated that the sale in St. John has varied from 500 to 4000 copies each week. When the Greeks were arrested last night four bundles of the paper were confiscated and carried to the police court. Merriess, one of the prisoners, is no stranger to the police court. His first appearance was at the time of his arrest on a warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretences. This developed into a civil case and he was allowed to go. About a year ago he was the complainant in a stabbing affray which ended happily for all concerned.

EARACHE, TOOTHACHE!
To Cure the Pain in Ten Seconds and Get Instant Relief, Nothing Equals NERVILINE

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of homes this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. To-day Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies—scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenaway, of the Guide newspaper writes: "For the last few years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain earache, toothache, cramps, headache and disorders of stomach, I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. For use anything but a box of Nerviline, see bottle, five to ten cents, all dealers or The Catarthone Co., Kingston, Ont.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4398

Commander Wakeman of the D. G. Cruiser Princess has been in this port for the last two days presiding over the commission of inquiry into the condition of the lobster business. The sessions were held in the office of the Inspector of Fisheries. Many matters were brought up and a number of people who are engaged in the industry were heard by the commissioner, among them being James Taylor, of St. Peter's Island, fisherman; William S. P. Peter's Island, fisherman; Thomas Pineau, Rustico, packer; William A. McDonald, fisherman; Michael Feehan, Mt. Stewart, packer; J. W. McDonald Grand Tracadie, packer; Alvan McDonald, Rice Point, fisherman; Simon Pineau, North Rustico, packer; Geo. S. Larter, Covehead, packer. Letters were read from B. Compton, & Co., Belle River; J. H. Judson, Alexandra; A. B. Warburton, M. P., was also present on the second day presiding over the sessions. The general trend of the evidence was to the effect that this year's catch was not up to the average of the last two years. All the witnesses were in favor of the establishment of hatcheries. There was considerable difference of opinion regarding the length of the season, some recommending that it be shortened, others maintaining that such a course would mean ruination. They were unanimous in their opinion that a strict enforcement of the regulations regarding the size limit of eight inches, would put packers out of business. Some of the packers near the region served by the hatcheries said they had noticed a large run of small lobsters of uniform size in all directions, indicating that they had come from one hatcherie. Commander Wakeman has visited Summerside, and leaves this morning to continue the inquiry at Georgetown and at Souris.

The following are the Albion market prices: Oats per bus. fifteen cents, butter per lb seventeen cents, potatoes per bus twenty seven cents, eggs per dozen sixteen cents and wool per lb twenty cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Howes of Vanceboro, Maine, are spending their honeymoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward of North Grandville. They intend having a day's outing at New London beach before returning to their residence in Maine.

Yesterday morning after the steamer Empress had left the line and was backing out from the wharf a cat came along by the name of Harney and ordered the engine reversed. A rope was thrown on shore and the man hauled on board over the rail by the wool while the crowd on the wharf cheered.

The committee appointed by the Presbytery to consider the union of Cardigan and Georgetown into one pastoral charge will meet with the congregation of Cardigan there on Tuesday August 10th, at 2 p. m., at the Georgetown congregation in their church on the evening of the same day at 7.30. A full attendance of each congregation is requested. The members of the committee are: W. A. Spencer, Convener; D. R. McLeod, J. W. McKenzie, G. E. Ross, T. F. Fullerton, M. N. McLeod and T. C. James.

The marriage of Miss Christie Gillis, daughter of John and Mrs. Gillis of Flat River, to John A. Clark of Quincey Mass., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. S. D. McPhee on the afternoon of the 28th July, in presence of a number of invited guests. Miss Mary Gillis, sister of the bride was bridesmaid while John Ernest McLeod and Vernon River supported the groom. The afternoon was pleasantly spent with music both vocal and instrumental, the instrumental being supplied by the veteran violin player C. C. Morrison. The large number of valuable and useful presents testified to the popularity of the contracting parties. At 6 o'clock the happy couples left for Charlottetown, amid showers of rice and good wishes.

