In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Mr. Weston Francis, Freeborn, who passed away December 12, 1944.

This day brings to memory, A loved one called to rest. And those who think of him today Are those who loved him best.

Do not ask us if we miss him, Oh there's such a vacant place. Can we not feel his footsteps Or his dear smiling face.

Lovingly Remembered by Wife and Family.

In Memoriam

In fond and loving memory of Capt. Hugh M. Daly, who fell asleep at Whim Road on December 12, 1945, in his 84th year.

I go your entrance to secure And your abode prepare; Regions unknown are safe to you When I your friend am there.

Then shall I come when ages close To take you home with me; There we shall meet to part no more And still together be.

Lovingly Remembered by Your Brothers, Joseph and Abram.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Weston Francis, who passed away December 12, 1944.

A cheerful smile, a heart of gold, The dearest Dad a world could hold; Happy memories fond and true, From those who thought the world of you.

Fondly remembered by Hilda and Edgar.

More Vitamin D for Good Nutrition

YOUNGSTERS who get plenty of Carnation Milk—drinking it, or eating it on cereals and in cooked foods—have a head start towards good nutrition. They get their full quota of milk food values. And now they get an increased amount of "sunshine" Vitamin D. For Carnation Milk is now irradiated to nearly 2 1/2 times the vitamin D formerly supplied.

None of the usual foods we eat provides adequate amounts of vitamin D. But irradiated Carnation Milk does supply an amount accepted as sufficient to prevent rickets and to insure good bone and tooth development in normal children.

You'll find a world of help in planning meals for children in the free book "Growing Up With Milk". Write for it, to Carnation Co. Limited, Toronto or Vancouver.

ELLEN'S DIARY

In the future, "Do you mind, Ellen, the pair of cattle we sold that dry year?" he asked me "you and the kids came after me the morning I led them away. It all came back to me clearly, and not the least memorable of it was the tentative and close budgeting that was done as the youngsters and I drove along that familiar country road, that Fall morning. "All I got for that pair was..." but Link's entrance then put an end to our conversation and James forgot to resume it on his return—his mind being taken up with other matters.

And in the self-same chairs we visited together tonight, when a rural mail courier was our guest. Not the same one, who rain or shine delivers mail to our box, but another, from the community whose route of travel lies in the direction known to us as "across the river". It is a long and interesting ride, but the more laborious when winter snows are deep. "And how goes the mail route?" both of us wanted to know, "well it's a funny thing, but I replied, "well, there's more mail now than there used to be. It must be that people are reading more than they once did, for there's newspapers coming too and cards—yes there are big mails. And now with Christmas coming..." And a star that belongs to the Christmas month and to James, because he claimed it on a recent evening, and to me, because it's an old friend, and full of promise for all in the glad season to come, shone brightly above us as we came home.

Until tomorrow... Diary... Good-night.

Don't Make This Mistake When Child is Constipated

Don't wait a child already used by constipation with water-tasting laxatives or harsh, gripping cathartics. Give your child the new, sensitive, made especially for growing youngsters' natural remedy, Laxative Syrup. It's gentle and pleasant, and it works. It's the only medicine that makes taking this way on the child and parent, neither the child's health and comfort, neither the parent's.

Enjoy
