PARIS, Nov. 27.—Press despatches from Athens say that the French and British forces landed at Saloniki have now attained important proportions. The Patris of Athens gives their number of 125,000. These forces are abundantly supplied with arms and ammunition. Some 40,000 or 45,000 more men are said to be on the way to Saloniki, at which point 4,000 troops are debarking each day.

ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" FIXES SOUR GASSY, UPSET STOMACHS IN FIVE MINUTES.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour out of order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clear and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for billiousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, of you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

FORCE OF HABIT

A minister's wife, a doctor's wife, and a travelling man's wife met one day, and were talking about the forgetfulness of their husbands. The minister's wife thought her husband was the most forgetful man living, because he would go to church and forget his notes, and no one could make out what he was trying to preach about. The doctor's wife thought her husband was the most forgetful, for he would often start out to see a patient, and forget his medicine case and therefore travel miles for nothing. "Well," said the travelling man's wife, "my husband beats that. He came home the other day, and patted me on the cheek, and said, 'I believe I have seen you before, little girl. What is your name?"

FRENCH PUNISH BULGARIANS

LONDON, Nov. 27.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Saloniki, referring to a French counter-attack against the Bulgarians in Serbia, in which the French recaptured most of their lost positions on the Krivolak-Cerna-Rajec line, says the Bulgarians were compelled to retreat, because they had attempted to force the French lines with their full strength, and had left in the rear, no covering troops.

"There are indications of a possible disagreement between the Turks and Bulgarians arising out of the presence of Turkish forces in Thrace. Five Turkish divisions are at Sufli and one division each at Mustafa, Pasha, Varna and Burjas."

Begin now to cut the winter's supply of firewood and stack it in a convenient place under cover. Most woodpiles are so far away from the dwelling that there is much unnecessary walking caused, the housewife and others in securing the daily supply. One Winter home comfort is a copnous woodpile within easy access.

Good breeding results need not be expected from mating immature stock together. The females, especially, should be well developed pullets or two-year-old hens the latter having the preference as breeders even if not quite such heavy layers.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

REMARKABLE STATEMENT OF A WOMAN WHO WAS NOTHING BUT SKIN AND BONES

Laugh and grow fat is a homely saying, but Mrs. Elizabeth L. Morris of Hammond, La., tells of a more reliable method. She says:—

"I cannot say enough in praise of Vinol, for it saved my life. I was weak, nervous, run-down, could not sleep, was unfit for work and was nothing but skin and bones. Three doctors had all failed to help me. One day I saw Vinol advertised, took courage and bought a bottle, and it soon made me feel better. I continued its use and such a change! I have regained my strength, flesh and health, am perfectly well, and the doctor was surprised to see such a change in me in such a short time." Elizabeth Morris, Hammond, La.

The reason Vinol proved such a wonderful strength creator to Mrs. Morris' case was because of the peptonate of iron, beef peptone and the extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, combined in a pure native tonic wine, which makes Vinol a most wonderful tonic.

SALE OF FOX PELTS BY FUR SALES BRANCH

The Fur Sales Board purpose leaving for the United States on December 9th, and it is expected all furs boarded will be sold during the following week if market conditions are still good. It is the duty of each ranch to market at least one well-furred fox to prove again to the world the bed rock basis of the industry. Red and cross fox skins will be accepted without any declaration as to breeding and marketed as a separate lot in the best manner possible. No fox designed for this sale should be killed later than December 2nd as a week's drying of the skin in damp air is desirable.

The charges for marketing will be only the bare expenses, as no salaries, and not even travelling expenses of the Board will be charged against the sales. It is expected that government observers will be present from the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and the Government of P. E. Island.

The average price realized for silver fox skins at St. Louis was $300.00. If a higher price than this is secured the sale will be given great publicity, which, on account of its official nature, will be recognized by the public as unimpeachable evidence of the high economic basis of the industry. The sale of live stock will then boom at higher prices than recently. Thus it is highly desirable that several dozens of prime skins of high quality be offered and all important fox interests be represented. Skins will be received as follows: Dec. 6th, Dec. 7th and Dec. 8th (up to 10 a.m.) office of E. R. Brow, Charlottetown; Dec. 7th and Dec 8th (up to 10 a.m.), 6 p.m.), Brace McKay & Co., Summerside; Dec. 6th, Dec 7th at the office of F. L. Rogers, Alberton.

All silver fox skins must be formally offered for sale, or boarded, by signing the declaration of the breed of the fox, its age and date of slaughter, after which a receipt for the skin or skins will be given.