The August number of The Searchlight, the bright and readable temperance monthly edited by Rev. R. G. Sinclair of Tyne Valley is at hand. One of the editorials deals with "Clubs," and on this subject the writer says: "It is about time that the temperance agitation for legislation to deal with clubs that dispense liquor to their members. This evil is on the increase and bids fair before many years to destroy our Prohibition Act. We have aristocratic clubs in our city and towns with well furnished rooms—games—reading matter and whiskey galore. Plebeian clubs in our villages and country places with perhaps no liquor bar room or some blind alley where they distribute their liquors and exchange drinks. The Aristocratic Club is at the root of the evil. Gentlemen in Charlottetown set the example and country youths soon catch on. And what difference is there between going into a tavern and buying liquor and having it supplied to you because you are a member of a club? Will there not be as much liquor drunk in the latter case as in the former? Are not many clubs more injurious than the taverns which we shut up by refusing to grant licenses? What was the use of closing out taverns if we permit club rooms to take their places? ... In the mean time we would respectfully ask the members of parliament—the members of the Executive Council—the original Stipendiary Magistrates—the original prosecutors and administrators of our temperance law how can you vigorously enforce this law against offenders if you violate its spirit by being members of a drinking club? Unless all those who are administering the law, are in sympathy with it, it will to a large extent be a dead letter. Under the law there should not be fish for one and food for another; fines and imprisonments for the ignoble; positions of honor and gilded saloons for the titled and wealthy."

The County Court opened in Souris yesterday Judge Blanchard presiding; there was only a small number of contested cases and they were all disposed of by four o'clock in the afternoon.

The following are the Summerside market prices: Butter per lb, 16 cents, potatoes per bus, 35 cents, eggs per doz, 19 cents, hay per ton $8.50, straw $4.50, wool per bus, 60 cents and wool per lb 20 cents.

The prohibition case against Alfed Paquet, Souris, tried before Stipendiary Reddin Monday afternoon was adjourned till the 9th inst. on account of some of the witnesses failing to appear. Malcolm Campbell appeared for the prosecution and Calvin MacCallum for the defendant.

The many friends in this city and province will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. B. B. Bouler, which took place in this city yesterday afternoon. Deceased was taken suddenly ill on Monday, but medical skill and kind nursing were in vain. She was a daughter of the late Jas. Bouler of Tryon, and had resided in the city at the time of her demise. Her husband, Mr. (Dr.) Dodd, they are left to mourn a mother, who was one of our best friends for another; her one sister Mrs. Bowler Leard, Tryon and five brothers Webster, Wilfrid and George of Tryon, Mack of Crapaud and Charles in the U. S., besides many relatives and friends. Miss Bouler was beloved by all her acquaintances for her many admirable qualities and true Christian character, being a faithful member of the Baptist church. She remains leave of mourning for Tryon where they will be laid to rest. The Guardian extends sympathy to the sorrowing family.

Grow Thinner Every Day
Appetite was Poor, Dizzy, Faint, Weak, Continuous, Cruel Backache.
Another Case in which

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Saved a Life that Physicians Despaired of.

What a pitiful sight it is to see a handsome, able man being gradually robbed of good looks, health and ability to work. Such cases are frequent—the one here described being that of G. P. Lascelles, a well known printer's supply man, residing in Hamilton. "About six months ago I began to notice a worn, tired feeling coming over me. I was unable to shake it off, it was not the fatigue that follows hard work—it was sort of an unaccountable lassitude that assailed me. I was anxious to work but didn't have the energy. Something was dragging me down, robbing me of my health and spirits. I got tired of taking prescriptions that did me no good and used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Their action soon proved to me that I was suffering from a terribly congested liver and bile indigestion. Dr. Hamilton's Pills brought back my appetite, cured the heavy pain in my side and back, gave me a new grip on life. I gained in weight and now I am stronger, look better, work better than ever before I was taken sick."

If you want to get back the vigor and spirit of youth, if you want the sparkle of robust health on your cheeks—use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They cleanse, purify, tone, strengthen—make the sick well, give the grand medicine a faithful trial, 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarthone Co., Company, Kingston, Ont.

