WORLD'S GREATEST CABLES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The world's biggest wire spinning job, that of making the cables for the suspension bridge over the Hudson river, linking New York and New Jersey, is under way.

Four cables, each twice as long as any suspension cables ever made before, are being spun in their permanent positions high above the Hudson. Each will have 25,000 strands of wire, and they are made by twisting the wires together, one after another with machines, at each end of the cable.

The bridge is more than twice the length of the present largest suspension bridge, that linking Philadelphia and Camden.

The daring engineering carries the Hudson bridge across the river in a single span of 3,500 feet. It is longer than would be the result of placing together, end to end, the world's two largest arch bridges, both of them now building, one over Sydney harbor, in Australia, and the other from Staten Island to New Jersey. These arches are nearly 1,700 feet long.

The spinning is facilitated by workers on platforms swung from temporary cables, just below the position of the permanent cables, at heights ranging from 635 feet above the river at the suspension tower tops, to 235 feet at the center of the bridge.

The bridge is going up under the direction of O. H. Ammann, chief engineer of bridges of the Port of New York Authority. He has been building bridges 25 years, and is one of the engineers who have maintained for years that the Hudson can be spanned successfully.

The rigidity of this vast structure will be supplied largely by its own weight. For the first time in the construction of large suspension bridges, there will be no rigid stiffening trusses to prevent sway.

The dead weight of 200 million pounds suspended by the cables is counted upon for rigidity. It is calculated also as sufficient to counterbalance any noticeable side sway from wind pressure, which is estimated at a possible maximum of 1,500 pounds a linear foot.

Omitting the stiffening trusses, Mr. Ammann says, has no bearing on safety, for stiffening of suspension bridges is done for comfort, the safety depending upon other factors.

This span, for safety, is planned to carry a live load consisting of 10-ton trucks 25 feet apart in each of the eight lanes on its upper roadway, and on its lower deck, the heaviest rapid transit trains, one train length apart on all four railway tracks.

Only the upper vehicle and pedestrian roadway will be built at first. Later, when railways are installed, Mr. Ammann says, light stiffening trusses will be added to reduce vibration.

Rheumatic Pains

CANNOT BE RUBBED OUT—THE TROUBLE MUST BE TREATED THROUGH THE BLOOD

The pain of rheumatism is something that you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this or that liniment or oil on the affected part but after all the rubbing the pain remained. This blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated will go together. Anæmia means thin blood, and thin blood is something that can be corrected, so why not build up the blood until the rheumatic poisons are driven out?

This is exactly what is done in the treatment of rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Rheumatism in any form shows improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the poisons in the blood are overcome and driven out rheumatism disappears and does not return so long as the blood is kept rich and red. The great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of rheumatism is proved by the case of Mr. Thomas Martin, of Novar, Ont., who says:—"For some years I was badly troubled with rheumatism that I could hardly walk and suffered great pain. I had medical treatment but did not get much relief. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking the pills for some time the trouble disappeared and has not since shown the least sign of returning."

You can get these pills from your druggist or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ODE TO A WEED.

By Edward Anthony.

A weed has much more fun Than almost any one, Or almost anything Of which a chap could sing. The weed a sense of humor Possesses; when a rumor That he is to be plucked And ignominiously chucked Reaches his ears he grins And, revelling in his sins, Says, "On with the attack! Don't worry, I'll be back! As by most farmers borne out, Though fifty times I'm torn out, Again I poke my dome A-smiling through the loam."

Poets of flowers sing And to this subject bring Their finest talents. I, Being a roughneck guy, Prefer to pen a scented Anent the prankish weed That simply won't obey When he is chased away, A love of life like that Makes me remove my hat.

Unbanishable tramp, Gaspereux Women's Institute, 10.00 O weed, thou art a scamp, Greenfield 3.00 And yet I sing thy praise,
