THE GUARDIAN'S correspondent in the east writes: Harvesting is general at present. It is not averages high. There has been no fishing for some time now, rather windy, fish scarce, and dogfish in abundance.—Rev. Mr. Bates preached in South Lake Church, Sunday, 16th inst.—All our cheese factories are doing well. The flow of milk is keeping up well.—Daniel S. and Paul Melnis were visiting at St. Peter's recently.—William Coffin and daughter Elsie, have been visiting at Mount Stewart. Mr. Coffin was visiting the scenes and friends of earlier years.—Lester Robertson, Emma Sutherland and Sylvanus Sutherland, have left for the lumber woods in Maine.—Misses Vesta Stewart, Ruby Stewart and Ada Lord have left for Boston.—Havelock Robertson, wife and family are visiting at St. George.—R. D. Moase, Kensington, and Mr. McKay, Brasabane, were east recently.—The death of William McDonald, West River, occurred on the night of the 20th. He was surrounded by the surviving members of his family, except Mrs. (Cap.) Rhude, Montague, and Mrs. Albert Dewar, Brudenell. He was near the four-score mark.—On the 21st, Miss Minnie Bruce passed away in the prime of a promising life. Her illness was severe and everything that could be done by devoted parents and affectionate sisters, coupled with the best medical skill, was cheerfully done to prolong her life but in vain. A father, mother, two brothers and six sisters are left to mourn, one of whom, Miss Ada, is in California.—Hugh McLean and daughter of Dunbar, are visiting east.—Some mackerel are taking the hook along the north side and some along the south side.—A boat from White Sands spent two nights in the west harbor lately.
