

became So Weak could Hardly Stand

Wm. Palmer, Tomahawk, Alta. Last spring I had a long illness and became so weak I could hardly stand. I could not get up at night as the least little noise would wake me up. I tried blood tonics and other nerve pills, but they did me no good, and I was getting worse. I wrote my mother about my condition, and she sent me three boxes of MILBURN'S HEART NERVE PILLS.

After the first box I was feeling much better, so I kept on until I had used three boxes, and now I feel as well as ever. I did when I was a young girl. Price 60c. a box at all dealers, or direct from receipt of price by T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

impede the natural progress of our Province. So do not let us continue in slavery by promises, but forgetting all politics let us show united front and claim that on account of the failure of the Dominion to fulfill the terms of Confederation our partnership is dissolved.

I regret Sir, that the state of my health has made this statement a little blunt and unvarnished, and that I will not be able physically, to enter into any controversy. I hope, however, that there are enough strong red-blooded men in Prince Edward Island who can force their politics long enough to grasp the opportunity now offering to make us Free, Independent and Prosperous.

There is talk of celebrating Confederation throughout Canada, but can we have one who can force their politics long enough to grasp the opportunity now offering to make us Free, Independent and Prosperous.

IF YOUR SUPPER LAYS LIKE LEAD And You Spend the Night Fighting Hobgoblins Try a little diaspain. Supper dances, fancy drinks, too much tobacco, coffee and highly seasoned dishes play havoc with the stomach. Diaspains takes the worst sort of combination of foods, settles them, absorbs the gassy, sour heartburn and you go peacefully to sleep without a struggle. It is embarrassing to have to refuse eating in company. But if you are a dyspeptic you may safely take a chance with any mixture and avoid suffering by the rule of one or two diaspains after eating. You'll get more out of life, more pleasure, more health, more strength and endurance. Steady digestion and freedom from acid-dyspepsia is guaranteed any stomach by the use of diaspains after eating. Get a 60 cent package of Paper's Diaspains at any drug store. You'll recommend it.

Happenings Of The Week

Mrs. T. B. Woodman and Mrs. H. R. Stewart were joint hostesses last Saturday at a very delightful afternoon Bridge of seven tables at the latter's lovely new home, Gartney Lodge. The hostesses were assisted in dispensing hospitality by Mrs. Leith Hodgson, Mrs. W. A. McLaren, Mrs. R. H. Duvar and Miss Helen Wakeford.

After several weeks of gay entertainment Lent was quietly ushered in Wednesday with special services in the Catholic and Anglican Churches largely attended.

Miss Dorothy Simms entertained Tuesday night at a delightful Bridge of four tables. The tea table was effectively decorated with yellow daffodils and a beautifully decorated birthday cake. Tea was poured by Mrs. (Dr.) Dewar. Miss Belle Jamieson, Miss Blanche Hughes, assisted in serving while Miss Laura Hughes cut the loes.

The Prince Street School Concert last Monday night was one of the nicest affairs for some time, proud parents, sisters, brothers and aunts crowded the Prince Edward Theatre and were most pleasantly entertained to one of the best variety programs put on for some time. The pupils and teachers are being congratulated on its success.

"Ideal for climate, for homes, and for hospitality" was the pronouncement of Mrs. Leticia Wright and Mrs. Bertha Fennell of West Medford, Mass., at a luncheon given recently at the Club California Casa Real by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Buckley in honor of the two ladies who have been spending a few weeks at the Blackstone in Long Beach as part of an extended trip which they are taking. "We like Long Beach best of any place we have visited," declared the complimented guests, who have many friends in their old home city. Others present at the luncheon were Mesdames S. B. Jones and Nellie Ward. On Thursday Mesdames Wright and Fennell entertained. Mesdames Jones, Ward, Eva Russel and Mr. and Mrs. Buckley at the Casa Real, says a Long Beach California Exchange.

The smartest suits for street and sport consist of black velvet tuxedo jacket, checked black and white wool skirt and exquisitely tailored white crepe de chine blouse.

The many friends of Mr and Mrs James M. Murlay wish them continued health and happiness in their new home at Brighton which they occupied last Monday for the first time.

Regret farewells were said this week to Mr and Mrs Ross M. Stuntz and two sons who are leaving today for their new home in Oklahoma.

Queen Mary, with fond recollections of her girlhood, has written her name with a diamond on a window pane of a Tudor farmhouse in the little old village of Walpole St. Peter, which makes no effort to keep up with the times and for years has been gradually slipping backward. The house is known as the Dovecote farm, a sixteenth century building restored by the Rev. H. C. Staveley, curate at Sandringham from 1902 to 1906, and for years a friend of the royal family. The window is in the rector's study, a room very much admired by the Queen during a recent visit. Dovecote farm is opposite the ancient Church of St. Peter. As far as the public is aware this is the first time Queen Mary has ever done anything of the kind, although the practice of writing on glass was repeatedly adopted in earlier times.

GIRL HISTORICAL WRITER

PARIS, March 5.—Miss. Martha Oulie, still in her twenties, has placed herself in the front rank of French historical writers by her brilliant study of the Prince de Ligne, one of the outstanding successes of the fall publishing season.

The Insurance Money Gave Her Time To Think

PHYSICAL culture was part of the daily routine of a P.Y.M.C.A. secretary in a western city and the Company's medical examiners considered him a splendid risk. I sold him, at different times, Mutual Life Policies amounting to $7,000.00. In 1918, when the "flu" epidemic swept the country, he was one of the first to succumb. His widow was left with a boy of two and a second boy was born three months after he died.

What was she to do? With $7,000.00 behind her, she felt her courage return. But her baby had first to be thought of and she had to wait a year before putting her plans into execution.

Then, she took a course of training with a life insurance company. She became a life insurance agent. Hard put to it, at first, she persevered to success. To-day, she owns her home and carries $10,000.00 Mutual Life Insurance in favor of her boys. She never ceases to thank me for that $7,000.00 which "gave her time to think".

Let the nearest Agent of the Mutual Life tell you about the Mutual principle and advise you as to the type of policy best suited to your needs. Or write to this Office for the Mutual Book
