::The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

G. T. Spriggs, Pastor in the presence of the immediate relatives of the families. The bride, who was unattended, was winsomely attired in a beautiful robe of blonde georgette with radium lace, and shoes and stockings to match. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a large bouquet of beautiful flowers. The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in brown georgette with transparent velvet. The grooms mother wore black flat crepe with radium lace. The hostess served a sumptuous supper, after which the serenaders offered their usual felicitations to the bride and groom. The presents were numerous and costly. The bride's parents gave a substantial cheque and the groom's parents presented her with a walnut bedroom suite, plus the complete furnishings of a bedroom the color scheme being in blue. The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold pendant, set with crystals, with the ear-rings to match. Mr. and Mrs. Moase motored that evening to their beautiful new home in New Annan where the groom is a prosperous farmer. Mrs. Moase was attired in brown flat crepe dress with hat and accessories to match. Her coat was brown broad cloth trimmed with Russian Sable. The following evening the young people neighbors and friends of the groom, tendered them a shower of many beautiful and costly gifts. —SUMMERSIDE TOWN COUNCIL MEETING — An adjourned meeting of the S'side Town Council was held on Monday evening, Mayor Manson presiding. Councillors present were Bell, Schurman, McNeill, Grady and Phillips. Tenders for coal were read and considerable discussion took place before Mr. Don McFarlane's tender of $8.25 per ton was accepted, on motion of Coun. Bell, McNeill and Schurman voting for the motion. Coun. Phillips and Grady voted for Messrs. Read & Co's tender of $8.50 per ton. This motion was defeated by Coun. Bell, McNeill and Schurman. A letter from the Fire Department, asking for new uniforms for six firemen was laid over until the next regular meeting. Some discussion took place in regard to the proposed air port for Summerside. This matter had been placed before the Council at their regular meeting on Nov. 14th by a delegation from the Board of Trade, who suggested that the present landing field be purchased by the Town. Mayor Manson told the Council Board that he had asked the Recorder whether it was within the powers of the Town Council to buy land for such purposes and the Recorder promised to look up the matter. Mayor Manson thought that until the Council knew whether they had any authority to make the air port a municipality concern that they could do nothing and the matter was laid over until after the Recorder had given his decision.—S.

Queensland

Political Front

Queensland's new Labor administration has now settled down to its difficult task, and some important changes and innovations have already taken place, although Parliament does not officially meet for some weeks yet. The actual state of parties was settled definitely early last month when the Hamilton electorate went to the Country Progressive National party, leaving Mr. Forgan Smith with a voting power of 33 members, the Opposition 28, and one Independent.

Back to Work

One of the most outstanding decisions of the new Cabinet in furtherance of its "back to employment" campaign, was a scheme launched to grant to local authorities a subsidy of up to £ for £ on approved works. In addition the Government will be prepared to lend to local authorities money to carry out works schemes. Under a £100,000 plan for assisting the building industry, the Government proposes to make loans up to £300 available for internal and external repairs to dwelling houses. There will be no income restrictions on recipients.

Relief Tax

The Government has also decided to increase the unemployment relief tax, making the scale of payments a graduated one. Incomes up to £104 a year will pay 3d in the £; from £105 to £208, 6d, in the £; from £209 to£499, 9d. in the £; and £500 and over 1s. in the £. The new scale takes effect on August 1, the present rates being 3d in the £ on incomes up to £104, and 6d in the £ on incomes above £104 a year.

The Government's deficit for the financial year ended on June 30, was £2,075,180; in the previous financial year the deficit was £842,044. It is interesting to note that for the year ended June 30, the Brisbane City Council had a surplus of £34,235 in the city fund, compared with a deficit of £222,000 for the six months ended June 30, 1931.

