

C.N.R. SHOWS INCREASE IN REVENUES

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—(Monday)—Gross revenues of $13,282,596 for the Canadian National Railways during the month of July, 1933, are shown in the monthly statement of revenues and expenses issued at headquarters of the railway today. These revenues show an increase of $492,727 from the figures of July, 1932. Operating expenses in July this year were $12,462,130, a decrease of $119,031 from the expenses of July, 1932, leaving a net revenue for the month of July this year of $820,466, as against net revenue in July, 1932, of $208,708, an increase of $611,758.

For the seven months since January 1, the gross revenues of the system were $80,757,467, a decrease of $12,204,890 as compared with the corresponding period of last year. Operating expenses for the seven months of 1933 were $82,815,982, a decrease of $9,217,298 from the similar period of last year, leaving a net revenue deficit for the first seven months of this year of $2,158,515 as against a net revenue in the 1932 period of $829,076, a decrease of $2,987,592.

SERIOUS RIOTING

The disorders were reported to have been released on Thursday with the crowds demanding the recall of Governor Barriol, who had been given supreme control over the colony by the French Government.

The troubles are attributed to observers in St. John's as due to a serious depression in the Islands resulting from a falling off in the liquor smuggling trade. During the heyday of bootlegging, the Colony accumulated millions of francs in revenue through the imposition of an import tax of 40 cents a case on whiskey which was sold to rum runners for as little as $5 a case.

Dredging of St. Pierre Harbor became a most important necessity with the increasing use of the port and work was undertaken to permit large steamers to dock at the public quay. Shallow waters hitherto had necessitated the anchoring of ships in the roads, a mile from the town.

The depression has drastically hit rum runners and the administration was forced to cease operations before the dredging was completed. Recently, it was reported in St. John's, the government found itself unable to meet the pay of seven policemen.

Governor Barriol was placed in supreme control of the Islands by the President of France and he announced a new and drastic schedule of taxes. Reports from the Islands indicated these taxes included such imposts as 400 francs annually on dogs, 1,000 francs on automobiles of which there are 120 in the colony which has only six miles of roads, 500 francs annually on motorboats, and 300 francs on pianos.

CAR OVERTURNED—About noon yesterday a car went over the side of a bridge at Hazelbrook, and overturned. Although the car was almost ruined, the five occupants escaped even slight injury. Another car, which was attempting to pass on the narrow bridge is alleged to be the cause of the accident, as the second car struck the first with the result that the driver lost control of the vehicle. The car went over the five-foot embankment at the bridge.

CHOIR MAKES VISIT—Through the courtesy of Monsignor Maurice MacDonald the Corpus Christi Choir was able to spend yesterday at Tracadie and Corran Ban where they were hospitably received by the people of the parish. At Tracadie in the morning the Men's Choir sang the Mass. At noon the ladies of the parish served dinner in the Parish Hall. Selections were played by the League of the Cross Band, and the Choir rendered "The Belle of St. Mary's", "The Lost Chord", and "Jesu Dulcis". Mr. W. J. Brown, choir master, Mrs. W. J. MacIntyre on behalf of the Ladies' Choir, Mr. S. F. Doyle on behalf of the Men's Choir, and Mr. W. J. Brawlers on behalf of the band expressed thanks to the ladies for their hospitality. Monsignor MacDonald expressed his pleasure on the visit from the choir. In the afternoon the choir and band proceeded to Corran Ban where Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by Monsignor Maurice MacDonald at 4 p. m. After Benediction, the Choir and invited guests enjoyed a repast at the Parish Hall.

Texas Votes For Repeal Of 18th Amendment

(Associated Press)
DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 27.—The dream of Senator Norris Sheppard to make Texas the first of 31 states to block repeal of the United States prohibition amendment was left behind tonight in a storm of wet votes.

The 58-year-old Democratic Senator, frequently called the "father of the 18th amendment" because of his efforts in writing prohibition in the United States

AGED MINISTER PASSED AWAY SATURDAY

Rev. Donald MacLean, Well Known As School Teacher And Pastor, Died at Age of 88.

Friends throughout the Province will hear with regret of the death of Rev. Donald MacLean, who passed away in this city on Saturday at the age of 88 years. A native of Belfast, Prince Edward Island, and the late Mr. MacLean was for many years a successful school teacher, and will be affectionately remembered by his pupils in many places on the Island, including Belfast, Valleyfield, Alexandria and Stanley Bridge. Among his pupils were Rev. M.M. McLeod, New York, Mr. K. J. Martin, K. C. City; Rev. J. M. MacLeod, City and the late Mr. John P. MacLeod, formerly Deputy Attorney-General for British Columbia.

