Fox Stock an Acceptable Christmas Present

How many people are there in the world today who would appreciate a share or two of fox stock as a Christmas gift? They would remember the giver for many years to come for giving them a chance to have an interest in this great industry. For the small boy or girl a $50 or $100 share of fox stock would be appropriate. In a few year's time that investment would amount to a good round sum. Perhaps enough to give them a college education—an opportunity to take up a profession they had a liking for. It might enable them to take advantage of some opportunity, which without a little capital would be denied them—$500 or $1000 at twenty-one is worth many times its value at fifty.

It Might be the Means of Giving the Recipient a Start in Life

Regarding Fox Shares

The Maritime Fox Exchange sell and buy shares in all reputable fox companies for their clients. We are willing at any time to give information regarding any stock in the market, to discuss with you what proposition we think will pay you best result and to protect you as far as it lies in our power against an unwise investment.

Last year's success in the fox business places it beyond the experimental stages and it is now an established and growing industry; all indications point to next year being a banner year for this industry. The chance to share in next year's profits will soon be over. There are on y a few companies left in which you can invest and receive a dividend in 1914. In a short time you will only be able to invest in companies which will not pay a dividend till 1915.

You stand to lose nothing whatever by discussing the matter with us before investing. Our knowledge of the business is yours to command at any time.

The Buying and Selling of Fur Bearing Animals

Ranchmen, Promoters, or Buying Agents for Fur Bearing Stock will find it to their advantage to compare our prices before buying or to consult with us before selling. As we are in close touch with the fur bearing industry both at home and abroad, we are in a position to bring the buyer and seller together, and handle the deal promptly and to the advantage of both parties.

In the buying and selling of options we can save you both time and money. The seller has the advantage of having his proposition placed before our large clientele and the buyer's needs will be looked after satisfactorily, as we are in close touch with all the leading ranchmen.

A large number of people are now raising fur bearing animals, other than foxes. In order to meet this demand we have arrangements with reliable parties, and we are now in a position to fill orders for Mink, Fisher, Muskrats, Racoons, Weezles, Skunks etc.

All orders by mail or telephone will receive prompt attention.
