 money might be collected by him. He felt that if the library suggested was one of ordinary literature, the existing library in the City would be sufficient.

Dr. Coffin believed the first necessity was for the formation of an Alumni Association and it would be ahead with the work.

Mr. C. H. B. Longworth agreed with the former speakers and commended the formation of an Alumni Association.

Mr. K. M. Martin moved that the Alumni Association be formed and a committee appointed to select provisional officers for the organization period.

On motion of Mr. C. H. B. Longworth, Mr. Reuben MacDonald was appointed secretary for the meeting.

Some discussion took place because of the carrying of Mr. Martin's motion.

Rev. E. H. Ramsay suggested that both Alumni and Alumnae associations be formed and suggested as Honorary Presidents, Dr. George Robertson and Lucy Macdonald.

Professor J. F. MacMillan pointed out that although an Alumni Association would apply only to graduates, other students might be admitted as associate members.

Mr. Martin's motion was then adopted and the above committee appointed.

however, the Association has been instrumental in obtaining the service of the Provincial Police, who have been appointed fish wardens of the Province. The Association was also instrumental in obtaining enforcement of the bag limit; also reduction of the length limit of the catch.

The only way to prevent illegal fishing, Mr. Gaudet believed, was through an educational campaign in the press.

The activities of fish and game organizations in other provinces and countries, notably in the United States, were referred to. In the enforcement of the game laws the United States shows more activity than we do, the speaker pointed out. He thought names should be published in newspaper reports of convictions secured under the Act.

The Chairman referred to a pamphlet published by the Association in 1912. There was no reason why the Association could not be strong enough to issue educational pamphlets to meet the present circumstances.

Protective Measures

Mr. S. T. Gallant, Superintendent of Fisheries, placed before the meeting what the Fisheries Department is endeavoring to do for fisheries protection. The following streams are now protected by trout and salmon guardians from April 1st to December:

Big and Little Pierre Paquet; Guard stream; Kane stream; Beaton stream; Fortune stream, and (for February and March) New Glasgow.

Smelt guardians in the spring of the year are employed at Dunk River, Tyne Valley and Lot 16 rivers.

There is also a guardian in the fall of the year, three at East River, and Gardigan stream.

Guardianship of salmon and trout in close season, October and December is also provided for Middle Stream, Morell River and Dunk River. There are also five yearly inspectors.

bers of the Association, together with a table of the open seasons for fish and game, and a synopsis of the game laws, and about five thousand copies distributed.

In 1912 the Association had about fifty honorary members, these were mostly clergymen and a few prominent citizens. There were nineteen life members, and the list of members ran well over the hundred mark.

Today I only know of four life members living, and the list of honorary members has dwindled down to about ten.

Among the promoters that have passed away are Lt. Governor D. A. McKinnon, Hon. John Richards, Judge H. C. McDonald, F. W. Hyndman, Dr. J. T. Jenkins, Dr. E. McNeill, Mayor Lyons, Stipendiary J. A. McDonald, Dr. E. S. Blanchard, Hon. A. B. Warburton, Mayor W. A. Weeks, A. W. Holroyd, Chas. Dabiel, L. E. Prowse, Senator B. C. Frowse, Dr. Strickland, R. C. Goff, Fen G. J. F. J. Nash, F. H. Beer, Horace Haszard, C. P. Fletcher, C. R. Smallwood, W. S. Sutherland, D. O. M. Reddin, J. B. Heggan, W. W. Stanley, Geo. A. Gane, George Tweedy, A. McNair, Geo. G. Rogers, Dr. Alex. Geo. E. Auld, A. A. Alley, A. A. Ballett, H. J. Cundall, A. J. Biffin, H. V. Buntlan, B. C. Cox, J. R. Davies, W. G. Gillespie, E. T. Carbonell. At present only four of the officers elected at the organization meeting are living today, Hon. John McLean, John P. Morris, Gil Gaudet, and A. E. Morrison.

Purpose of Meeting
 The purpose of the meeting, the Chairman explained, was not for fault finding, but to see what can be done with regard to protecting fish and game. This work has been done by practically half a dozen men. It is impossible to accomplish much unless the public gets behind the movement. He did not see from the meeting tonight, why we could not have a first class Association. A lot has been done during the past few years, credit being due to the old members for these activities. What is desirable now is to organize into a strong association.

Protection of fish, permits, close seasons, leases, netting, hatcheries and other matters were suggested by the chairman as profitable subjects for discussion.