E. R. BROW,
President Fox Breeders Association
J. WALTER JONES,
Chairman of Fur Sales Board.

INFANTRY PARADE TO ZION CHURCH

with good hearts and good lungs and splendid muscular systems, when it came to the question of their eyes were rejected because they were short sighted, and although they were willing to go they were turned down. Physicians called this disease "Myopia," a flattening of the eye, so that things at a distance became blurred. Short sightedness was a thing that incapacitated a man for military service. There were men under the veldt of South Africa who would have been alive to-day if it had not been for their short sightedness. The Boer's marvellous marksmanship was due to the fact that he could see afar off, but the Britisher was short-sighted and could not see clearly at a distance. The man was not aware of this short-sightedness. He was surprised when he was told that he could not see clearly, and that he was rejected on account of this one defect. He (Mr. Taylor) wanted to apply this to life. In the great warfare of life this far-sightedness, this freedom from short-sightedness was indispensable. They must be able to see far ahead, to use discernment, not for to-day merely but for the day afar off. Discernment was what was needed in life. Men who came at this great time to join the colours were often asked why they did so. One man would say he could find no work anywhere else, so he thought he would just join the colours. Another man joined because he wanted to see the world a bit, to go across the ocean. Then another man when asked would say: "Oh, everybody's doing it, everybody's wearing the khaki and I felt that I might as well wear it too. Again a man would say "I feel that I am a Britisher, I feel that the Empire is in danger. I have no doubt that the Empire will win in the end, but in the meantime I feel I must do my bit. I feel that this is the call of duty. I can see that this will have a great influence in making my character. I cannot tell what the end will be. It will not matter to me whether I come back or not. There will be a greater Canada. The men and women of Canada will have been lifted infinitely higher because of the sacrifice I am making to-day. I am willing to pay the price because I think it is sufficient to justify the sacrifice I am making." That man was not looking at the dollar a day, or the uniform, or for the comfortable quarters, but he was looking at the investing of his life in something that counted for something. If he died other men would live. Men who lived as men never died. They go forward into life not out of it. Whatever they were called upon to do or to bear, they could thank God for the worst as well as the best, because it was all a part in the making of character.

Speaking of the necessity of forming their lives on noble lines, Mr. Taylor said they must be careful of the habits they formed, because a habit generally was not a thing that they caught on to very quickly. They were not aware when it was a habit. The tiger's cub that was so docile and tractable and a child's playmate could develop into a ferocious beast that would tear to pieces the man who brought it into his home. The thing that they found pleasure in, that they thought there was no harm in came out a fatal and dismal fact in their lives. In shooting at the ranges one essential thing was that the interior of the rifle barrel should be clean. In firing small particles of the ball would adhere to the rifling of the barrel and thus interfere with the aim. At a range of 200 yards that little fouling of the rifle course would deviate the ball so much from the centre that a man who aimed true for the bull's eye at 200 yards was known to hit, not even the outer circle, because of a little fouling of the rifle course. This meant a missing of the mark and those little things that seemed of no consequence. They were dealing with great principles. Just a little deviation from the course, just a little deflection each day and a man's character was ruined. They met the fellow every day who said "If I had only known that, you bet I would not have been caught." Evil was wrought by want of thought as well as want of heart. No man set out determinedly and deliberately to do the wrong. He just was caught for want of clear sightedness, level headedness. How did short sightedness come into a man's eye? By reading from small print. It would come in the case of sewing women through taking very small stitches. Short sightedness came through looking at small things. The man who became short sighted in life became so through engaging his attention with small things, through not looking at life as a thing that was eternal, but only looking for the things of the hour and the day. They ought to engage the eye with great things, to look at the far off mountains. When they began to find their characters becoming narrow and hide-bound let them get a big outlook. Let them get the world in its largest and best scale. This would develop the soul and give them an outlook that would ennoble them all through life. If they were big in their lives and hearts they would be able for whatever came. The big-minded man could leave the highest and the lowest things of life, and could stand four-square to every wind that blows, he could still keep a grin on his face and set his jaw in the face of any fate.

He stood God's heir, a far-seeing man. He could see beyond the world's farthest star to the great land beyond, where all the great and the good went on to a greater service.

There are upwards of 175 schools yet to hear from in connection with the "Students' Gift Fund," and this aside from other subscriptions that may come in. All students are now asked to kindly hand in their donation as quickkly as possible. There are more than fifty per cent of the Students in the Province whose names are not yet in the list but doubtless will be ere long. Christmas is not far off, and young people by your united efforts, the Field Kitchen's for our Island Boys may be your great present to them at the festive season. Col. Ings, who through the three newspapers in this city was presented with a -1200.00 McClary Kitchen, for the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles, from our Island people, has written as follows in regard to it:

"The Island Field Kitchen has been a great boon to the regiment. We have had great use out of it."

Col Ings now has the Kitchen at the front, after using it in England during the period of training. The Kitchens to be presented by our Island Students will each bear an engraved plate setting forth the place from whence the gift came, and we hope the Islanders who are to receive it will derive the same amount of comfort, as the 6th C.M. R's., are having from the one presented Col. Ings.

Heat Your Home Comfortably And Well

You shouldn't let your wife and family suffer from the cold this Winter when for a small cost we can instal a heating system that will give you the comfort of a day in June—that will require little attention—that is economical on fuel—and that will last for years.

No modern home can afford to be without proper heating—Many diseases spring from a cold damp room. The very health and life of those most dear is in danger. Are they worth less than the price of a heating system?

We know you need a heating system in your home, but think it awfully expensive—it isn't. It is a sound investment and as good as gilt edge securities that will bring health, comfort and happiness to your home and will not cost much either.
