

Woman's Realm -:- Social and Personal -:- Fashions -:- Literature

What the Fashionable are Wearing Illustrated Dressmaking Lesson Furnished With Every Pattern By Annebelle Worthington

and color, and includes at the same time a great deal of charm. Scarlet wool marocain or crepella made the original. The collar and cuffs were of very pale beige—almost cream crepe de chine (any washing silk would be suitable) while the bow was beige spotted scarlet. Similar schemes in navy and white, green and white or beige, blue and red, etc., would be smart. Other modish and suitable materials include silk marocain, heavy crepe de chine, fine woolen reps, charmelaine, jerseys, etc. This pattern may be obtained for 15 cents in sizes 8 to 14. It is ready for immediate delivery. It is hand cut. Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address Pattern Department, Spend 10c to save $10 How? By ordering a copy of our new Fall and Winter Fashions. It gives the answer to the often asked question, "How does she do it?" For it shows how to dress up to the minute at little expense. You can save on every dress and save on the children's clothes too. That means more and better frocks for you and yours. Order your copy now. Just enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin and mail with your name and address to Fashion Department.

All Tinge models are created and sketched in Paris and the patterns are made in New York. What bright young thing of school-girl age does not revel in brilliant color? "Nary a one!" Here is something to cheer the heart of many a bonny lass. It is a model youthful and dashing in cut

Form for ordering the dress pattern, including fields for Name, Street Address, City, and State.

Vanity Life's Stimulus Dorothy Dix Man Given Most

It is Hard to Say Whether Men or Women are Vainer, But This at Least Can be Said for Women: They Don't Develop Swelled Heads Simply Because They Were Born of the Feminine Persuasion

Which are the vainer, men or women? Each shouts at the other: "You are," which is about as convincing an argument as it is for the pot to reproach the kettle with its blackness. Both sexes are filled with self-admiration, which is a merciful dispensation of Providence. For if the best of us could see ourselves as others see us, and as we really are, we would die of chagrin.

Vanity is God's consolation gift to imperfect humanity, and the more we need it the more lavishly it is bestowed upon us. No sage esteems himself so wise as does the fool. No wit laughs at his own jokes so loudly as does the dullard. The President of the United States is not so unflattered by his office as the justice of the peace. Many a homely, lumpy little woman wonders what would have happened to Dolores Costello and Billy Dove if she had gone into the movies and generally speaking, the less people know, the more absolutely sure they are of their judgment.

This is well. It enables us to live in contentment and happiness, for if we are perfectly satisfied with ourselves we are just as well off as if we were what we think we are. If we give ourselves the glad hand we fall to notice that a captious and critical world fails to join in the round of applause.

So far from deprecating vanity I consider it a highly desirable adjunct of life, and this is the case whether you consider it as an alibi, an emollient or just as a dispenser of joy. Furthermore, I am always thankful to know that men have not been able to monopolize this blessing as they have so many other privileges and prerogatives, but that women share equally in it.

So, taking it by and large, it would be hard to say whether men or women are the vainer, but it is interesting to observe the different ways in which vanity manifests itself in the two sexes.

Men have a curious sex vanity which women have not. No woman has the swelled head over the mere fact of belonging to the female contingent, but the thing that a man is prouder of than he is of anything he ever achieves by his brains or brawn is having been born of the masculine persuasion.

Every man thinks that just being a man makes him a superior being, no matter how dull and weak and sickly he may be. The most ignorant down-at-the-heels hobo who begs for food at a kitchen door looks down with contempt upon the most brilliant and highly cultivated and famous woman, and he wouldn't change places with her if he could. I have known many a man who couldn't make a living and whose wife supported him, give her advice about what she should do with the money she earned, and expect her to look up to him as an oracle just because he wore breeches instead of skirts.

Men are vainer about their powers of personal attraction than women are. Practically every man secretly believes himself a sheik, and that he could get any woman to whom he throws the handkerchief. Moreover, men believe that they never lose the power of fascination, and that age cannot wither nor custom stale their charms. Every day we see this illustrated by rich old men who marry girls young enough to be their grand-daughters and who have never a suspicion that they are being married for their money and that flappers do not prefer them to boys of their own age.

Women have no such vanity as this. They don't befool themselves into thinking that they are sirens who can put a spell on every man and make him pop the question. On the contrary, they know good and well that it is an even break nowadays whether a girl gets a husband or a splinter's ticket. Very few old millionairesses marry boy husbands, but when they do they are not besotted enough in conceit to think that they are being married for love alone. They know it is their pocketbooks.