Gold Discovery

Remarkable claims are being made for the new Cracow gold field, near Eidsvold. It is said that over a length of three miles by widths varying from 10 feet to 300 feet, the field carries persistent ore bodies assaying more than paying for gold. The Minister for Mines (Mr. J. Stopford), who recently spent some time at Cracow, hopes that the field will develop into one of great value to the State, and many prominent geologists have given flattering reports.

Rich Claims

The recent crushings from several claims—amounting in one case to 84oz. of gold and 20oz. from the tailings, to a ton—has caused little less than a sensation in the city. When 200,000 shares in one holding were offered to the public on the Brisbane Stock Exchange the other day, they were oversubscribed in two hours. Other claims and holdings have been sold for small fortunes; three prospectors sold out their claim for £60,000, and another man was offered £75,000 for his claim, but is holding out for £125,000. The general opinion seems to be that the field will be permanent.

Search for Gold

One of the best equipped expeditions which ever set out exploring for gold left Brisbane a few weeks ago by motor trucks. This was a party under the leadership of Mr. C. H. Chapman, of Roma. It consisted of some 20 young men, including a metallurgist, surveyors, assayers, prospectors, engineers, motor mechanics, a tinsmith and plumber, moving picture photographer, wireless operator and well borers. The expedition was wished good luck on its departure by the Governor (Sir Leslie Wilson), the Lord Mayor (Alderman J. W. Greene) and a large crowd of citizens.

The party will explore parts of Queensland and Central Australia for gold. A reconnaissance party will go ahead of the main company to locate the best line for a motor track, clearing the way where necessary. In country where there is no surface water, it is proposed to sink bores. An aeroplane is also at the service of the company, but the machine will remain in Brisbane until the expedition reaches the interior and is ready to strike into new country.

The whole of the outlay of the party amounts to about £5000, each member contributing £50 or giving the equivalent in equipment. The State Government is assisting the expedition to the extent of £50 in transit costs and a number of free railway passes.

Trade With East

Australia, alone among the important countries of the world, has so far refused to conclude a trade treaty with Japan. The Senate of the University of Queensland recently deputed Dr. A. C. V. Melbourne, lecturer in economics and colonial history, to investigate the commercial possibilities of the East to Australia, and the result of his mission has just been published in the form of a careful and voluminous report. Among other things, Dr. Melbourne reommends that negotiations should be opened with the Government of Japan, having for their purpose the conclusion of a commercial agreement between Japan and Australia, such agreement to embody the following concessions:—(a) On the part of the Commonwealth, the admission of Japanese products to Australia on the rates provided by the intermediate tariff; (b) on the part of Japan, the admission of Australian products to the Japanese Empire on the most-favored-nation basis and the reduction of specific duties on certain products in which Australia has a peculiar interest.

Forward Exchange

Other important recommendations in the report refer to forward exchange. It is absolutely certain, writes Dr. Melbourne, that Australian commercial relations with the countries of the East are seriously embarrassed by Australian banking practice, which keeps Australian currency tied to sterling. This is all the more unfortunate because there is no real obstacle in the way of establishing direct rates of exchange between Australia and the financial centres of the East. He recommends that the Commonwealth Bank be requested to establish an exchange department, which would engage in forward transactions, covering the periods of time and the amounts required by merchants trading between Australia and the East.

For the last five years Queensland's output of butter has represented a total value of more than 29 million pounds. Approximately 37 million pounds is invested in dairy farms, including stock, in the State, and butter exported for the year 1931-1932 represented some 4 million pounds to the credit of the State's trade balance. These facts were revealed at a recent conference of the Butter and Cheese Factory Managers and Secretaries' Association of Queensland.

Lower Cost of Living

It now takes 4/ less in Queensland to purchase the same amount of food and groceries that would have cost £1 in 1928, while an amount of rent for all houses costing £1 in 1928, can now be purchased for 4/2 less, according to figures issued by the Registrar-General's department. The fall in prices this year, when compared with 1931, 1930, 1929 and 1928, has been 4.80, 13.14, 21.18 and 20.34 per cent. respectively.
