IN MEMORIAM

MRS. HENRY DUNN

After a lingering illness of over three years, Mrs. Henry Dunn of Gaspereaux died in the King's County Memorial Hospital on Holy Thursday, April 14th.

The late Mrs. Dunn's maiden name was Maria Kiely of White Sands. She was the daughter of John Kiely, a well-known Justice of the Peace of that locality. Her mother was Dorothy Smith of Sturgeon. She was married in 1893 to Henry Dunn who was just establishing a general merchandising business at that time. She came to Gaspereaux a young woman twenty-two years of age and here, her life was spent, with the exception of various trips to some months each to California, New York and Montreal. These visits were made during the later years of her life to the homes of her sons and sisters.

In the days when Maria Kiely came to Gaspereaux something of a pioneer conditions still prevailed and she gave valiant assistance to her husband in the founding of his country business and the operation of his newly cleared farm. A strong self-reliant woman, she shouldered the burdens of her day and age, with untiring energy and determination. To work in the harvest field from sun to sun, binding grain from the reaper was no unusual occurrence to her. She was adept in the use of that now practically extinct contrivance, the loom and many were the gaily-colored and durable rugs and quilts turned out by her working far into the night after the regular day's work had been done.

Mrs. Dunn was a woman of unostentatious kindness. She was always ready and willing to help those in difficulty though she was not over sentimental nor given to philanthropy. But individuals who deserved well in the light of genuine need and who brought their troubles to her were always accorded a sympathetic hearing, and were gladly and promptly aided, as many of these recipients would today testify.

In the light of the pioneer conditions previously referred to, education was a knotty problem in those times, but Mrs. Dunn had an innate love of it and early decided to give her family the best possible chance of securing adequate instruction in whatever profession or calling which appealed to each of them. Country schools in those days, as a rule, were extremely elementary, and her boys had to be sent to the nearby centres of Georgetown, Murray River and Murray Harbour South and later to Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown.

The difficulties of transportation which had to be overcome were of such a nature that would have daunted one less devoted to the cause, and the early morning sorties to catch trains in all kinds of weather by horse and vehicle over all kinds of roads, were obstacles which are totally unknown in this generation. However her love of education mastered all these trials and she finally succeeded, with her late husband's help in accomplishing her objective, thereby contributing in substantial measure to the general educational level of the province.

The late Mrs. Dunn was a fervent member and staunch adherent of the Catholic Church and was inspired and comforted by many visits from her pastor, Rev. F. L. Mullally, who was with her when the end came. She was also visited while a patient in the Montague Hospital, by Rev. Owen Kiggins of Georgetown.

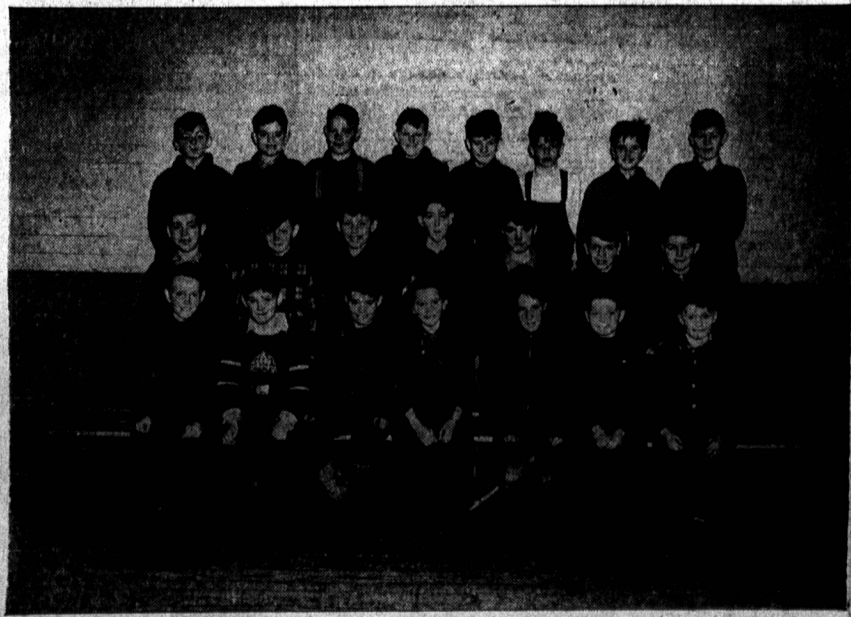

She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother six sons, Dr. P. R. Dunn and Dr. W. F. Dunn of Montreal, Dr. L. W. Dunn of New York City, Eugene E. Dunn of Miami, Florida and Lorne and Harry Dunn of Gaspereaux, and one daughter, Mrs. John J. Kolatsoz of Medford, Mass., also three sisters, Mrs. D. Smith and Mrs. L. Buell of Tacoma, Wash., U. S. A., Mrs. D. Jamieson of Sturgeon, P. E. I., and one brother John R. Kiely of Tacoma, Wash.

Her funeral was held to St. Paul's Church, Sturgeon on Monday, April 18 where the services at the Church and graveside were conducted by Rev. F. L. Mullally. The pallbearers were her four nephews, David Jamieson, Harold Jamieson, Howard Jamieson, Philip Jamieson and Raymond Riely and Cephas Davey. May her soul rest in peace.
