TUESDAY

POTATO MARKET—The potato market opens today at 60 cents a bushel at the principal shipping centres. There appears to be an abundance of the early varieties and the indications are that large quantities will be shipped before the regular fall congestion begins.

TWO SONS OVER THERE—The New Glasgow Chronicle says: Mrs. Amos Landry of Montague, P.E.I., is visiting her sons Messrs. Peter and Frank Landry. Mrs. Landry informs us that her son Pte. Stephen who went overseas with the 106th, was wounded in the recent big drive and is now in a hospital in France. Her other son Charles is among the brave Canadians who are fighting at the present time.

VISITING SCOTLAND—Word has been received from Rev. (Capt.) McQuillan, of Halifax, from Edinburgh, Scotland, where he has been enjoying a well deserved rest for the past few weeks. Father McQuillan, who is a native of Charlottetown, left Halifax in April 1916 with the 64th Battalion, and later in the same year went to France with a Western regiment. He has been in France ever since, either in the trenches or in one of the hospitals.

SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL—A meeting of the Social Service Council was held in St. John on Friday at which Prince Edward Island was represented by Rev. Dr. Fullerton. It was decided to appoint a Field Secretary for New Brunswick and P. E. Island, the expenses of which service would be borne jointly by the two provinces. The budget was fixed at $5,000 of which Prince Edward Island's share would be $1,000. Dr. Fullerton spoke strongly on the need of an industrial home to be maintained by the Federal Government. The Industrial Home in St. John as at present conducted he characterized as a sham as it failed to train the boys for a useful life as the aim of such an institution should be. He advocated the establishment of an industrial home in P. E. Island and also the placing of a training ship either in Halifax or St. John where the older boys could be sent for training.

The Kozy Korner Tea Rooms was the scene of a very enjoyable banquet last evening, when some sixty of Charlottetown's leading business men gathered in honor of Mr. E. M. Trowern, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association of the Dominion. He was accompanied by Mr. J. Culbertson Doyle, Secretary of the Maritime Provincial Board.

Mr. S. A. McDonald, President of the Charlottetown Retail Merchants Association, under whose auspices the banquet was held, presided the occasion it should be stated, being also the annual meeting of the Association.

The banquet was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind held this season. One of the chief features was the address by Mr. Trowern who gave valuable advice regarding business matters generally. His address needless to say, was greatly appreciated as were the remarks of Mr. Doyle.

The address of the President Mr. S. A. McDonald was as follows:—

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The President, Mr. S. A. McDonald, in the course of his address said that they had arrived at the third mile stone in the history of their Association. It was therefore fitting that they glance backwards and review in brief some of the matters dealt with by them for the past year. A better feeling existed between the various business interests of the City than ever before, and the petty jealousies of the past had disappeared enabling them to view business from a loftier plain. A city was judged more or less from the appearance of its retail stores and their manner of conducting business. The retail stores of this city were well abreast of the times and in keeping with stores in cities of similar size throughout the Dominion. The present was probably the most critical time in the history of the retail trade. With the continued advance in costs of raw material and labor it required a firm hand and a sane idea of business conditions as they exist today to be able to know where and when to buy, yet with the continued advance in prices money seemed more plentiful than ever and conditions in the retail trade throughout the country are good. During the past three years and since the beginning of the war our merchants had contributed liberally to the various funds and assisted generously in every effort made by our people for the prosecution of the war, and their hope and prayer was that Europe might yet be made as happy and contented a place to live in as our own beloved Dominion.

After reviewing the work of the Association during the past three years the President said:

These were but a few of the outstanding matters which were dealt with by this association since their last annual meeting. Their merchants were fully convinced of the importance of standing together in matters relating to the trade interests of the city, rather than by individual effort.

They welcomed tonight their Dominion Secretary E. M. Trowern; also the Secretary of the Maritime organization Mr. J. C. Doyle. They had a message for them, from what was today the largest organization in Canada—the Dominion Retail Merchants Association. In conclusion he thanked the merchants for their valuable assistance for the past year, as he fully realized that any success attained had been "altogether due to others and not to anything he had done."

He had been elected President of the organization in 1915 and he had the honor of presiding ever since. He trusted that when the mantle fell on his successor they would give him the assistance they had given him, and to their secretary Mr. Black. He wished to thank all for the valuable assistance rendered during the past year.

WEDNESDAY

DIED OF WOUNDS—Mr and Mrs. John Edman of Grandview have received word that their son Pte. W. D. Edman died of wounds on August 29 Pte. Edman enlisted in the 105th Battalion and went to England in 1916. Later he was transferred to the 104th and was drafted in France to the 26th.

At the meeting of the Retail Merchants Association held in the Kozy Korner on Monday evening the financial report submitted by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. C. H. Black, showed a balance on hand of $94.77.

Mr. J. C. Doyle, of Halifax, Secretary of the Maritime Provincial Board, gave a very interesting outline of what had been accomplished in Nova Scotia. He showed that by organization the merchants solve their problems by being in a position to present their cases as a united body, before the Government, the manufacturer or wholesaler and win what they were after. In Cape Breton as a result of their efforts no mining company would now be allowed to deduct from men's wages. This has had a fine moral effect, and the men can now purchase where they like and cultivate a saving spirit. Under the old method he knew of one man who in three years had never had more cash in his possession at one time than sixty cents.

Mr. Doyle then read the seventeen resolutions passed at their recent convention in which a great many reforms were aimed at including better roads.

Mr. E. M. Trowern, the Secretary of the Retail Merchants Association followed with a decidedly interesting and enlightening address which he entitled: "When and How we Organized and Some of the Things we Have Done and are Doing." He dwelt upon the importance of organization, pointing out that there are ten times more men engaged in the distribution of merchandise than in the production. There are about 200,000 retail stores in Canada with a million employees and $520,000,000 is paid out in wages to these at the end of the year. The retail merchants are the largest taxpayers, he said and contribute more to the various movements than any other class. The greatest compliment ever paid to any nation was by Napoleon when he termed Britain "a little nation of shopkeepers." Upon this nation of shopkeepers has been founded the greatest force for right in the world today. The speaker dwelt upon many phases of the organizations work.

Other speakers were Messrs. James Paton, M. L. A., S. A. McDonald, G. E. Hughes, M. L. A., A. A. Alley, C. H. Black, and Thos. White.

On motion of Mr. S. A. McDonald, seconded by Mr. Alley it was decided to join the Dominion organization and to be part of the Maritime branch. Officers were elected as follows:

President, S. A. McDonald.
Vice President, C. H. Chandler
Second Vice Pres., A. A. Alley
Secretary, C. H. Black
Treasurer, J. P. Gordon.

The above to be officers of the Provincial Board until such time as a convention is held and also to be on the Dominion Board.

Votes of thanks were voted to the visitors for their services and to the press which were fittingly acknowledged.
