PERSONALS
Miss Joan Doyle, Saint John, N. B., is visiting her home in this city.

Miss Emma Bryan, Newton Centre, Mass., is visiting friends and relatives at O'Leary.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus N. MacLeod, New Wiltshire, arrived home Saturday night, after an extended visit to California and Vancouver returning home by way of Boston.

work of this pastoral charge been much heavier because of the increased extent of territory to look after but also because of the changing conditions which followed those stirring and busy days of 1925.

And yet in spite of all the heavy tasks and in the face of all the odds that were against him he had tolled on, and assisted by all who had remained loyal to the church of which he was the work had gone along splendidly.

In looking back over those days of struggle he felt that it had been more than worth while. He would willingly go through it all again, yes and more, in order to have again the same privilege of having been able to assist in preserving such a large part of our Presbyterian heritage on Prince Edward Island, and thus to have had something to do with handing down to generations yet unborn that religious freedom which had been dearly bought for us by the blood of our forefathers.

Before closing he wished to thank all who had been so kind to him in every way during the past sixteen years.

And now farewell—and in saying farewell he would take the opportunity of wishing them all that in the years that remain in life, in the years that remain in life, in the years that remain in life.

All then joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow". Following this, short addresses were made by Messrs. Alexander McDonald, Neil Nicholson, Alexander McLen-nan, D. A. McIntosh and Dougal McPherson.

They all spoke in glowing terms of the splendid work Mr. Stavert had done during the past sixteen years. They felt that his going away would be a great loss to the congregation. They were very sorry indeed that he had decided to tender his resignation.

And seeing that the work had been going along so well it was hard for them to believe that it was God's will that Mr. Stavert should have resigned. But now that he has resigned they can only abide by his decision and hope for the best.
All joined in wishing Mr. Stavert life's richest blessings in the years that lie before him.

The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and music. The ladies of the congregation served a dainty lunch, after which all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne". The gathering was then closed with singing "God Be With You Until We Meet Again" followed by the National Anthem.

letes were added today to the Canadian British Empire Games girls' team's strength to 19. One of them ago at London, Ont.

Games as a broad jumper. Her experiences are being paid privately by Hamilton Olympic Club in paying the expenses of Violet Smith who won the 880 yards event at the trials in time the selection com-placed fifth in the 100 yards trial, also will go as a broad jumper, expenses being paid privately.

placed third in the trials.

WEDDING BELLS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Patrick's Church, Grand River West, on July the 4th, when Miss Irene Morrison, daughter of Venantius Morrison was united in the Holy Bonds of matrimony by Rev. John A. McDonald, P. P. to Mr.
Urban McLellan, contractor, late of Pittsburgh, Pa., son of J. D. Mc-Lellan also of Grand River, Ont. 14.
To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bride leaning on the arm of her father and preceded by the bridesmaid Miss Irene Mc-Lellan, R. N., entered the Church and proceeded to the Sanctuary Steps where the groom and his attendant Mr. Will Gillis awaited her coming. A large number of friends were present to welcome the young of the Nuptial Knot.

The bride looked winsome in a costume of white organdie chiffon with veil and wreath of orange biosons and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses. The bridesmaid was costumed in yellow organdie chiffon with picture hat to match and also carried a bouquet. The bride's gift to her maid was a gold necklace and the groom's gift to his attendant a set of gold links.

After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of the bride where over a hundred guests assembled to do them honor and partake of the generous hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison at a breakfast table laden with delicacies disposed to tempt the palate of the most fastidious epicure. Nothing was left undone by the host and hostess to please and assure the comfort of their guests. In the afternoon the bride party motored to Borden on route to St. John and intermediate points on a ten day honeymoon trip.
"May their journey through life be as bright and sunny as the day of their embarkment" is the wish of their many friends.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Reverend Reception Tendered Rev.
R. Hensley Stavert By Hartsville Congregation

A large gathering of the members and adherents of the Hartsville Section of the Brookfield congregation was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dougal McPherson.
The purpose of the gathering was the tendering of a farewell reception to Rev. R. Hensley Stavert, M.A., B.D. During the earlier part of the evening, while the friends were assembling, Miss Isabelle Mc-Donald, organist of the Hartsville congregation, assisted by members of the choir, entertained the gathering with vocal and instrumental music. Later Mr. Dougal McPherson was elected chairman for the evening.

In a short speech Mr. McPherson stated the reason for which the people had assembled and then addressed Mr. Stavert. He read an address to Mr. Stavert.

The following is the address:
To the Rev. R. Hensley Stavert, M. A., B. D.,

Dear Mr. Stavert:
May we the members and adherents of the Hartsville Section of the Brookfield congregation take this opportunity of expressing what is in our minds and hearts at this time.

You have ministered to us for sixteen years, giving to us without stint your best energies and most enthusiastic service. All that time you have held back nothing of physical or mental effort for the sake of the cause.

You have been our trusted adviser, our very good friend and our faithful pastor. You have baptized our children and guided them later to the communion table. You have watched by our sick beds and you have comforted the mourners. In fair weather and foul you have expounded to us the word of God with all diligence.

And now as you leave us many hearts are sore and many homes will look in vain for the trusted servant of God who was so welcome to our firesides and at our tables.

In the difficult days of the distinction between courage and your steadfastness and your amazing and tireless energy that saved for us the church of our fathers. We are thankful that you were with us at that time. We are proud that our minister was the chosen instrument by which so much of our Presbyterian heritage was preserved on this Island. We are proud that you alone and unaided carried on the battle so eagerly and valiantly in those days. We have always admired the way in which you were able to fulfil so many duties in all parts of the Presbytery as clerk and as moderator of so many vacant charges, and yet be at our call whenever the need arose.

We rejoiced when the well deserved honor of the Moderatorship Maritime Synod came to you.
And now as your pastorate here draws to an end we feel that a glorious chapter of work in the Kingdom has closed.

We know that wherever you go the same unabated force and zeal and the same kindly enthusiasm will be characteristic of your ministry but sorrowfully we realize it it will not be amongst us.

We will miss you in the pulpit, your place there will be exceedingly hard to fill. Your wonderful gift of speech and forceful utterance have won for you the well deserved name of Prince Edward Island's leading minister.

We will never forget you. In the oncoming years while other names of this now present time will be little more than a mere tradition your name will be a household name in our midst, and your work will live on.

Before we would say good-bye we would ask you to kindly accept of this purse as a small token of our heart appreciation of your untiring efforts on our behalf.

And now farewell. We hope that you may be long spared to do as splendidly for the Master's Sake in the days to come as you did in the good old days when we stood shoulder to shoulder behind you.

Signed on behalf of the Hartsville Section of the Brookfield congregation,
DOUGAL MCPHERSON,
NEIL NICHOLSON,
D. A. MCINTOSH.

Just before the closing of the reading of the address Mr. D. A.
McIntosh presented Mr. Stavert with a well-filled purse.
Immediately following this address from the congregation as a whole, Mr. Borden McLennan stepped forward and read an address