Men are also vainer about their ability to hold love than women are. Every man believes that once he wins a woman's heart he can't lose it, and that having once loved him she is bound to go on loving him to the end of the chapter. He may degenerate into a disgusting drunkard. He may flaunt his infidelities in her face. He may get fat and bald and bay-windowed and go around slouchy and dirty. He may be cross and surly and gloomy and grouchy, and about as pleasant in the house as a sore-headed bear. No matter, he is perfectly certain that his wife still adores him, and looks upon him as an answer to a maiden's prayer.

You never hear of men when they meet together discussing how to keep their wives in love with them, yet how to retain a husband's affection is a burning topic of conversation where two or three women meet for a heart-to-heart talk. You never see a man doing without the things he likes to eat and counting his calories in order to keep the boyish figure in his wife fell in love with, yet half the married women in the country are starving themselves into anemia trying to look flapperish for their husbands.

You never see men reading up on the topics that women are interested in so that they can keep their wives interested and willing to stay at home at nights, yet millions of wives wade through the stock market and the sports page that bore them stiff so that they can hand out an entertaining line to husband.

And, finally, men's vanity makes them believe that every woman is dying to hear them talk about themselves, and that she listens, with bated breath, to all the details about how they sold a bill of goods, or their make of car, or their golf score, but no woman on earth is vain enough to think that any man will stand for her talking about herself.

Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher, all is vanity. And a good thing, too, for when we have plenty of vanity we have everything. DOROTHY DIX.

A Morning Smile

Eddie Cantor in his volume of reminiscences relates this of Will Rogers: The comedian said to Mr. Ziegfeld: "When I left Oklahoma I told my wife and children that some day I'd make $400 a week, and if I ever could make that the dream of my life would be fulfilled." He got the $400, but next year he struck the show manager for $600. "What's the idea?" said Ziegfeld. "I thought your wife and children were perfectly satisfied with $400 a week." "They are," replied Will, "but since then I've gotten another child and he's kicking."

"They tell me," said the hostess to the old Englishman, "that you love a glass of wine." "Madam," he replied, "those who told you that did me an injustice—they should have said a bottle."

Patient: "If my wife want to know what's the matter with me, what shall I say?" Doctor: "Oh just tell her you're suffering from syncope."

"Why, what's that?" "An unsteady movement from bar to bar, you know."

night and day with tears". He also administered the Sacrament of Baptism at this service.

In an interesting resume of his three year's pastorate, Mr. Lowrey stated that he had delivered 292 Sabbath sermons, 289 prayer meeting addresses; had made 420 pastoral visits and administered 35 baptisms. That Lord's Day was the anniversary of the first Communion service held after his induction, the 35th. of that held by the Rev. John Goodwill on the occasion of his instituting the congregation in November, 1895. In the evening Mr. Lowrey preached to a large congregation on Galatians V:1, "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free," and stressed the preciousness and importance of the spiritual inheritance into which they were brought by the gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. As a church and people, they had much reason to thank God and take courage viewing all the blessings of the past and the present, and to enter on the future with renewed consecration and zeal. "Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory."

For The Cook

SWEET POTATO PUFF

2 cups mashed sweet potatoes. 2 tablespoons butter. 1/4 cup milk or cream. 1 egg. Salt and pepper. Add butter, seasonings and milk to potatoes. Beat the egg yolk and egg white separately. Add yolk to potato mixture. Fold in beaten egg white. Bake in a hot oven 500 degs. F. for 12 minutes. In both of the above recipes we have used mashed sweet potatoes and if you are serving them in the plain mashed form, be sure that you mash the potatoes thoroughly and beat them well, adding a generous amount of butter and cream or milk if necessary, and of course, season to taste with salt and pepper. Sweet potato balls may be made using the mashed potatoes forming them into balls and rolling them in cornflakes, then baking in a hot oven for about 10 minutes. Sweet potatoes may also be baked just as Irish potatoes in a hot oven until thoroughly cooked. This takes about 45 minutes. Glazed sweet potatoes is another popular way of serving this vegetable and the recipe is a very simple one.

Give daily thanks to God; And seek His grace through prayer Wash in the Lamb's atoning blood That stream which makes us pure

Open God's book and read The inspired words of men Who walked the righteous paths with God For God was known to them. Raise loud thy voice to God! When Satan's hosts are near; And he will still thy troubled heart And drive away all fear

Do noble deeds for God! His praise forever sing; Be thankful for His mercy given And grateful offerings bring.

