The S. S. Trinidad, Capt. McKenzie, from Quebec and Gaspe en route to New York, arrived in port about five o'clock yesterday morning and sailed about ten o'clock. She had a large number of excursionists on board.

Miss Annie Buote, one of the waitresses at the Davies, was presented by the guests of that hotel, with a set of China dishes, and a complimentary address, on Saturday last. Miss Buote is leaving the hotel to be come one of the principals in an interesting event early next month.—Pat.

The following schooners are discharging coal cargoes in Charlottetown:—Daisy, Capt. McDonald, Pictou; Anne J. Trainor, Capt. Wasson, Philadelphia; Brailiant, Hubley, Port Hastings; The schooners J. B. Martin, from Pictou, and the Stanley Mac, also from Pictou, are discharging coal for the P. E. I. R.

Yesterday a daring theft was committed in Charlottetown. A party who had left his bicycle in front of J. P. Duffy's store on Queen St., while he was making a purchase found it was missing when he got out. Policemen were in the immediate vicinity and had the wheel not been traced in a very few minutes and restored to its owner unpleasant consequences, might have arisen. There have been several bicycle thefts of late and the occurrence will be a fair warning to the perpetrators of this annoying practice.

The Rexall Tooth Brush fills the latest laws of hygiene. It has a perforated back that keeps it sanitary at all times and with the curved handle and irregular brush surface enables the user to clean every tooth—especially the back ones. Each 25c. Angus McDonald, the veteran farmer of Cornwall, cut twelve acres of oats last week. The unusual sight of jay making and grain cutting being carried on at the same time could be seen near Cornwall this season.

The Guardian welcomes reliable news from persons throughout this province. All such items should be mailed to "The Guardian News Dept., Charlottetown, immediately after the events, etc., have transpired.

A very pleasant program was put on at the People's Theatre, Charlottetown, last evening, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. A woman's way was a reel which all could enjoy showing the capriciousness of a woman and her final submission to the ruling passion—love. The audience was given something to laugh at in the film in the Year 2000. This picture was probably the outcome of the present suffragette movements it suggested the high-handed manner which the ladies would use towards the masculine portion should they gain the "right of way". But probably the most interesting thing screened was the film, Under the Flag of Truce, an exciting picture of the American Civil War, showing how the enemy, Confederates and Federals, joined forces to subdue the guerrillas, who waged war on the unsuspecting women and children. Miss Sweeny was heard in illustrated song.