Yesterday A. Boiser offered at public auction the dwelling house of the late David Small, situated on Pownall St. near Water. The highest amount bid was $1600 but the property was held for a higher sum.

Many people in Charlottetown yesterday noticed bright fire burning along the East River in the direction of Hazelbrook. Probably it was caused by dry brush or other refuse which the recent warm weather must have made very dry.

A man with a bear has struck the town; the bear in color is cinnamon brown. Inspired by his masters word of command, the bear climbs poles to beat the band. He got his back up once last night, and cut up nastily, showing light; but this made it interesting for the crowd who cheered the bear both long and loud. They'll make a stay of a day or two; beg all they can and then—skiddoo.

The picnic at St. Andrews yesterday was a most enjoyable and successful one and largely attended, as is usually the case when the ladies of St. Joseph's Sodality undertake the management of anything. Many visitors went by the trains from Charlottetown and the stations between and many others were present from the country round about. The arrangements were splendid and all had a pleasant holiday.

By telephone from Kensington, The Guardian has learned that a drowning accident occurred at Hamilton yesterday.

The victim in this case was a young man named McKenzie, aged 24 years, who with his twin brother was bathing. They were both strong swimmers but the man who was drowned was it is thought seized with cramp. The body was afterwards recovered in 12 feet of water. No further particulars could be learned last night.

Jas. Reid, the head of the Reid Wrecking Co., of Sarnia, Ont., arrived here last night to consult with his son who last week salvaged the Turret Bell as already reported in The Guardian. The Turret Bell has been at the Marine Wharf since Monday where repairs have been made to her preparatory to taking her to Montreal. The Turret Bell is the only vessel that has ever been salvaged stranding on the North Shore of this Province, and the successful achievement of Capt. Reid, who got her out of last week is a matter of general comment. The steamer is a valuable one and her rescue is a profitable thing for the salvors and the insurers.

W. H. McKie of the Bank of Nova Scotia, who has been manager for some years of the Summerside Branch, has been promoted to the charge of the agency at New Glasgow, N. S., one of the Bank's largest branches in Eastern Canada. The change will it must be satisfactory to Mr. McKie and a matter of rejoicing for his numerous friends in Charlottetown and throughout the Province in general is regretted by many in Summerside who are loath to lose so good a citizen and such a companion as Mr. McKie has proved himself to be since he has resided in the western capital. But their congratulations are hearty and their good wishes as well as those of all his numerous acquaintances go with him to his new field, where his splendid business qualities and his geniality, will, without fail, win him the esteem and warm regard of a new circle of friends. Manager McKie is a son of W. S. McKie, a well-known citizen of Charlottetown.

FRIDAY.

These are days of big scores at Kensington Range. Yesterday when practice was going on Capt. D. A. McKinnon made a phenomenal score at the 800 yards range, making eleven bulls-eye one after the other. This is hitting the target with a vengeance and the Capt. deserves congratulations on such a notable feat.

A correspondent from Milltown Cross writes: Miss Ethel McKay has returned to Charlottetown after a three weeks' visit at the home of Mrs. G. Moore, Milltown Cross. Miss Moore and Seymour Compton of Milltown Cross spent a few days in Charlottetown last week—Miss Moore, Milltown Cross, returned to Charlottetown having spent a few days in Mt. Herbert. Miss Lena and Lester Hayden of Dundas were visiting in Milltown Cross last week—Miss Jane Bruce, who was visiting at Milltown Cross for two weeks as guest of her brother L. Bruce has returned to the City.

At the City Police Court yesterday morning the case of John P. Herman of Pownall for second offence was dismissed. A. W. Reddin's case for third offence was further adjourned to Aug. 11th. Argument was heard in the matter of an application by Mary Emma Millard to restore liquor seized in a warehouse on Water Street. J. J. Johnston for plaintiff and N. Campbell assisted the prosecutor. The Magistrate adjourned the case till Monday Aug. 9. A summons has been served on Daniel O'Brien for an offence against the prohibition Act, returnable Thursday 12th.

