In Memoriam

MRS. FLORA STEWART
There passed away at Little Sands on Sunday evening, January 5, 1941, Mrs. Flora Stewart. She was born at Little Sands, July 12, 1852 daughter of the late Norman MacLean and his wife, Christina Stewart, who emigrated from Scotland.

Catherine Horton, of Murray River. Of this union four sons and three daughters were born. After the marriage, the young couple resided at Long Creek, West River, P. E. I., but shortly after moved to Murray River where he bought a timber farm at Hopefield, where he and his good wife faced the great and hard task of clearing the land and carrying their living out of virgin forest for themselves and their increasing and growing family. Here they spent the most of their lives until they sold out and moved to Murray Harbor to live with their son, John Livingstone, and his wife.

UNDER PRESSURE
By GEORGE AGNEW CHAMBERLAIN
George Agnew Chamberlain WPU Service

"Joyce, please" cried Dirk in an agonized voice; then he collected himself and faced the older woman. "Licenciada Margarida Fonseca, may I present his excellency the ambassador of the United States?" He laid his hand on Joyce's shoulder as she turned. "Chief," he half gulped, "this is Joyce--Joyce Sewe."

During 30 minutes they listened spellbound while she talked. At first Margarida Fonseca seemed a volcano on the verge of eruption; while occasionally she protested with a short of scolding volume, to no statement did she deign to voice actual denial. But gradually--very gradually--the snow began to clear from her brow, her clenched fists relaxed a gleam of admiration dawned in her eyes and at last the smile Joyce had seen only once before transfigured her expression. "Ah!" cried the ex-minister of war, and it sounded like a groan of understanding mixed with rage. "It is clear what happened--too clear! Licenciada Fonseca baited it. By abandoning you to your fate in La Barranca without killing Dorado they created an unparalleled international situation which made me totter. One more push would send me over with a crash, and Onelia himself supplied the impulse by facilitating the theft of the howitzers and casting the blame on me. Ah, senorita, you did well by yourself to bring me here today. All right!"

CORONATION W. I.
The Coronation W. I. of Prince River, met at the home of Mrs. Samuel Bernard on Tues. Jan. 28. There was a fair attendance of members and a number of visitors present. The president opened the meeting by all singing the Inland Carol followed by the Creed in English. After roll call and the reading of the minutes the usual discussion followed. A letter was read from the Red Cross of Toronto thanking the Institute for its laudable work in charge. Letters were read from the different soldiers thanking the members for the boxes sent them at Christmas. It was decided to send for more yarn to the Red Cross. The president reported three sweaters, 1 pair of socks, 2 hospital shirts and a pair of half mits finished. The questionnaire was taken up. Lunch was then served by the Committee in charge. A contest by Mrs. Samuel Bernard, National Anthem brought the meeting to a close. Mrs. George Howard kindly invited the Institute to meet at her home for the February meeting.

BRACKLEY SCHOOL CONCERT

The annual Christmas concert of Brackley Point School was held on Thursday evening, December 19, 1940 in the community hall which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Mr. Grant MacCallum capably acted as chairman and the following program after several omissions

MEN ARE MUCH MORE EMOTIONAL THAN WOMEN

A Psychologist at Kent University in Ohio, by giving nerve-reaction tests to college students, has found that men are much more emotional than women, writes Ruth Millett, a New York newspaper woman. Isn't that the kind of scientific proof we need to show men that they haven't any business running our governments, and should be using their emotional natures in the creative arts--where they will be a distinct advantage and not a handicap?

"General!" cried the ambassador, advancing with outstretched hand. "What brings you here, of all places and people?" "I don't know," said the general glancing around in a bewildered manner. "I really don't, Excellency. I came in answer to a mysterious message from the young lady, who caused you so much trouble, brought about my downfall for all established my reputation for all time as a prophet. Is she here?" Joyce stepped forward. "Present; mi General!" she smiled, but almost immediately turned sober. "If I did you an injury, I'm more than willing and ready to make amends. General, I'm going to tell you a story. Frequently I shall have occasion to call upon Licenciada Margarida Fonseca for confirmation. Whenever she denies a point you may take it she means the contrary. Let her face be my star witness; I defy her lips."
