OH TO BE HOME!

Oh, to be home again, home again, home again! Under the apple boughs, down by the mill; Mother is calling me, father is calling me, calling me, calling me, calling me still.

Oh, how I long to be wandering, wandering Through the green meadows and over the hill; Sisters are calling me, brothers are calling me, calling me, calling me, calling me still.

Oh, once more to be home again, home again. Dark grows my sight and the evening is chill; Do you not hear how the voices are calling me, calling me, calling me, calling me, calling me still? —James T. Fields.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST. So-called stomach troubles such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless a teaspoonful of bisubated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisubated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.
