The happy couple left the following morning on a short trip to Halifax and other Maritime Province towns.

P. B. A. MEETS.—At meeting of the Provincial Breeders' Association was held in the Agricultural Hall on Thursday, July 3rd. The president, Bertram Brown, presided. A large number of the members were present. The secretary was able to report several additions in membership to the club. Matters of importance to the interest of the Ayrshire breeders of the province were discussed. Special emphasis was again laid on the necessity of keeping the herds free from disease, and the advisability of importing pure bred stock to the province to supply the increasing demand for Ayrshire cattle. It was finally decided that importation should be made this autumn, the number to depend on the applications received from breeders prior to the time of importation, the definite date of which will be announced later. The privilege of importing through the club is not limited to the members. Breeders of Ayrshires who contemplate increasing their herds should apply at once to the Secretary, Major McRae, East Royalty.

In the Presbyterian Church at Souris on Sunday evening July 13, 1919, was held a most impressive Memorial Service, during which a beautiful Bronze Tablet was unveiled in memory of the passing of Nursing Sister Rena M. MacLean.

Rev. Alexander MacKay preached a most impressive and eloquent sermon from the text "She hath done what she could," Mrs. Duchemin sang "Resignation" effectively and beautifully while the Tablet was unveiled by Mr. A. E. Clarke, the service ending with the "Dead March in Saul."

The Tablet placed on the wall of the Church bears the following inscription:

In loving memory of

Rena M. MacLean

who willingly gave her life in the cause of humanity as a Nursing Sister in the Hospital Ship "Llandovery Castle," which was sunk by a German submarine June 27, 1918

Aged 38 years

The only Island Nurse to make the supreme sacrifice and only surviving daughter of

Senator John and Matilda MacLean

"She hath done what she could."

A very large congregation taxed the full capacity of the church showing the love and esteem of the people of Souris for this noble young woman who freely gave her life that we might live. Her death parallels that of Edith Cavell's, each one devoting their energies to the care of the sick, and the mending of the lives of those sorely wounded, passing to their Eternal rest and reward in the fearless performance of their duty. Some day these two with countless others, will stand face to face with the German Emperor before the Great White Throne to answer for the deeds done in the body. One could not help thinking of the countless number of times that Rena MacLean, from her home gazed on the beautiful stretch of water, which fascinates the eye of any visitor to Souris, and we wonder if she ever thought that in that element she would find her final resting place. The list of those from the Island who made the supreme sacrifice is great; their memory should never be allowed to fade, but we doubt if any one of these gave their life more fearlessly or generously than did Nursing Sister Rena MacLean. The Hospital ship Llandovery Castle was conspicuously marked all over with Red Cross marking and when the murdering submarine sent the deadly torpedo that condemned the Sisters of Mercy on that ship to a watery grave the angels in Heaven must have shuddered at the deed. It was one of the Teutonic acts of infamy without a name and scarcely paralleled among the awful deeds revelled in by Germany in the Great War. Finally we sorrow with the ones left to mourn, but we also recall those splendid lines:

"Ye, who in sorrow's tents abide.
Mourning your dead, with hidden tears
Bethink ye, what a wealth of pride
They've won you, for the coming years.
Grievous the pain, but, on the day
When all the cost, is counted o'er
Would it be best that ye should say
"We lost no loved ones in the War."

THURSDAY

..*THE CADET CORPS of the Georgetown High School was inspected by Lieut. Col. Leigh on Friday, June 27. Col. Leigh expressed great satisfaction with the way in which the Corps had been trained, stating that while their drill exercises quite equalled, their discipline surpassed that of any other Corps he had inspected. This but corroborates the report that Inspector Adams has given the pupils of the G.H.S. and they are to be congratulated on their earning such an enviable reputation.—G.

A BELATED INVENTION. — The Montreal Star of the 10th says "Australian engineers have invented three-rail-switches for use by railroads where there are three rails on each track to accommodate rolling stock of different gauges." The Australian engineers are just two and a half years late with their invention. The three-rail-gauge has been in use on the Prince Edward Island Railway since the Carferry began operations two and a half years ago. These gauges were invented by the C. G. R. engineers when the necessity for them arose at Borden where rolling stock of both gauges has been in use. They are now being placed all along the railway between Summerside, Borden and Charlottetown.

