After the usual skate last night a team from Bruce Stewart & Co. lined up against a team from Davis and Fraser. The game was an eye opener to amateur hockeyists of this City. Some excellent individual work was done by Percy Rodd and W. Acorn, Jr., while Frank Hobbs promises to be a bright star on the horizon. The success of the game was greatly attributed to the excellent work of Walter Mullins in goal. The other members of Bruce Stewart & Co.'s team did good work in their respective positions. Acorn was penalized two minutes twice and Bobby McDonald three minutes for cross checking. The combination set up by Davis and Fraser also showed some excellent work. Especially noticeable were the stops made by the man in goal. The score stood 11 to 2 in favor of Bruce Stewart & Co. A return match is hoped for in the near future.

St. Bonaventure's Hall was packed on Monday night, Jan. 25th, to listen to what was perhaps the liveliest and most interesting debate that has yet been held by the Library debating society. The Rev. P. D. McGuigan occupied the chair. After routine business, the secretary, J. D. McLaughlin, tabled for the discussion the resolution "Resolved: That the Prohibitory of Automobiles is injurious to P. E. Island." This evoked no small amount of eloquence and criticism on the part of W. Y. McDonald, Peter B. Hughes, James P. Donagan, J. J. Lacey, D. J. McDonald and others. Messrs. W. K. Rogers, city, Patrick Smith and J. J. McDonald took the defensive side, using effective and cogent arguments. Throughout the meeting a keen interest was taken in the question by all present. The consensus of opinion seemed utterly opposed to the re-introduction of automobiles and denounced the strongest terms available the signing of petitions for the repealing of the Anti-Automobile Act. A vote of thanks was passed and tendered in eloquent terms by the reverend chairman to Mr. Rogers for his presence at the meeting and for the clear and satisfactory answers he had given to the questions propounded. The subject chosen for Friday, Feb. 5th, is "Resolved: That reading is a better way between the Church and the Hall source of education than travelling."

Lovers of music for ten miles around filled the hall at Orwell Cove on Monday night in honor of the birthday of Bobbie Burns on Monday week ago. Capt. Angus MacDougall of Pownal stirred the large audience by several selections on the bagpipes. Capt. MacDougall is conceded to be one of the best bagpipe players in the world and he surely excelled himself at this concert. He is one of the men of whom this province might well be proud, not only as a musician but as a master mariner. Dan McLeod of Point Prim comes next in order. He made the violin speak for "Bobbie" on this occasion. Dan is surely a master of the violin for he studied in California and has played all over the world. As a player of Scotch music he has no superior and few equals in all the world. To complete the trio of "The Three Maes" Prof. W. T. MacLeod of Orwell Cove presided at the organ. He also gave an address on Burns. The following are some of his points: The untimely death of Burns is a tragedy. The thinking world is prone to judge men by their weaknesses instead of by their strong points. Burns is a unique example of strength and weakness combined. When the miner picks up a stone he wants to know how much gold there is in it and he estimates the value of it by the gold it contains. The world today are doing honor to the gold that displaced a part at least of the dross of this great man's character. The greatness of Burns was his humanity. His great heart of love went forth in sympathy for even a homeless mouse with her family of little ones perishing with the cold. The dying note of the swan is sweetest, so the tenderest strains of poetry came from the genius of Burns, when he was suffering most from his human weakness and folly. True Burns was a victim to strong drink but that is the case with many a great genius. Men get tired of the common place and wish to soar into the sphere of the imagination. The poor man wishes to be rich even for a few hours. The depressed wish to feel good even for a day. The sorrowful wish to drown their sorrows even for one night. So men seek strong drink not in all cases because they are bad but because they are dissatisfied with their lot. A scolding wife or a dirty home may be the demon that they wish to be free from. In addition to the music by the Three Maes, Fred Coady of Newtown danced the sword dance in good style. Mr. Coady is graceful in all his movements on the stage and besides being a good teacher he is a born musician. Several others gave "a spell" of good step dancing. So in every respect the Burns Concert was a grand success.

Summerside has a reputation for good skaters. They will all be at the Arena tonight.

Miss Lucy Wickham, teacher at Montague who has been visiting in this city for a few days, left on return yesterday afternoon.