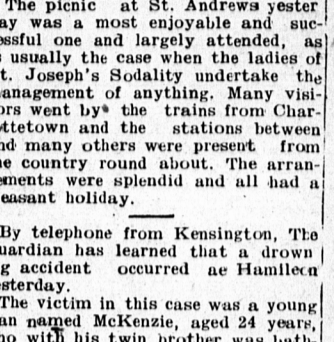

At 11.30 a.m. yesterday, a fire alarm was rung out in Summerside. A small blaze was discovered by some boys, near the rear of a stable occupied by Thomas Arsenault and owned by H. C. Mills, located about two hundred feet west of the Queen's wharf along the railway only a few feet from the track on the north side. The fire started at the edge of a pile of dry manure, quite near the building, the firemen were quickly on the spot, but the fire was extinguished by a few pails of water before they reached. Again at 12.15 p.m., a second alarm was sounded to put out a fire very similar to the first and only a few feet further west. The fire started on the lower side of the track, near a stable occupied by Joseph Gillis, and owned by the LeFurgey estate. The firemen lost no time in getting to work but as in the case of the first alarm services were not required. The origin of the fire in either case is unknown.

Rev. G. R. White of this city leaves via the S. S. Halifax today for a few weeks vacation to Hawkesbury and the Bras D'Or Lakes. Mrs. White and daughter accompany him. Mr. White's numerous friends will be pleased to learn that he is improving in health as rapidly as can be expected.

The marriage took place on Wednesday evening last, at the home of the bride's parents, of Miss Mary Carr daughter of G. W. Carr, North St. Eleanor's, to Frank Montgomery, lower Beedeque. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Mason, assisted by Rev. Dr. Carr, Campbellton. B. B. Uncle of the bride in the presence of about fifty invited guests. The presents were many and valuable. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to their future home at lower Beedeque.

The finest ferry boat which ever floated on the waters of Halifax harbor in the way a Halifax paper describes a ferry boat sailing in there on her way from Wilmington, Delaware, to Ogdensburg, N. Y. Only half of the long trip around has been completed, but it is expected that the little steamer will arrive at her destination about August 15th. The little boat, the "Miss Vandenberg," left Wilmington, Del., June 21. She made Halifax Saturday afternoon. The tonnage of the steamer is only 137 tons gross—but she is uniquely on course going, so the steamer had to make port every night. Altogether she must have called at a score of American ports, ranging in importance from New York, where eight days were spent, to Mount Desert, where she cut across the Bay of Fundy to Yarmouth. The only ports of call in Nova Scotia have been Yarmouth, Liverpool and Halifax. Country Harbors and mill race, the last stop in any sense was the last Nova Scotia port touched. Charlottetown will be the only P. E. I. port of call. Day by day the little craft will thread her way along the coast, making one of the most unique trips on record. The greatest ports of the United States and Canada and the most insignificant anchorages are included in her itinerary. Captain B. J. Riley is in command and with him are five other men. The owners are represented by Captain J. L. Brian, who will command the steamer when she is placed on her route.

STOCK NOTES.

Jas A. E. Macdonald, Little Pond, has purchased from Frank Halliday, B'don, a pure bred Ayshire Bull of a very good milking strain.

David Reid, Victoria Cross, was in the city yesterday returning from Howick, Quebec, where he purchased from Messrs. Robert Ness & Sons, percheron stallion, just imported from France. Mr. Reid gave the order for this excellent animal last fall and Mr. Ness, on a visit to France this summer, personally selected and purchased this horse for him. The horse weighs 1600 lbs., grey in color, perfect in action and build, and was greatly admired yesterday by all who had the pleasure of seeing him. Mr. Ness is one of the oldest stock importers in Canada, which is a guarantee for the quality of this three year old Percheron stallion. CANADIAN SPENT A MILLION.

Last year in Canada there were one million dollars spent by people seeking throat weakness and bronchitis. Among the numerous remedies only one guaranteed to permanently cure is Catarthone. Its vapor is breathed down throat, spreads to the lungs. Phlegm is loosened, desire to cough alleviated, sore membranes heal rapidly and in every case a permanent cure results.
