How Sato Took The Bad News

MOSCOW, Aug. 9 — (AP) — Foreign Commissar Molotov was asked last night about the reaction of Japanese Ambassador Naotake Sato when Mr. Molotov presented him with the Russian declaration of war against Japan.

In one of the war's finest pieces of understatement, Mr. Molotov replied: "He gave the text a careful study."

M. Molotov said he gave Sato permission to send his last telegram, after which his communications with Tokyo will be closed.

The return home of the Japanese Embassy staff would depend upon the return of Soviet Embassy staff from Tokyo, he added. No meeting point has been agreed upon.

The terms "Reconstruction" means the re-establishment in civil life and re-employment on demobilization of the men and women of the armed services, persons released from war industries and the re-organization of industry, in order to provide maximum production and full employment during and following the change over from wartime production of industry to peacetime production, and includes every undertaking by Dominion, Provincial or municipal authorities or by any corporation or other person which may contribute to such re-organization.

Coordinated Action
The work of Reconstruction is, by its very nature, a national undertaking and will require the concerted action of the Federal Government, the Governments of the Provinces, the municipal authorities, industry, labor, etc. Such concerted action will be possible only if each of the various authorities and each of the various economic groups assumes its appropriate responsibilities and only if there is a complete co-ordination of the programs which may be initiated by the Dominion Government, the Governments of the Provinces, the municipalities and private enterprises.

After very careful consideration the Minister has decided that the objectives can best be obtained through the media of Regional Councils appointed under the Department of Reconstruction. In this way the activities of the Councils will at all times be in conformity with the policies of the Dominion Government. In order to co-ordinate the work of the eleven Regional Councils in the different Provinces, a central body, the Regional Councils is established with headquarters in Ottawa.

The Councils will be one of the main channels through which the Department of Reconstruction will keep interested agencies informed as to Government reconstruction policies and steps being taken by the Department of Reconstruction, and the Councils should endeavor to promote understanding of the basic considerations actuating the policies and programs of the department.

The functions of the Regional Reconstruction Councils are: To act as advisers to the Department of Reconstruction in indicating danger signals and to suggest appropriate action to be taken; to keep the Department advised of the day-to-day conditions and problems in the respective regions and to assemble information relative to such conditions and to keep such information up to date.

To act as advisers to the Department of Reconstruction in indicating danger signals and to suggest appropriate action to be taken; to keep the Department advised of the day-to-day conditions and problems in the respective regions and to assemble information relative to such conditions and to keep such information up to date.

Other Agencies
Regional Councils should inform themselves fully of the activities of all reconstruction committees and similar agencies set up by Provincial and municipal governments, Boards of Trade and other organizations. The assistance of such committees should be encouraged in localities where they do not now exist. All such agencies should be encouraged to co-operate in directing their efforts toward the common objective, namely, the maintenance of a high level of production and employment throughout the post-war period. Discussions with responsible local bodies on projects affecting reconstruction should be arranged.

Provincial and municipal authorities as well as community groups and all persons engaged in capital projects and other developments including private enterprises, which it is desired to carry out as soon as conditions of employment permit, should be encouraged to have proper plans and specifications prepared, with particular reference to work which provincial or municipal governments wish to carry out in normal course as soon as labor and materials are available and also with regard to useful works which might be initiated at times when it is desirable to increase employment in the areas concerned. In particular the Councils should explain to the appropriate bodies the urgent necessity of preparing plans and specifications for public projects at an early date so that all preliminary investigation and planning may be completed pending the execution of such projects and, further, that they emphasize the importance of timing the execution of such projects in accordance with basic employment and of co-operating with the

ELLIS - MacISAAC WEDDING

A wedding of interest to a large circle of their friends, was solemnized on Saturday evening, June 23 at 8 o'clock in St. Andrew's United Church, when Ada Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie MacIsaac, Dunblane and Kenneth Kinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ellis, West Cape, were united in marriage.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John M. Shaw. The church was tastefully and prettily decorated with orange and white flowers and potted plants. The nuptial music was played by Mrs. D. A. MacPherson, organist of the church and to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus the bride entered with her father by whom she was given in marriage. She looked very charming in her floor length gown of white sheer and matching headpiece. Both car and bouquet adorned her. The groom was supported by his cousin Mr. Lorne Ellis.

