

Nickerson-Paton Wedding

Saint Peter's Cathedral, Charlottetown, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding at 10 a.m. Friday when Katherine Brown-Paton, only daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. James Rowland Paton, was united in marriage to Dr. Victor Morse Nickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lovitt Nickerson of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of "candlelight" tulle with a high collar, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves coming to points over the hands with stiff caplets at the shoulders, a fitted bodice, gathered softly in front and a tiny double bustle in the back over released unpleated fullness of the skirt sweeping down to a short train. Her headpiece was of seed pearls in duchess style with a long imported Swiss net veil heavily embroidered. She carried a bouquet of deep red roses and her only ornament was a small gold cross.

Miss Joanna Cann of Yarmouth, who was maid of honour, wore an aqua tulle gown of bouffant style with dropped shoulders. Her headpiece was of soft rose and aqua feathers with a long veil.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Charlottetown Hotel. The bride's table, decorated with candles, snapdragons and ferns, was centered by a three-tier wedding cake and a bride's cake. The toast to the bride was given by Rev. Canon E. M. Malone and responded to by the groom. A toast by the bride's attendants was proposed by the best man of the church.

After the reception Dr. and Mrs. Nickerson left en route to the United States and will take up residence in Yarmouth, N.S. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lovitt Nickerson, Yarmouth, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. James Logan, St. John's; Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Halifax; Miss Eileen McPhie, Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cann, Yarmouth and Miss Joanna Cann, Montreal.

Mr. Hugh Paton, brother of the bride, was best man and Mr. George Foster, Mr. Thomas Rodgers, Mr. George Rodgers and Mr. James Logan were ushers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon E. M. Malone and at the organ was Miss Suzanne Brenton. The choir sang "Oh Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The church of the church was decorated in yellow and white mums and the guest pews were marked in large white satin bows entwined with fern.

Police Report Hallowe'en Quiet In City

The opinion, so commonly expressed by those who have lost their appreciation and understanding of youth, that the young generation is not as law-abiding as were their elders when they were in the adolescent stage was not borne out in Charlottetown last night, according to the City police whose responsibility it was to see that Hallowe'en was observed by the youngsters in a reasonable manner.

There was, police said, a lot of more or less non-malicious pranks played by the juveniles but comparatively little damage to property was reported.

Three or four windows, they said, were broken by those who will persist in throwing the occasional stone and, here and there, a gate or some other movable small piece of property left unsecured by the forgetful owner was transferred to await future discovery.

On the whole, however, police said, last night's behaviour on the part of the youngsters could be commended favourably with any Hallowe'en record of former years.

Red Cross Highway First Aid Posts

At twenty centres in Prince Edward Island the Red Cross maintains Highway First Aid Posts. At each of these posts well filled First Aid Kits are available for the use of anyone who has been involved in any kind of an accident in the home, on the farm or on the highways.

Three signs indicate the situation of each Post. One sign is in front of the store or house in which the kit is placed and two other signs are placed on either side along the Highways.

Many of the public spirited people who are in charge of these Posts have first aid experience. To facilitate such training the Red Cross is conducting a Standard First Aid Course for persons who will begin on Monday, November 10th and will continue for several days.

Anyone wishing to have a Highway Post established in a community should send a request to Red Cross House, 62 Prince Street, Charlottetown. All recommendations will be given consideration by the First Aid Committee.

The people in charge of these posts are volunteer workers and receive no remuneration for any service rendered. The Red Cross offers free first aid training to all who are interested.

Hallowe'en Party In Enjoyed By Many Children

A very successful Hallowe'en party, sponsored by the Charlottetown Kinsmen Club, was held at the Whelan Memorial Hall last evening, when over 750 children were in attendance to enjoy a splendid evening's entertainment.

The program was opened by Mr. Keith MacKinnon, Club President, who welcomed the children to the party with a few well chosen remarks, after which a film was shown of "The Everywholeness of God" made vivid by his colorful illustrations from everyday life.

The anthem, "Saviour Thy Children Keep" was beautifully rendered by the choir unaccompanied. Patients and staff enjoyed joining in singing the familiar hymns.

At present the district is represented by Mr. Wright and Mr. Heath Strong, a Progressive Conservative.

Discussing the packing plant strike, Mr. Wright told the meeting that in October more than 5,000 hogs had been killed in the field of four.

Armed, running as an entry with Ferrent, just didn't like the slightly heavy track in his attempt to score a second victory in the $25,000 classic at 1 3/16 miles in which the winner picks up the whole purse.

Al Snider of Calgary, aboard the winner, was content to let the other ers go out in front early and Cosmic Bomb led until they turned into the home lane.

Just inside the 16th pole, Ferrent caught up and drove to the wire in the good time of 1:58 2/5, considering the track. Cosmic Bomb was three lengths before Armed, with Loyal Legion another six lengths away.

BRIDGEWATER, N. S., Oct. 31.—(C7)—Alfred Farquhar, 52, died in hospital today after being shot yesterday in a hunting accident. Another hunter mistook Farquhar's dog for a deer, fired at the dog, missed and hit Farquhar. R. C. M. P. said an inquest would be held.
