We fully appreciate the hearty response which we had to our great white sale.

We promised the best exhibit of white wear ever made in the city, this statement has been fully endorsed by everybody who attends our white sale.

Pillow cottons, sheeting, towelling, linens, in white wear a dis. of 20 p. c. All made up garments, in white wear a dis. of 25 p. c. during the great white sale.

The public are beginning to realize what a dis. of 20 p. c. means at this store. With our low net cash price a dis. of 20 p. c. is equal to 33 1/3 where the old fashioned long prices are marked on the goods.

A QUESTION ANSWERED.

I have noticed in P. E. I. that when a new orchard is planted out, many trees with and without pruning first year, throw up from two to five suckers around base of trunk, causing tree to die within a few years. Please explain at next session.

Answer.—I should say that the trees in question were severely injured in the trunk. This might be by blight, by sun scald or by winter killing, anything in fact that would seriously damage the trunk of the tree and interfere with the circulation so that the dominant buds at the base would develop. This is a frequent occurrence when trees are over-pruned. It also occurs when trees have been severely barked or girdled, but if there is nothing apparently wrong with the trunk, look for blight. A careful examination will show that something is wrong. A. McNeill, Chief Fruit Division.

Your Danger From Kidney Troubles

BEGINS WHEN YOUR BACK ACHES.

Backache is the first and the sure sign of kidney disease.

When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Next to the heart, the kidneys are perhaps the most important organs in the body. It is no wonder then that if the kidneys are affected the whole system must be.

On the first sign of backache Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go right to the seat of the trouble, heal the delicate membranes of the kidneys and make their action regular and natural.

Mr. E. J. Saubier, Lake Annis, N.S., writes: "I take a great deal of pleasure in telling you the benefit I have received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with my kidneys for several years; my back was weak, I had terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night. I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a very short time I was right and fit again."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The J. C. Doan Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's"

WOMAN AND HER CLOTHES.

Why should some women be censured and called frivolous and coquish because they allow dress and its accessories to become a feature in their lives? Should any woman allow herself to become old before her time? Absolutely no, she should not! Every woman has a debt she owes to the world at large to make herself look as beautiful and attractive as she can. Now, we all cannot be a Madame Recamier, nor a Helen of Troy, but each and every woman if not quite so alluring as these two mentioned ladies, still can make her appearance pleasant to look at.

In the days not so very long ago, a woman who took pains with herself and devoted time to the details of her toilet, was called vain, soulless and sometimes something worse. Surely in these enlightened times we must think differently.

Why should some people consider it noble, wonderful, a sign of intellectual superiority to despise dress and think it beneath the notice of a woman of intelligence to give a thought to the adornment of her person? Why should it be said of a bright, clever woman, who, while she gives her brains plenty of nourishment, lets her body die of sartorial starvation? That "she has a soul above dress?" Why should a beauty-loving soul be above dress? We admire all Nature's loveliness and appreciate all the grandeur of art, and yet there are some who think that a woman, who should signify all the most beautiful in nature and art, should go neglected and uncared for.

A woman may have a brilliant mind and the soul of a saint, but if those two attributes to her attractiveness are in a dingy case the beautiful qualities are woefully detracted from. No one would think of taking a diamond of the purest water and put it in an old tin setting. If we have a beautiful home don't we lay it out all the money we can afford in furnishing it artistically? Would we allow it to go neglected and unadorned? If we have a garden don't we trim the lawns, water it, put all the most beautiful shrubs and flowers in it, care for it, tend it, so it shall cheer our eyes and gladden our heart? Then why should a woman not take care of her good looks if she has them, or try to make herself good to look on if beauty has passed her by? Decidedly a woman should take every possible means to make herself a comely sight. It is no sign of intellectuality to have an ill-fitting gown or an unbecoming hat. There is no reason why beauty and brains should be divorced. A clever woman can talk and think just as well in a gown that is fashionable and up-to-date, in fact better, than if she had on one of those dreadful shirt waists that bump up the back and a skirt and hat equally dowdy.

RHODES SCHOLAR FROM P. E. I.

The Montreal Star has the following article, illustrated by a splendid photo of Mr. Warburton.

The first McGill student to be elected Rhodes Scholar from Prince Edward Island is Hugh C. Warburton, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., news of whose appointment has just been received at the University in a cablegram from Dr. G. B. Parkin, secretary of the Rhodes Trust.

What lends additional interest to the appointment is the fact that Mr. Warburton, besides possessing very high qualifications for the scholarship, is a particularly intimate friend of Walter J. Pears, Arts '12, the recently elected Rhodes Scholar from McGill.

The Prince Edward Island appointee was born in 'ssam, India, in 1889, where his father, Dr. George Warburton, now a retired doctor of Charlottetown, was at that time a physician in the Indian army. Shortly after his birth his parents came to Prince Edward Island.

Entering the Prince of Wales College at an early age, he was soon marked for rapid advancement, and became very popular with his fellow students, among other positions assuming the editorship of the "Observer," the college paper, and figuring at intervals on the football, hockey and track teams.

Upon graduation from the Prince of Wales College, and obtaining a first-class teacher's license, Mr. Warburton came to McGill in the autumn of 1906, where in the second year he was successful in winning an exhibition of one hundred dollars.

Like success attended his efforts in the third year, when he won the Coster memorial prize, awarded for an English essay, open to competition to all students from the Maritime Provinces.

Nor has the newly elected scholar confined himself merely to his studies, but has played regularly on his college football and hockey teams. In addition he was last year the editor of the McGill Annual, the yearly publication of the undergraduate body, and president of the Prince Edward Island Club; and is this year a member of the house of committee of the McGill Union.

He has taken an extremely active part in almost all the student activities. In his studies he has devoted himself largely to English literature, taking honors in that subject, and at Oxford he intends to specialize along that line and qualify himself for a professorship.

Mr. Warburton takes a keen interest in military matters, and for five years has been a member of No. 2 company 4th Regiment, of the Canadian Garrison Artillery, which drills annually at Petawawa.

It is a somewhat peculiar coincidence that he is the sixth Rhodes scholar to be selected from that company which of the three of those five occasions has been the company winning first place.

The other applicants for the scholarship were, Messrs. G. W. Irving, of Vernon River, P. E. I., a class mate of the successful scholar at McGill, and W. A. Scott, of Charlottetown.