Called upon, Mr. Gilbert Gaudet, K.C., President of the Fish and Game Association, reviewed the aims of the organization. One of the first objects was to protect migratory birds. This work has been taken over by the Dominion Government with considerable success, but the same cannot be said for the protection of fishing. Until recently, there have been five officers, but these men have to devote their time to commercial fisheries and they have no time to give to the protection of trout streams. Lately

Sunday Fishing

It was unnecessary to pass any regulations regarding Sunday fishing, Judge Arsenault added, as there is already a local statute, the Sabbath Day Observance Act, under which penalties can be imposed.

The size limit of the trout, should be raised to eight inches. Moreover, he believed there was too much bait fishing.

Mr. A. E. Morrison, Provincial Game Inspector, suggested that it was not reorganization but increased membership that was required. The Association is already organized and simply needs more general support.

Why are four or five obscure places in Prince County being protected while we have large streams in Queens County with no protection? he asked.

The speaker was opposed to April fishing, September, on the other hand, is one of the most beautiful holiday months and many would complain if they were deprived of the privilege of September fishing.

His views on this point was opposed by Mr. Earl Riggs.

Mr. K. J. Martin moved that the Secretary take down the list of new members.

Mr. Vessey suggested that it was first necessary to get a frank statement from the Association as to its views with regard to the fishing season.

Mr. Fred Chandler wished to know whether salt water streams can be leased.

Inspector Gallant said the land could be leased, but not the water. Mr. Gilbert Gaudet explained the reason for the close season in April which was advocated as a necessary protection. Objection to Sunday fishing was that our streams are chiefly open to public view and church going people are scandalized at seeing people fishing on Sunday.

Mr. E. Nicholson asked what about golf, baseball, and bathing on the beaches on Sunday? Workingmen cannot jump into a car on week-end days and go fishing, he continued. He thought this should be a matter of private opinion, not of legislation.

After further discussion the secretary was instructed to take a list of new members, and an enrollment of sixty-two was obtained. It is hoped to obtain a membership of about 150 for the annual meeting of the Association which takes place in the first week of March.

LADY PILOT'S SAFE RETURN TO MONTREAL

Encountering Storm In Attempted Flight To Ch'Town, Mrs. J. S. Jenkins Turns Back Without Mishap.

Word was received yesterday afternoon that Mrs. J. S. Jenkins, who left Montreal at 12.45 A. S. T., on a non-stop flight to Charlottetown, had turned back, owing to stormy weather conditions, and had reached Montreal safely. Piloting the latest model Puss Moth plane, and with a navigator as passenger, Mrs. Jenkins took off from St. Hubert Flying Field expecting to arrive in Charlottetown between 5 and 6 p. m. The plane made 135 miles an hour for the first two hours. When over the State of Maine bad weather was encountered, and it was decided wisely, to abandon the attempt for the time being. The return flight to Montreal, as already stated, was made without mishap.

This is the first attempted non-stop flight from Montreal to Charlottetown, and Mrs. Jenkins is the first Island lady to fly and own her private aeroplane. She took delivery of the plane from the De Havilland Company of Toronto last Monday at noon and later in the day flew her young son, Jackie, to school in Welland.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Jenkins flew to Montreal, preparatory to taking off for the Island. By special permission of the authorities in Ottawa, she had the registration letters of the plane changed from A. G. V. to the factory lettering, to P. E. I. Mrs. Jenkins appreciated this courtesy and flew from Toronto to Ottawa to personally thank the aeronautic authorities there.

She arrived in Montreal Wednesday, but weather conditions forbade making the attempt to reach the Island. The plane is a cabin Puss Moth, of the same type as that flown by the Prince of Wales and identical with the one in which Hinkley flew the Southern Atlantic last year.

The initiative of Mrs. Jenkins in buying her own plane and flying it herself will give Prince Edward Island valuable publicity. Sometime in March she proposes to make a tour of the United States, stopping at various large cities all over the country.

The mail plane also was obliged to turn back at Tormentine yesterday, owing to weather conditions. This fact was wired to Mrs. Jenkins but she evidently did not receive the message before she took off.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police Constable and wounding another. Trappers wives who came here many miles from their lonely cabins in scattered sections of the Arctic circle country, prepared to return.

The women swarmed into Aklaik when they learned more than a month ago that the hermit trapper had broken loose from his strange shack in the Rat River area after wounding constable A. W. King and withstanding a 15-hour shell and dynamite assault by police fearful Johnson might come upon their cabins when their husbands were out on the trap lines, the women-folk remained here for the duration of the search.

