TWO narrow escapes from drowning are reported from King's County. While boating in from their lobster traps on Friday evening a boat belonging to Murdoch King was upset by a squall and sunk. Fortunately the boat was close in to Launching bar and the occupants clung on to the spar which remained several feet above water, until rescued by men in a dory who came out from Manuel's and McPhee's factories. The boat was carrying all sail at the time she was upset. On Saturday afternoon Peter Fougere and Reginald Batchelor while boating in from their traps had their boats sunk off Boughton Island in the same manner. She went down in shoal water, leaving six feet of the spar projecting above the surface. It was blowing a gale from the north-west. The men held on to the spar until rescued by Charles Delorey. The men were employees of J. W. McPhee's factory, Boughton Island.

A WEEK from tomorrow two Methodist clergymen will say farewell to their St. John congregations, and one of them will preach his last sermon as an active minister. Dr. Wilson will retire from Zion pulpit and from the ministry on Sunday week, and Rev. G. M. Young of Fairville will say good-bye previous to his departure for St. Stephen. There will be other changes in the Methodist churches, Dr. Sprague of Queen square and Rev. G. M. Campbell of Centenary exchanging places. But Dr. Sprague said fare well some weeks ago and has been resting for a time. Rev. Mr. Comben taking the services in Queen square. Rev. Mr. Campbell is cutting short his pastorate by one week, for tomorrow evening he will preach his last sermon as pastor of Centenary. Rev. Mr. Campbell will leave on Monday night for Newfoundland, where he will remain for three weeks in the interests of the Canadian Bible Society.—St. John Sun 24th.
