Physicians Endorse Vinol

To Create Strength and for Pulmonary Troubles.

Run-down, debilitated people, those who need strength, or who suffer from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis may find help in these letters.

Dr. C. L. Dresse, Goshen, N. Y., says: "In cases where the curative influence of cod liver oil is needed, I prescribe Vinol, which I find to be far more palatable and efficacious than other cod liver preparations. It is a worthy cod liver preparation in which a physician may have every confidence."

Dr. L. P. Bouchelle of Thomasville, Ga., says: "I have used Vinol in my family and in my general practice with the most satisfactory results. It is exceedingly beneficial to those afflicted with bronchial or pulmonary troubles and to create strength."

Dr. W. N. Rand of Evans Mills, N. Y., says: "I want to say that I have used and prescribed Vinol in my practice and it will do all you claim for it and more."

We return your money if Vinol fails to help you.

BINGIN ON THE RHINE.

(From Thursday's Evening Guardian)

(Contributed by G. Elton Waddell.) A soldier of the Legion lay dying in Algiers. There was lack of woman's nursing, there was death of woman's tears; But a comrade stood beside him, while his life blood ebbed away, And bent with pitying glances, to hear what he might say, The dying soldier faltered, as he took that comrade's hand; And he said, "I never more shall see my own, my native land; Take a message, and a token, to some distant friends of mine, For I was born at Bingin,—at Bingin on the Rhine."

Tell my brothers and companions when they meet and crowd around, To hear my mournful story, in the pleasant vineyard ground, That we fought the battle bravely—and when the day was done, Full many a corpse lay ghostly pale,—beneath the setting sun, And midst the dead and dying, were some grown old in wars,— The death wound on their gallant breast, the last of many scars; But some were young,—and suddenly beheld life's more decline,— And one had come from Bingin,—fair Bingin on the Rhine!

Tell my mother that her other sons shall comfort her old age, And I was aye a true and hardy, that thought his home a cage; For my father was a soldier, and even as a child, My heart leaped forth to hear him tell of struggles fierce and wild; And when he died, and left us to divide his scanty hoard, I let them take what'er they would,—but kept my father's sword; And with boyish love I hung it where the bright light used to shine, On the cottage wall at Bingin, calm Bingin on the Rhine.

Tell my sister not to weep for me,—and sob with dropping head; When the troops are marching home again, with glad and gallant tread; But to look upon them proudly, with a calm and steadfast eye, For her brother was a soldier, too, and not afraid to die. And, if a comrade seek her love, I ask her in my name To listen to him kindly, without regret or shame; And to hand the old sword in its place, "my father's sword and mine," For the honor of old Bingin, dear Bingin on the Rhine!

There's another—not a sister—in the happy days gone by, You'd have known her, by the merriment that sparkled in her eye; Too innocent for coquetry—too fond for idle scolding,— Ah! friend, I fear the lightest heart makes sometimes heaviest mourning! Tell her the last night of my life—(for ere this moon be risen, My body will be out of pain—my soul be out of prison.) I dreamed I stood with her, and saw the yellow sunlight shine, On the vine-clad hills of Bingin,—fair Bingin on the Rhine!

I saw the blue Rhine sweep along—I heard or seemed to hear, The German songs we used to sing, in chorus sweet and clear; And down the pleasant river, and up the slanting hill, That echoing chorus sounded, through the evening calm and still; And her glad blue-eyes were on me, as we passed with friendly talk, Down many a path beloved of yore, and well remembered walk; Her little hand lay lightly, confidently in mine, But we meet no more at Bingin,—loved Bingin on the Rhine!

His voice grew faint and hoarser,—his grasp grew ghidid weak,—His eyes put on a dying look,—he sighed and ceased to speak; His comrade bent to lift him, but the spark of life had fled,—The soldier of the Legion, in a foreign land—was dead! The soft moon rose up slowly, and calmly she looked down, On the red sand of the battlefield, with bloody corpses strewn; Yes, calmly on that dreadful sea, her pale light seemed to shine, As it shone of distant Bingin,—fair Bingin on the Rhine!

DECLINES $12,000 SALARY TO KEEP $3,000.

A Toronto clergyman, who has been in receipt of a salary of $3000 has declined an offer of $12,000 from a New York congregation, because he believes he can do more useful work in Toronto, says the Montreal Herald.

reply to charges of this kind. Men in other walks of life may go where big salaries are paid and entirely escape the charge that they care only for money. A big salary implies a big opportunity, and big opportunities and widened influence have, and properly so, as great weight with the clergy as with the laity.

Had Pimples on Face And Back Was Literally Covered With Them.

Bad blood is the direct cause of pimples breaking out on the face and body, and it is impossible to get rid of them unless you cleanse the blood of all its impurities. Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt, the very best medicine for this purpose.

This old and reliable remedy has been used for over thirty-five years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other for purifying the blood.

Mr. Peter La Pierre, Assistant Postmaster, Touchwood Hills, Sask., writes: "The fall before last, I was very much troubled with pimples on my face and back. My back was literally covered with them, and I could not lie on it at night, they were so painful. One day my sister advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got two bottles, and before I had taken all the first one, the pimples had nearly disappeared, and now I am completely cured."