Rev. Mr. MacLean studied theology in the Presbyterian College, Montreal. After graduation, he was called to Barnton, Nova Scotia, and after a pastorate of several years in that Province, was called to the Presbyterian congregation of West Cape, Prince Edward Island. About twenty years ago he retired from the active service of the Ministry, and came to live in Charlottetown. He was chaplain to the Prince Edward Island Hospital for several years, and many patients will remember with gratitude his services. About thirty years ago he published a volume of poems and hymns, which were permeated with deep religious sentiment. Since that time he has published several works in verse and has been a valued contributor to The Guardian both in verse and prose on many occasions.

He was an earnest and evangelical preacher of the old school, and will be remembered in many congregations for his forceful delivery of the scripture text. Mr. MacLean was not only proficient in the use of English, but was also one of the finest Gaelic scholars on the Island, and his sermons in the Highland tongue were very highly appreciated.

The late Mr. MacLean's wife, who was a Miss Edwards of Montreal, predeceased him by several years. There survives of the union two sons, David E., vice principal of the Westmount High School, and a distinguished graduate of both Prince of Wales College and Dalhousie University and John, a teacher in Craigny, Alta. The former is expected to arrive in the city this evening to attend the funeral which will take place from St. James Presbyterian Church on Tuesday at 10 o'clock to the West Cape Cemetery, Hamilton Road, Lot 8.

The funeral service at St. James Church will be under the direction of the Prince Edward Island Presbyterian. In the absence of the Moderator, Rev. Allister Murray, Rev. Dr. Legate will preside. The funeral sermon will be preached by Rev. J. M. MacLeod.

RHODES

Speaking about the World Conference, Mr. Rhodes said that while no agreements had been signed he felt that 66 nations of the world were better acquainted today, and in this respect he was confident that more material headway would be made in future trade developments between nations.

He remarked that the position Canada had taken in London had been instrumental in the speedy flotation of a $75,000,000 Canadian bond issue in Great Britain.

Improved Business

There are many indications of an improved business trend in Canada, said Mr. Rhodes, "but it is to be remembered Canada is a debtor nation and prosperity here depends very much on export sale of surplus commodities, particularly wheat." Full benefit of trade treaties made by Canada within the last three years, he added, could not be measured until the other countries recovered from depressing economic conditions.

Constitution, stamped the State's 31 senatorial districts preceding Saturday's referendum. Against him was arrayed the full force of the national administration of his own party. Another native son, Vice-President John Nance Garner, exhorted this wide-spread area of the "solid south" to support the measure advocated by President Roosevelt.

ODD FELLOWS PLACE FLORAL TRIBUTES

The annual Decoration Day parade of the Oddfellows and Rebekahs was held yesterday afternoon when representatives of the local lodges marched to the People's Cemetery to lay floral tributes on the graves of departed members. Due to the inclemency of the weather the parade was smaller than usual, but a large number proceeded to the cemetery in cars. Mr. Angus MacEachern, P. G., marshalled the parade. The Canadian Legion Band was in attendance.

The service in the Cemetery was conducted by Mr. L. A. Stewart. Rev. E. H. Ramsay, who was the speaker, delivered a most inspirational address. A total of 107 graves in the People's Cemetery were decorated with links.

The Rebekahs placed the links in the form of a floral cross. Mrs. Ruby Houle spoke briefly, paying tribute to the memory of lodge members who had passed on.

In the morning graves in Marshall, Union Road, and St. Peter's cemeteries were decorated. In the four cemeteries flowers were placed on a total of 140 graves.

the League of Nations and the Hague Court of Arbitration—are observed and maintained.

They have notably proclaimed and defined the political and economic independence of Austria. We are resolved to guarantee it.

"The smaller, weaker and less populous states have the same rights to free life as those of larger population and area."

The statement was made public just before M. Daladier set out by aeroplane to Metz for an inspection of the steel and concrete defense chain which has been built in the last three years.

125 Mile Front
Based on France's war experiences, the trench-and-casement system extends along a 125-mile front between the Rhine and Luxembourg.

It is so constructed that troops would be hidden from enemy view and well protected by the fortifications against bombardment. Trenches link a series of casements—shell-proof vaults with embrasures through which artillery and machine guns may be fired from one to 15 miles apart. From this chain, which includes an elaborate system of subterranean barracks connected by tunnels, army officers believe a continuous barrage could be laid down along the frontier.