The Y. M. C. A. Entertainment planned for Kingston Hall last night but postponed on account of the drifted roads will be held tonight.

The death occurred on Sunday last at her home Grand Pre, N. S. of Ruth youngest daughter of W. P. and Mrs. Eaton, and sister of Mrs. C. L. Grant of this City.

After the skate at the Arena this evening, the dance will start in the Lyceum at ten fifteen sharp and will continue until one fifteen. Train will return for Summerside at one thirty.

The coldest temperature registered Sunday night was six degrees above zero. Yesterday the coldest temperature registered was one degree above zero and the warmest was nine degrees above up till nine o'clock last night.

The program at New Wonderland, last night, was quite enjoyable. The pictures were clearly shown on the canvas and were among the best ever given here. The illustrated song by Sydney Allison was the catch of the season and the large audience enjoyed it greatly.

Last evening a death occurred under sad circumstances at Vernon River, the unfortunate victim being Mrs. Anne Wilson, aged 83, who lived in a small house about half way between the Church and the Hall.

The following is taken from a recent Seattle exchange: "The P. E. I. Club, composed of former residents of Prince Edward Island, the populous and prosperous little isle lying in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, off the southeast coast of Canada, was organized at a meeting of thirty-five of these former residents, held at St. Francis Hotel, Ninth Avenue and Madison Street, last evening. Organized purely for social purposes, the club will rent a hall and during this exposition year visitors from the home isle to the fair will be entertained by the P. E. I. Club. To the membership roll subscribed to the constitution and bylaws last evening will be added fully 200 more, composed of wives and children of the charter members. Semi-monthly meetings will be held and the acquisition of the hall and its furnishings will go forward at once. In the membership are included many of the best-known residents of the city. The officers are: President, Alex. MacLeod; vice-president, Rev. C. McKinney; recording secretary, B. L. Woodie; financial secretary, H. R. Worth; treasurer, W. G. Moore; physician, Dr. Don Nicholson; trustee, Alex. Burns; Joseph MacDonald and A. J. Sharp.

Miss Katie Smith of Boston is visiting at Ten Mile House.

Princess Chimes and Miss Isabel McGreor will arrive and be at home 12 Kent Street, as soon as the steamer crosses. No cards.

At the Baptist Schoolroom last evening an excellent audience gathered to hear Dr. Yeo's address on A Century of Progress in Medicine. Dr. Yeo, in lucid popular style traced briefly the wonderful advancement in medical science during the last hundred years. He took up briefly, Bacteriology, Infection, Preventive medicine, Improved Sanitation, Specialism, etc, making clear explanations of each point. His most interesting address was listened to with closest attention and a hearty vote of thanks moved by Mr. Simmons and supported by Messrs Ross and Sterns was tendered him. The next lecture on the B.Y.P.U. course will be by A. A. Bartlett on Venice.

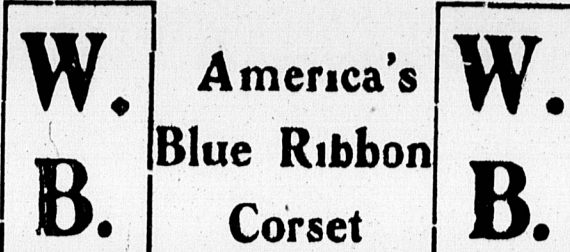

Last night the Opera House was crowded to see the Japanese Troupe assisted by the McDonalds and also a good program of moving pictures. Next on the program came the Imperial Japanese Troupe, who more than ever caused their audience to marvel at their wondrous feats of dexterity. Each Jap is so skilled in his own line that to particularize would be almost impossible and everyone should see them to realize what heights of perfection can be attained by man. The illustrated song by Walter Murray also deserved special mention as was shown by the rounds of applause which forced him to encore. Wednesday afternoon a matinee for the women and children will be held and at the close, the youngest Jap, a boy of five years, will hold a reception on the stage to which all are invited. The play throughout is of a high order and offers many attractions to old and young alike.

ERNEST FOSTER, CITY, Past President of Lodge Pines Edward S. O. E. and well-known in musical circles.