Give thanks to God at night; Who veils thy eyes in sleep; And when the vale of death is near, He will thee guard and keep. F. H. M. Lorne Valley

THE VOGUE Double DOLLAR DAY Bargains

DRESSES Assortment of Silk Crepe Dresses clearing at $3.75 One lot of Colored and Black Silk Crepe Dresses, ranging in price from $10.00 to $20.00 To clear at $6.98 Another lot about twenty-four in number, assorted colors. To clear at 1-2 Price All other Dresses in stock clearing at Wholesale Prices.

KNIT WEAR Assortment of Knit Suits, two and three piece styles, clearing at 25 per cent discount. Other Knit Suits to clear at Wholesale prices.

COATS All Cloth Coats clearing at 20 per cent discount.

MILLINERY One lot of Velvet and Felt Hats to clear at $1.00 All other Hats to clear at 1-2 Price

LETTER OF SYMPATHY Mrs. B. D. Howatt and Miss Amy:— your sister members of Pleasant Valley Women's Institute wish to convey to you our sympathy. You have recently been called to part with a devoted husband and father, and we realize that a vacancy is in your hearts and home. We commend you to our Heavenly Father who can comfort your hearts more than any written words of ours. God hath not promised Skies always blue Flower strewn pathways All our lives through But God hath promised Strength for the day Rest for the laborer Light on the way

FORTUNE BRIDGE Honor Roll for Fortune Bridge School for October. Grade X—1 Gladys Aitken and Wallace Francis; 2 Elizabeth Francis 3 Winnie Burke, 4 Basil Johnstone, 1 Lester Johnstone. Grade VII—1 Dorothy Johnstone 2 George Dixon, 3 Edward Francis 4 Jean Conohan, 5 Lloyd Jackson, Ethel Francis Teacher

Kaiser Was Angry At Edith Cavell's Execution

Reprimanded Ones Responsible for Act Which Horrified Nation.

(Associated Press) BRUSSELS, Nov. 21—How the Marquis de Villalobar, Spanish Ambassador to Belgium, and Hugh S. Gibson, then First Secretary to the United States Legation tried to prevent the execution of nurse Edith Cavell by the Germans, is told in extracts from the diary of Marquis de Villalobar. The Marquis relates that at Gibson's request the two of them went to Baron von Der Lancken, then director of political affairs in the occupied Belgian territory, and tried to get Miss Cavell reprieved on the eve of her execution. The Marquis told Baron Lancken, "Miss Cavell may have sent hundreds of men to the front by means of her ambulance, but if you kill her she will send millions against you from her tomb."

The former Kaiser is pictured by the Marquis as having become very angry when he learned of the execution. He is said to have reprimanded those who permitted the execution to occur and to have ordered that in the future no women were to be executed.

Miss Cavell, head of a British nurses training school in Brussels, was executed by the Germans, Oct. 13, 1915, on the charge of assisting British, French and Belgian prisoners in the occupied territory to escape.

First Friend: "I am troubled with sleeplessness. The doctor calls it 'neurotic insomnia paralytica.'" Second Friend: "I've got it too, but we call it a baby."

In 5 Weeks One Thin Woman Gained 15 Pounds

Dear Madam: If you need more good solid flesh to fill out unsightly hollows in neck, cheeks and chest, why not start today to get it? Further delay may be dangerous so why not go to—A—or any live druggist and get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—they are sugar coated, small and rich in the weight building substance extracted from codfish livers.

And while you are putting on weight with McCoy's you'll also gain in energy and physical attractiveness—eyes will brighten—skin blemishes vanish. Sixty tablets for 60 cents—take them for 28 days faithfully—then if you are not satisfied with gain in weight and improved health get your money back—just ask for McCoy's.

Etiquette

Who should be served first at dinner? A. The hostess, so that if anything is wrong with the dish she may detect it before the guests are served. Q. Should a girl get a man's coat and hat for him when he is ready to leave, after calling at her house? A. No; if one has no servant, the girl should let him wait on himself. Q. Is it permissible to state to the guest at a week-end party the hour at which he is expected to leave? A. Yes.