The new fortifications have been designed to offset the shorter period of army service and Premier Daladier, who is also Minister of War, has assured the nation that there will be budgetary saving in the cost of materials and increasing efficiency through reorganization, without sacrificing manpower.

CIVIL SERVANTS TO RETIRE

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—(C.P.)—The end of August will be an eventful occasion in Ottawa as well as throughout the Dominion as approximately 11,500 Civil Servants, who have reached the age of 65 years, retire. Many of them have already left their desks starting on the leave of absence which precedes the actual retirement.

The treasury board composed of members of the Cabinet met last week in the office of Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, and it is understood made final decisions as to which civil servants over the maximum age would be continued in active service. The policy followed was to keep those who could not be retired without bringing new men into the service and those who had certain rare qualifications for the work they were doing and could not be replaced without additional expense to the country.

MOLEY RESIGNS AS ADVISER TO ROOSEVELT

Relinquishes Office Because of Difficulties With Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

(By Francis M. Stephenson, Associated Press Staff Writer)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Raymond Moley, intimate adviser to President Roosevelt for the last two years, resigned today as Assistant Secretary of State, effective September 7. He will edit a new national weekly to be published by Vincent Astor.

Accepted by the President in an exchange of letters pronouncing the continued friendship of the two, the resignation is the first break in the official family of the United States President. It was pressed by an under-surface split in the State Department between Moley and Secretary Cordell Hull. Astor, a close personal friend of the President, and Moley were guests today at the Roosevelt home.

After the London Economic Conference at which the differences between Hull and Moley reached the breaking point, Moley was asked by the President to make a special study of kidnapping which took him away from his State Department duties. However, it was emphasized then by the President that Moley continued as Assistant Secretary of State.

Throughout the Roosevelt campaign for the Presidency, Moley was at his side. The Columbia University professor was regarded as the key man of the group with which Mr. Roosevelt consulted in forming policies.

After the start of the new administration, Moley was made Assistant Secretary of State and he maintained the intimate relations with Mr. Roosevelt, going almost daily to the executive's desk.

HON. H. H. STEVENS

In addition to Mr. Stevens, the main speakers at the meeting which was organized by John T. Hackett, K.C., member of Parliament for Stanstead, were Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, who detailed efforts of the Government in connection with railway rehabilitation and Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor General, who predicted the next general election would be fought between the Conservatives "representing law and order and a medley of Socialist-Liberal interests."

the mental ward of the prison. He escaped in 1906 and in 1917, after transfer to the Hamilton, Ont., asylum for the insane, again escaped. During the next 10 years he escaped three times from various institutions in Canada and the United States. He is now in Portsmouth.

The Penitentiary Superintendent then turned to the record of the prisoner who claimed at the Kingston trials he had been "hogged like a dog."

Banking System

"Look at the tragedy of the banks over there. President Roosevelt found a serious situation and closed the banks. And now the best they are hoping to do is to develop a banking system similar to what Canada has now. But we are not satisfied. Premier Bennett has requested Lord MacMillan to preside over an investigating commission in Canada, not to save Canadian banks from wreck, but to bring solvency to the banks but to take an already sound system and adapt it better to the needs of a new day.

No Undue Risk

"You will say, what about the expenditure of 500 millions by the United States to aid agriculture? They may plow up some cotton and I want to say this, that two and one half years ago the Canadian Government did in connection with our great wheat industry just what they are trying to organize themselves to do over there. We stepped in and without committing this country to any undue risk we prevented the breaking of the market and saved the farmers an average of 20 cents a bushel. They are now attempting to do something like that in the United States."

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

"The privilege of fellowship," Rev. Dr. Ramsay used this expression in his opening morning prayer. It is a privilege that should be cherished by every church member. "No man liveth to himself." No man can stand alone. We all have to have our group. "United we stand, divided we fall." Nothing can cheer, sustain, guide, comfort, inspire, like being a member of a good church. You need to belong and you need to attend.

Part of the flowers at and near the pulpit were given by Mrs. Daniel McAusland in beautiful and loving memory of her mother, Mrs. Clow.

Rev. Dr. Ramsay delivered a most interesting and profitable sermon on "The unclean spirit and seven others," as recorded in Matthew 12-43 to 45. Jesus used the common beliefs and the common vernacular of his day to illustrate and teach the principles of his kingdom. Dr. Ramsay contrasted the practices, the beliefs and principles of the Pharisees as against the Doctrine and principles of Jesus—the gospel of love—and closed by considering the essential question as to what is our own attitude towards brotherly love.

We were pleased to have Professor Roy Rendall back with us after enjoying a pleasant three weeks holiday. Mr. Roy Smallman was soloist, singing in fine voice "Beyond the Dawn."