Capt. W. R. (Wop) May, Northland pilot who aided in the man-hunt, flew over the Yukon battle-scene yesterday as Johnson went to his death still fighting and then saved Hersey's life by rushing him here, is standing by tonight in case the young signaller's condition takes a turn for the worse and it is necessary to fly him to Edmonton.

Walked 4184 Miles Now In Halifax

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 18.—(By the Canadian Press)—Bringing a story of rigorous hardship, fighting rain and cold, meeting friendly humans and unfriendly timber wolves, a young Frenchman arrived in Halifax today, completing a hike from Five Lakes, Saskatchewan. Tired but ten pounds heavier Louis Bichon recounted his experiences since leaving the west on October 6 for his 4184 mile stroll. He will be in Halifax until February 28 when he plans to sail for his home in France.

A native of Akonson, M. Bichon who is a civil engineer, came to Canada on January 30, 1927, and went to Five Lakes where, he says, he bought a small farm. A succession of droughts brought poverty to the district. Authorities were attempting to give relief to 1,260 families. M. Bichon felt that he could not expect Canada to help other than its own people and started his long trek for home.

Through the west there was the snow and the walking was hard. He reached Port Arthur on November 10 and there left the main highway for the worst stretch—to Sault Ste. Marie. Here he bought 20 loaves of bread, 42 boxes of sardines, a piece of bolagna, tea, cheese, and sugar. He was given an empty lard tin for a bottle.

Then for 420 miles he followed the shore of Lake Superior through wild, uninhabited country, infested with timber wolves. In one place he was chased by the animals which came close enough to tear his overcoat. At nights, he said, he could build a fire and sleep, roused on a log beside it, a few hours at a time. The snow was knee-deep and walking was difficult. He reached Sault Ste. Marie on November 15, he counted 27 timber wolves.

On arrival at Sault Ste. Marie on Nov. 26 he learned that the temperature during his trek along the lake shore had averaged about forty below.

From the "Soo", M. Bichon trekked through Sudbury and North Bay arriving in Ottawa on December 21. Still restless he pushed on and spent Christmas Day in Montreal. New Year's day found him in Manseau, Quebec, where he was entertained, and on January 28 he was received by the Mayor of Causapscal. On February 4 he left Jacket River and started through Northern New Brunswick. A wrong turn on February 8 near Cold Branch took him off on a small road leaving him lost in the dark. He stopped there for the night and the next day found a farmhouse a mile away where he picked up his bearings.

Moncton Acadian French welcomed M. Bichon on February 10 and 11. He speaks warmly of their hospitality. Five days more brought him to Truro and one final day's walk finished the journey.

M. Bichon left Five Lakes with $37. He arrived in Halifax with just $2.80.

which are very similar, but for very different uses. As in many other businesses he remarked how the profit is not as large as the public imagine, having to rely on small margins and quick turnovers.

THE LEAGUE

GENEVA, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Germany called on the Nations at the world disarmament conference today to draft a "Magna Charta of Armaments and Security" and to reduce their implements of war to her own level.

Count Rudolf Nadolny, German Ambassador to Turkey, laid down a set of seven proposals and challenged his hearers with the statement that "Germany is already disarmed and German disarmament must be considered indicative of the direction the disarmament of all other members of the League must follow."

He was followed on the programme by the Haytian delegate, Constantin Maynard, who delivered the longest speech of the conference—7,000 words—to say that his country had been disillusioned because she had found herself at the mercy of a foreign force.

The situation had improved since the "Hoover Goodwill Policy" had been instituted, he said, but Hayti will support the French disarmament plan because "a large part of the blood that flows in our veins is French."

The German spokesman said his proposals were based on the principle that "in the future there can only be one system of disarmament equally applicable to all countries" and that Germany would not be able to accept any other agreement.

"It would have been very simple for Germany to have proposed the application of the provisions of the Versailles Treaty regarding Germany to general disarmament." He continued, "but she prefers a practical contribution which should have more chance of success."

Chinese Bomb Wrecks Jap Commercial House

TOKYO.—(AP)—On the invitation of the National Christian Council, Toshio Shiratori, head of the Japanese Foreign Office's information Bureau, explained to a meeting of Christian leaders today Japan's action at Shanghai.

Foreign missionaries questioned him closely on many phases of the military operations in Manchuria and at Shanghai but did not evidence a hostile attitude. It was learned they had requested a statement of the government's viewpoint because their contemporaries at home had cabled to several Japan defended herself against charges widely published.

