I used to think that Ypres was bad enough, but the Somme had that beat. The artillery bombardment was something terrible, both on the Germans' side and our own. We gained quite a large amount of territory, but the slaughter was awful, however, I was thankful to get out of it as well as I did." —IN SCHOOL CIRCLES.— Mr. Moise Gallant of Rustico has now charge of the Primary department of St. Chrysotom school, replacing Miss Margurette Gallant of Mt. Carmel who was compelled to resign owing to sickness. Mr. Gallant has always held the high reputation of being a very successful teacher and the rate payers of St. Chrysotom, while regretting their former teacher, have been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Gallant.—M.

—PATRIOTIC SECTION.— At this juncture, when recruiting is going on and enlistmeut is being talked considerably, it might be well to mention the fact that Egmont Bay figures out conspicuously in the number of soldiers it has now under training and at the front. With a population of about 1200 she has supplied 40 recruits and of this number, Abram's Village has supplied about half. Two families have supplied three each, and several other homes have sent two each. One old gentleman of Abram's Village, John J. Arsenault is grandfather to four and uncle to eleven. Egmont Bay may well be proud of her sons who have so well responded to the call of duty.—M.

—SCHOOL WORK.—The semi-annual examination of Mill Vale School took place on Thursday, January 25th and was attended by a large number and friends of the pupils, several of whom assisted the teacher in the examination. A programme of recitations, choruses and dialogues followed, after which the teacher presented prizes to the children and treated all present to candy. After complimentary remarks by the ratepayers, on the manner in which the school was conducted the scholars presented their teacher with a very appropriate gift and the following address: Miss Agnes O'Connor:—Dear Teacher,—We your pupils cannot allow this evening to pass without expressing to you our good wishes and warm appreciation to you as our teacher. Just one half year has glided by since you came amongst us and you have by your excellent qualities endeared yourself to each and every one of us. As we look back over the past we have given you much trouble in our daily tasks, yet we have always found you cheerful, patient, and ever ready to assist us and teach us day by day that which will attain to our welfare. Now dear teacher, we ask you to please accept this little gift not for its value but as a token of respect and obedience from us to show we do not forget all you have done for us and assure you we shall all strive to do better in the future. The teacher, though taken by surprise, expressed her appreciation for the kindness shown her, the examination closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

—ABRAM'S VILLAGE.— A most enjoyable whist party was held at the home of Mr. Adolphus O. Gallant on Thursday evening. In this spacious manner the players could enjoy all the comfort desired on such occasions. The contest was interesting and the result was as follows. First Prize for gents, Peter Gallant; for ladies, Miss Celina Gallant teacher. Consolation Prizes awarded to Edwin Darby and Clarice Gallant. After the distribution of prizes, a sumptuous lunch was served in the usual style characteristic of the genial hostess, Miss Loretta Gallant. The remaining part the evening was spent in music, the violin being accompanied by the organ. At a reasonable hour the crowd dispersed with gratiful wishes to the people of the house.— Several hauling frolics have taken place in Abram's Village last week, to all of which the neighbors have responded well, and as a result a considerable quantity of wood was hauled.— Mrs. Augustin Arsenault returned last week from Richmond where she was the guest of her sister Mrs. Augin J. Gallant on a few days visit.— Mrs. Lein J. Arsenault and Mrs. Mark J. Arsenault recently spent a few days visit in Summerside.— Mr. Fidele J. Gallant paid a visit to Abram's Village recently and was the guest of his brother Mr. Joseph N. Gallant and of his brother-inlaw Mr. Edhilbert Poirier. His mother at the home of his brother Joseph, who has been an invalid for several years past has of late been not as well as usual Some few days ago an item appeared from Abram's Village referring to preparations being made for a concert. The name Mr. Joseph G. Arsenault was mentioned in this connection. The item pronounced Mr. Arsenault as a "public performer of some repute" and anticipated good success, in an enterprise of this nature under his direction. The writer has since been interviewed by Mr. Arsenault, with the result that, the writer wishes to correct such a statement alluding to Mr. Arsenault. Mr. Arsenault has intimated that he never took part in any stage plays and does not wish to be styled as a public performer. The writer therefore apologizes to Mr. Arsenault for this incorrect statement. It was also observed by someone connected with the said organization that the item in its entirety should not have appeared, as no definite steps had yet been taken, in preparing the parts for the concert. —M.

War Ends De Luxe Cars

One of the results of the war is the democratization of the German railroads, at least in the southern states of the Empire. The first class cars which are used only by a comparatively small number of wealthy and exclusive travellers are to be abolished The start has been made by the state railroads of Wuerttemberg, which hereafter will only have two classes of carriages.

INDIAN RECRUITING

Red Men Make Very Capable and Cheerful Soldiers

Many of the Indian recruits for the Canadian overseas forces have come from the Muskoka, Parry Sound and Algoma districts. Out of a total population of four thousand of the Six Nations Indians in Western Ontario no fewer than three hundred are with the colors. Many others volunteered, but were refused for various reasons. The brown soldiers are great shots and many of them are used for sniping. There are no better in the Imperial army. Many of the Indians who have been refused have a tendency to consumption, but it is thought that if they were used as "snipers" and not confined to barracks or trenches their tendency to consumption would not develop. However, the risk has been considered too great.

All the officers of the Indian battalion, the 114th Haldimand, are Indians except one, and they are a magnificent body of men. It has been found convenient, if not necessary, to have Indian officers for many of the Ojibways especially cannot speak English. Besides the Indians like having their own officers. They march splendidly, much better than the average white troops, and at the end of a long day's route march they come into camp shouting and singing, and are in better spirits than when they set out. They are great chorus singers, and most of them have mouth organs which they play skilfully. Up to the middle of 1916 exactly 667 Indians had enlisted from the province of Ontario. They were distributed as follows: Ojibways 323, Iroquois, 294, and Delawares50. There were 65 from Quebec, including Iroquois 43, Ojibways 12, Micmacs 4, Hurons 3 and Abenakis 2. Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta sent 94 Sioux and Crees; 32 Micmacs from the Maritime Provinces, and five others from British Columbia and the Yukon.