In the evening Dr. Ramsay spoke from the text Genesis 32, verses 1 and 2. "And Jacob went on his way and the Angels of God met him and when Jacob saw them he said, this is God's host and he called that place, Mahanaim." This word in the Hebrew means, two camps. There is the camp human and the camp divine, the camp of toil, the camp of triumph. When difficulties come in our path, when dangers lurk near, when oppressed by the hum-drum of our lives, remember, Mahanaim, the Lord of hosts is with us—Read Isaiah 43-2.

Miss Gweneth Fry sang very sweetly "Face to Face" and Mr. A. M. Trueman of Sackville sang a selection from "Messiah" which was much appreciated.

ZION CHURCH

The evening service only was held at Zion Church on Sunday. There was a very fair attendance considering the rainy day. In the absence of the minister on vacation, the Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, D. D., of St. James' conducted the service, preaching from the words "And when He (Jesus) had sent away the multitude He departed into a desert place, and there alone." "The thought which the preacher desired to impress upon his audience was the necessity for times of solitude and quietness for the Christian. Even ten minutes of absolute solitude and quietness with meditation upon eternal things would make a big difference in our lives. It would seem that many people are almost afraid to be alone, or by themselves. The speaker cited the example of our Lord, who frequently He withdrew Himself from the crowd to be alone with God. Only in this way shall we hear the whisper of angel's wings and the voice of God."

Miss Lena McLure, A. T. C. M., was the soloist of the evening, and contributed a very pleasing selection from Gaul's "Holy City," entitled "Eye hath not seen." Miss McLure, in her rich soprano voice, sang this number with deep feeling and expression.

Prof. Louis D. Thompson who has returned from his vacation in England, presided at the organ.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Last week The Army went out of their regular routine and held open air services nearly every night. Wednesday evening following the Soldiers meeting an open air service was held at 10 p. m. Thursday evening one drunkard followed the Army from the Open Air Service and found Salvation at the Mercy Seat. Adj. and Mrs. Wilson after holding services Sunday and Monday said farewell and left for home.

FIRM TONE IN WINNIPEG WHEAT MARKET

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—(C.P.)—Strength at Liverpool and fairly substantial export purchases imparted a firm tone to trading on grain exchange Saturday and prices advanced to show gains of 3-4 to one cent at the close of the week-end session.

At one time values were about 2 cents over the previous close as export buyers purchased freely but when this demand had been satisfied values lost about a cent of their advance and held at that level for most of the day. October option finished at 12 1-8, Dec. at 74 1-8 and May at 79 1-4 cents.

As a result of good buying by mills and bullish sentiment created by signing of the wheat agreement at London, Liverpool prices advanced 1 5-8d to 2d and gave the Winnipeg market a good start. Purchasers entered the market at the opening and prices quickly mounted. Trade for the first half hour was quite active but subsequently thinned as support dwindled, and a little selling appeared on the bulge.

All wheat offered for export overnight was accepted. It was difficult to place a figure on actual sales but conservative estimates ran to 500,000 bushels at least. Aggregate volume of p.t transactions was quite appreciable, particularly as compared to the recent sluggish sessions.

Hedging pressure was light, due to smaller deliveries from farms resulting from recent rains halting threshing operations. Continued ourselves. We desire an understanding with France but will not abandon the Saar."

The tremendous crowds, fighting for a chance to see Hitler, gave plenty of work to Nazi troops who formed a cordon around him.

VERDUN, France, Aug. 27.—(A.P.)—Two hundred members of the Society of Naturalized Frenchmen of the Saar made a pilgrimage here today to protest a German demonstration on Nelderwald Mountain. They came in motorbuses and after visiting forts in this region were welcomed at the City Hall by Mayor Victor Scheller. A wreath then was laid on the monument to the war dead.

LEAGUE CONTROL
The Saar territory now is under League of Nations control. A plebiscite will be held in 1935 to determine whether it will remain a semi-autonomous state, rejoin Germany or become a part of France.

Valley Growers Hopeful Of Market
(Canadian Press)
KENTVILLE, N. S., Aug. 27.—With an estimated crop of 2,000,000 barrels of apples ripening in their orchards, Annapolis Valley growers are hoping for ready markets in the United Kingdom this season. Hopeful news came to Kentville today in a cable announcing to brokers that Newcastle was prepared to handle a minimum of 8,000 barrels a week this fall, which would mean about 160,000 to 200,000 barrels to that market. One steamship line is reported to be arranging fortnightly sailings out of Halifax for the apple trade.