The meeting adjourned without passing any resolutions and Christian leaders consistently refrained from any action which might be construed as meddling in politics. It was understood, however, that Christian circles here were disturbed by reports that developments at Shanghai had shocked foreign church leaders.

The National Christian Council embraces foreign missionary organizations and Japanese native churches.

Daughter Of Dr. Schurman In Love Romance

PEIPING, China, Feb. 18.—A tale of romance was brought out of the Mongolian desert by the hardy bronzed explorers of the Haardt-Citron Asiatic expedition—a romance that escaped disaster by a hair's breadth.

Tomorrow the principals in the strange story—Miss Barbara Schurman, daughter of a noted United States diplomat, and Gould Schurman, (a native of Freetown, P. E. I.) and Vladimir Petropavlosky, a Russian member of the expedition—will be married at the United States legation.

Miss Schurman had not seen her fiancée for almost a year until the expedition rolled through the gates of Peiping today after an 8,000-mile trek across Asia. She came here a few days ago to meet him.

But Petropavlosky almost missed being with the tractor-borne caravan on the last lap of its triumphal journey.

It came about thus: Petropavlosky, as an aide in organizing an auxiliary unit, started on a journey from Peiping to meet the main expedition at Aksu in Chinese Turkestan, on its way to China.

He reached Hami, Chinese Turkestan, to guard supplies. While he was there the city went under siege by Mohammedan rebels, and for three months he was or finally held captive in the Oriental town.

Finally Petropavlosky escaped through the rebel with a Chinese colonel and eventually made his way to Urumchi. He was just in time to join the main expedition, and continued with it to today's meeting with his fiancée.

guest has departed from the reception to be held at the hall this evening.

The Prime Minister arrived at 11 o'clock and immediately was ushered to the convocation of benchers. Here in a proceeding always strictly private, he was sworn in as Barrister at Law and Honorary Benchman of the Province of Ontario.

From there he was conducted to the appellate court and introduced to the Justices on the Bench by William Norman Tilley, K. C., treasurer of the Law Society. Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice of Ontario, welcomed Ontario's "new barrister" who was again sworn in and entered upon the rolls. This marked the first time a Prime Minister has been called to the Ontario Bar while holding office. Premier Bennett was called by virtue of his former tenure of the office of Minister of Justice.

Hon. Ernest A. Lapointe was called to the Bar and made an Honorary Benchman, while Minister of Justice, Hon. W. H. Price, K. C., Attorney General, Honorary Benchman; Hon. Charles McCrea, K. C., Ontario Minister of Mines a Benchman arrived early today. Joseph Boomer Walkem, K. C., of Kingston said to be the oldest practicing barrister of the Province was also present.

Manchurian State "Land Of Peace"

MUKDEN, MANCHURIA, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The new State of Manchuria will be known as "Ankuo," "Land of Peace," and its national emblem will be the discarded Chinese five-barred flag emblazoned by the rising sun of Japan.

It will have a republican form of Government and will be headed by a dictator whose identity is persistently linked with that of Henry Pu-Yi, former "Boy Emperor" of China.

Leading Chinese officials prompted by Japanese advisers, so decided today in continuing their labors to set up a stable government in place of the military command of the army of occupation. Chief among them was General Mah Chan-Shan, former commander of the Chinese forces in Northern Manchuria and once a stubborn obstacle to Japanese subjugation of the "three Eastern Provinces."

Five fundamental principles will be embodied in the projected constitution according to reliable information. They are: vesting of sovereignty in the people, autonomy of the state, equality of races, co-operation among racial elements and maintenance of the "open door" policy.

Mayor Chao Hsin-Po of Mukden, known as a staunch friend of Japan, was selected by the committee to draft a proclamation announcing the formation of the new state, which may include the province of Jehol and outer Mongolia. He may act tomorrow.

N. B. APPROPRIATIONS

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 17.—(By The Canadian Press)—Under the unemployment relief act of 1920, the sum of $500,000 was allocated to the Province of New Brunswick and under the unemployment and farm relief act of 1931, $750,000 was allocated to New Brunswick for unemployment relief work. This information was contained in a return table to the House of Commons today at the request of Peter Veniot, (Lib. Quebec).

They made a slow journey almost on the trail Marco Polo used centuries before them, collecting scientific data photographs as they went. The caravan encountered many hardships, plunging through a terrific heat of 125 degrees at Khaybar Pass, and later suffering the rigors of 16 degrees below zero on the galeswept Mongolian plateau.