WEDDING BELLS.—In Saint Matthew's Presbyterian Church, Montreal, Monday afternoon, July 14th at 2.30 a quiet wedding took place of two of the popular young people of Charlottetown, Mr. Samuel Rankin Lowe and Miss Katherine James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.C. James. Rev. George E. Ross, B. D., Minister of the church and formerly of Zion Church Charlottetown officiated. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and dMrs. Lowe left on their honeymoon trip accompanied by the heartiest congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends in Prince Edward Island and Montreal. The bride has been resident in Montreal for some time as nurse in the Montreal General Hospital where she has been one of the most efficient and popular of the staff.

BETTER ROADS ASSOCIATION.—An influential and highly successful public meeting was held in Mount Herbert hall on Friday evening last, the object being the formation of a Better Road Association. The chair was ably filled by Mr. Lemuel Wood, and among the speakers were Prof. J. Walter Jones, Messrs. Ernest Mutch, Percy Mutch, Henry McKenzie, James Monaghan, Chas. Pippy, H. J. Kennedy, Uzziah Boyce, Joseph Power, and W. E. MacCallum. From the beginning those present made it clear that politics—the curse of Prince Edward Island—as one speaker robustly termed it—were debarred, and that the only aim was the good of the community represented at that meeting. It was strongly urged that the Hillsboro Bridge be lighted up at night, that certain roads be widened, and a new one opened by the incoming Government, new or old. A Committee was instructed to wait upon the candidates and place these matters before them. This Association is evidently working upon the right lines and shoud go far.—Correspondent.

ON CANOE TRIP.—Messrs. Leslie Hughes, Earle Prowse and Ralph Harris of Charlottetown left the city on July 5th in an 18 foot canoe for Summerside. They had excellent weather and made stops at Nine Mile Creek, Victoria, where they visited the C. S. E. T. camp, Cumberland Cove near Borden, Sea Cow Head and reached Summerside on Tuesday, the 15th. At Sea Cow Head Mr. Leslie Hughes met with a painful accident. He was in the act of pouring hot water into a ginger beer bottle when the bottle exploded, a fragment of glass striking him below the right eye inflicting a deep wound which bled profusely and required five stitches to close. The glass came within a very close distance from the eye just touching one lid. But for the first aid knowledge of his comrade, Earle Prowse, it would have been a great deal worse as it was eight hours before a doctor was secured. The party leave today for the Dunk on a fishing trip and from there will proceed next to Richmond Bay and will then leave on return to Charlottetown.

There passed peacefully away at the P. E. Island Hospital, on July 4th, at the age of fifty-eight years, Mrs. Georgina D. MacKinnon, widow of the late Alexander MacKinnon, of New Dominion, after a short illness which was borne with Christian fortitude. The late Mrs. MacKinnon was a daughter of the late John C. MacNeill, of New Dominion, and she shall be greatly missed not only by her relatives but also by the whole community, where she was a general favorite. Deceased was one of the noblest of spirits, kind nd cheerful under all circumstances, and a friend to the poor and needy. It may be truly said of her that her life was a sacrifical one, and her busy hands were never idle, but with a self sacrificing spirit she always worked for others. She made many warm friends by her lovable disposition, for to know her was to love her; and in her daily life she exemplified that she lived as a Christian and one who always walked with her Saviour. During her illness she looked only to her Redeemer, waiting to be called home. Her influence will long be felt in the community in which she lived, and her many acts of charity will long be remembered by those to whom she ministered, while many a friend is grieveing for the voice that is forever stilled. In the home circle four sisters: Mrs. Nelson Currie, Rocky Point; Mrs. W. H. MacEwen, New Dominion; Catherine and Annie, of Boston, Mass. and one brother, Robert C., of Rocky Point are left to mourn the loss and fondly cherish the memory of a devoted sister. The sympathy of the whole community goes out also to a nephew, Ferdinand R. MacPhee, who always lived with her and who will mourn the loss of a loving and devoted aunt. The funeral took place on Sunday, July 6th at 1 o'clock from her late home to Canoe Cove cemetery, where she was laid beside her late husband who predeceased her twenty-four years. The pall bearers were: John D. MacKinnon, Neil M. MacKenzie, George Wilson, F. A. Stewart, Duncan MacEwen and N. J. MacNeill.