O'LEARY HIGH SCHOOL

The following report is based on the results of the examinations for the month of August, September and October:—

Principal's Department Grade X—1, Regina MacNeill; 2, Weldon Matthews; 3, Bertie Johnson. Grade IX—1, Blair Baker; 2, Edwin Turner; 3, Lloyd Matthews. Grade VIII—1, Annie Carruthers; 2, Fern MacDonald; 3, Ena Williams; 4, Eunice Williams. Grade VII—1, Douglas Black; 2, Ruth Noonan; 3, Laura Easter; 4, Charlotte Dennis.

Vice Principal's Department Grade VI—1, Iva Silliker; 2, Ruth Baker; 3, Reta MacAulay; 4, Wendell Turner. Grade V—1, Dolly Matthew; 2, Lloyd Lidstone; 3, Reta Jelly; 4, Roy Lidstone. Grade IV—1, Harry MacWilliams and Judson Black (equal); 2, Alva Lidstone; 3, Daisy MacNeill; 4, Arnold O'Brien.

Assistant's Department Grade III—1, Noreen MacDonald; 2, Dorothy O'Brien; 3, Silver MacDougall; 4, Arnold MacDonald. Grade II (a)—1, Glenn Gornill; 2, Eleanor MacLeod; 3, Lila MacNeill; 4, Lorne Jelly. Grade II (b)—1, Jean Stetson; 2, Roland Turner; 3, Myrna Matthews; 4, Tommy Brooks. Grade I (a)—1, Leith Ellis; 2, Mae MacDonald; 3, Esda Dalton. Grade I (b)—1, Donald Baker; 2, Pearl Lidstone; 3, Percy O'Brien. Grade I (c)—1, Irving Lidstone; 2, Elmer Matthews; 3, Wallace Donr; 4, Thelma MacAulay; 5, Allan Matthews; 6, Florence Jelly; 7, Lily Dalton. Grade I (d)—1, Betty Block; 2, Dolly Ellis. Principal—H. Gray Henderson Vice-Principal—Mary A. Shotton Assistant—Mae E. Horne. The following are still eligible for the A. J. MacDonnell prize for perfect attendance. Iva Silliker, Ruth Baker, Reta Jelly, Harry MacWilliams.

Her Stomach Could Not Digest Meat

"I had gas bloating and indigestion so bad I could not digest meat. I took Adierka and now I am alright. Can even eat pork."—Nora Jones. Unlike most remedies, Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old poisons you never thought were there and which caused gas bloating and indigestion. The quick, easy action is surprising. Hughes Drug Co., Ltd. Send name and address with 2c stamp for free sample. Adierka, Dept. E, St. Paul, Minn. FREE

DOROTHY DIX tells The Real Truth about Feminine Charm

CHARLOTTETOWN Girl's Letter

"MISS DIX, what is the secret of charm? Girls no prettier than I am are happily married with dear little homes of their own. Won't the right man ever fall in love with me?" EVELYN S.—

Here is the real truth, Evelyn. It is femininity in a girl that arouses a man's desire to take care of her, marry her. And this adorable quality of true womanly charm can be yours as it can be every girl's!

But first of all, you must feel your own dainty, captivating femininity before you can impress others. Confidence of Charm Clothes can help to give a girl this happy self-confidence of charm. Especially all the dainty, most feminine part of a girl's wardrobe, her lingerie, negligees, hosiery.

Lovely, soft colourful underthings—lacy and shimmering—sheer, delicate hosiery—they make you feel so utterly feminine. Irresistible! You have faith in your inherent charm as a woman and because you have confidence in yourself, you impress others—for confidence is contagious.

But girls sometimes say, "It is so difficult to keep lovely underthings looking wonderful, colourful as new—frequent washings take away colour and charm." It is true that just ordinary "good" soaps do take out some of the colour along with the dirt. But this will never be the case if you wash them always in Lux. Lux is made especially to keep colours vibrantly alive, to preserve the soft, dainty texture of sheer fabrics. MOREOVER—NOT ONLY CAN DAINTY, colourful lingerie bring you confidence of feminine charm, but your surroundings can help you! Pretty curtains, slip covers, cushions, colourful table linens, all form part of the magic spell, when they are kept ever lovely with Lux. DOROTHY DIX

After 12 Lux washings—every thread in place, silk and lace fibres intact, colour intact. The garment retains all the charm of new. After 12 washings with an ordinary "good" soap—silk fibres a little out of place—lace damaged. Lustre impaired—colour off. If it's safe in water, it's safe in LUX! Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto—Soap makers by appointment to their Excellencies the Governor-General and Vice-regent Wellington