The ushers were George MacIsaac, brother of the bride and Miss Randall Bales, brother-in-law of the groom. During the signing of the register "O Promise" was sung by the choir. The bride was accompanied by Mrs. E. L. MacDougal as accompanist. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where a buffet luncheon was served to over 70 guests. Those assisting in serving were Miss Ruby MacIsaac, Miss Helen MacPherson, Miss Jessie Doris and Jean MacPherson. Miss Helen MacPherson was the bride's maid. The dining room was decorated in a pink and white color scheme and the bride's wedding cake adorned the centre of the table. The happy couple left the same evening, amid showers of rice and confetti and the good wishes of all for a honeymoon motor trip through the Maritimes.

The bride's travelling suit was Queen's Blue, with matching accessories. Mrs. Ellis is a graduate of Union Commercial Business College and previous to her marriage held a responsible position in Toronto. The groom is a successful and prosperous young farmer in West Cape. The best wishes of their many friends are extended to this popular young couple as they begin their journey of life together.

Department of Reconstruction in such timing. The functions of the Department of Reconstruction are as much the concern of the worker as of the industrialist and consultation with labor on regional problems is essential. Technical advice on matters which are the responsibility of various directors general in the Department of Reconstruction will be available through local Reconstruction Councils through representatives of such directors general within the respective regions.

Revised List of Troopship Arrivals

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 — (CP) — Defence Headquarters tonight issued a revised list of arrival dates for troop and hospital ships bringing Canadian service personnel home from Europe between now and Sept. 3 and disclosed that 335 "dependents" of Canadian servicemen also would come to Canada by that date.

An Army spokesman said these "dependents" would include mostly wives and children of personnel married overseas. A total of 294 were due on the Droghda, which will also bring 296 army personnel to Halifax Aug. 15. The others would dock at Montreal aboard merchantmen late this month.

The list was a revision of one issued Aug. 5 when it was announced that 400,000 Canadian personnel home by Sept. 3. It listed the number of army personnel aboard some ships, and the number of passengers for others. In some cases the army figure was not available.

Headquarters stressed however that this list, like the one issued Aug. 5, was "subject to change from hour to hour."

The list showed the following ships scheduled to dock at Halifax: H. M. C. S. Qu'Appelle, Aug. 10, with 90; hospital ship Letitia, Aug. 11, with 700; Droghda, Aug. 15, with 296 Army and 294 dependents; Cameronia, Aug. 15, with 3,443; hospital ship Lady Nelson, Aug. 21, with 500; Amsterdams, Aug. 23 or 25 with unknown number.

The following ships were scheduled to arrive at Montreal: Manchester Shipper, Aug. 19, with 17 dependents but no service personnel; Jamaica Producer, Aug. 20, dependents but no service personnel.

HOW TO IMPROVE QUALITY OF HAY
In producing quality hay, the time of harvest is very important, because as the plants mature there is a decrease in the percentage of protein and an increase of the fibre content. This decrease in protein content, and in clover to less than 10 per cent when fully matured. The same is true of alfalfa, except that the decrease starts at 10 per cent and is reduced to below 5 per cent when ripe. Protein is an expensive part of the ration and fibre is practically indigestible, so why not harvest the crop when the percentage of protein is high and the fibre low?

The proper time to cut alfalfa is when between 10 to 20 per cent of the plants are in bloom, says W. S. Richardson, Dominion Experiment Station, Lennoxville, P. Q. Red clover should be cut when about 25 per cent in bloom and timothy at the first bloom. As all the hay cannot be cut on the same day, it is advisable to start before these stages of maturity are reached, in order that the last fields will not be left too late. By cutting hay early this year, live-stock production will be improved next winter.

DEFENCE RESTRICTIONS GO LONDON — (CP) — The last remaining regulated area on the mainland of Britain—a region from the Clyde around the west and north of Scotland—has been freed from defence restrictions and it is possible now to travel anywhere on the English, Scottish or Welsh mainland without a permit.

MY DAILY PRAYER

O God, my daily prayer Please watch and guard Our fighting soldiers over there. Give them this day A fighting chance. To win the race By cutting hay The war to end.

When this is won Dear God, Our trumpets will blow with the news The war is over and at an end. Our people will rejoice and sing. May the lights go on again All over the world. May our soldiers return From far and near And to their loved ones so dear. With these thoughts in mind. Dear God, I pray The war to end. Dedicated to the Canadian and American soldiers overseas and at home. —Frances Noonan.
