Then spend 50 cents this very day and get a bottle of PARISIAN Sage at any drugstore or toilet goods counter. Use it as directed and you will never care to use ordinary tonics again.

No poisonous sugar of lead, no sulphur, no injurious ingredients in PARISIAN Sage. Ask for PARISIAN Sage. Geo. E. Hughes Guarantees it.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old may homestead a quarter section of a valuable Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at the Agency, under certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties.—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $20 per acre.

Duties.—Must reside upon the home stead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn the homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $20 per acre. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $200.

PLAY THE GAME.

"And when I die," he said, "Ye shall not lay me out in Nor leave your laurels at my head, Nor cause your men of speech orate; No monument your gift shall be, No column in the Hall of Fame; But just this line ye grave for me: 'He played the game'."

So when his glorious task was done, It was not of his fame we thought; It was not of his battles won, But of the pride with which he fought; But of his zest, his ringing laugh,

His trenchant scorn of praise or blame: And so we graved his epitaph, "He played the game."

And so we too in humble ways Went forth to fight the fight anew, And heeding neither blame nor praise, We led the course he set us true. And we, too, find the fighting sweet; And we to fight for fighting's sake; And though we go down in defeat, And though our stormy hearts may break, We will not do our Master shame: We'll play the game, please God, We'll play the game.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE: FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Evenings — Dion Boucicaults. Masterpiece, Produced in Three Reels "In the Emerald Isle."

The Nova Scotia "Lumber King" says: "I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT the BEST liniment in use. I got my foot badly jammed lately. I bathed it well with MINARD'S LINIMENT and it was as well as ever next day."
Yours very truly,
T. G. McMULLEN.

HAVE FOUND OIL.

The once prosperous estates of Shui-a-more, had been brought to ruin by the neglect of Cory Kinchela, the land agent, who held the mortgage on the property. It was his desire to possess the estate, and the sole obstacle was the heir—Robert Ffoliot,—confided by his dying father to the joint guardianship of Kinchela and Father Dolan. The latter looked after the spiritual welfare of the boy leaving to Kinchela the management of the estate. Kinchela was the means of getting young Ffoliot arrested, and sent to Australia, for partaking in a plot against the English authorities, his accomplice being Harvey Duff, an informer.

Assisted by Con—the Shaugraun—Robert Ffoliot succeeds in making his escape and returns to Ireland. Kinchela in the meantime has asked Arte O'Neal—Robert's fiancée—to become his wife. On her consenting, he promises not to foreclose. She refuses Captain Molyneux, the English Officer entrusted with the capture of Robert, meets Claire Ffoliot—his sister, and falls in love with her. Subsequently, he finds himself compelled to arrest the brother, discovers where Robert is imprisoned, and succeeds in setting him free. At the same time, Kinchela, who desires the death of Robert, on pretence of being his friend, sees him in prison, gives him full instructions how to make his escape, and furnishes him with a revolver in case he should find it necessary, at the same time, posting Harvey Duff and some men of his friends outside the walls to shoot down the escaping prisoner. This scheme is foiled by Con, and the climax to this scene is one of the strongest ever presented to the public.

The signal for a boat to come for Robert is a fire lighted on Rathgarraon Head, and Claire assisted by the Captain fire the beacon, whilst Con draws the authorities off the scent, and is shot. Robert makes good his escape to the schooner and Kinchela, finding he has been thwarted in his plans, carry off Arte O'Neal and Moya—Con's sweetheart—and takes them to a secluded part of the country waiting an opportunity to take them to France. Con discovers this, and with the assistance of the English captain, succeeds in setting them free, and procuring the arrest of Kinchela. Harvey Duff to escape the frenzy of the mob jumps over the cliff into the sea below.

The parts of Con, Claire, Captain Molyneux, and Moya, are a quartette of characters, furnishing the best of comedy, and the dramatic interest is sustained throughout the entire production. This picture has made the greatest success of any dramatic film for the past few years, it has been presented in the largest cities in the civilized world, and never yet failed. Mr. Hog is fortunate in procuring the "Shaugraun" for Charlottetown, as there has been a big demand for it in Canada.
