AUTRY'S NEW FILM AN EXCITING STORY OF WILD STALLION

Columbia's new Gene Autry starer, "The Strawberry Roan," will be the next attraction at the Capitol Theatre opening there today.

It's all about a wild outlaw stallion, branded a killer, and the man who took on all comers to win justice for the noble animal.

In this picture, the singing cowboy's famous horse Champion, almost takes the spotlight away from his master.

Important supporting roles are played by lovely Gloria Henry, veteran actor Jack Holt, Dick Jones (one-time Henry Aldrich of radio fame) and Pat Buttram, famous radio comedian.

The Dwight Cummings-Dorothy Yost screenplay tells of the capture of the roan, his throwing of the youngster who tries to "break" him and the killer brand he gets as a result.

LEND-LEASE COSTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 — (AP) — President Truman told Congress today wartime lend-lease shipments to 38 Allies cost the United States $50,206,229,788.

On discussion of the Fire Department, Councillor Coffin was asked to present a report on the fire equipment in present use.

It was decided to call for tenders for the position of town policeman, who would serve full time on street, fire and police work.

This was moved by Councillor Beck, seconded by Councillor White.

Families Rave about this Swans Down Spice Cake

Feather-light, down-soft and melting, here's the kind of cake you dream of making. And it's so easy to enjoy cakes like this—always—if you use Swans Down Cake Flour.

Swans Down is made by cake-flour specialists, expressly to make better cakes. Milled by a "Controlled Milling" process from wheat selected for its soft, tender gluten, Swans Down is sifted again and again until superbly even, and 27 times as fine as ordinary flour.

If a cake is worth making it's worth making with Swans Down CAKE FLOUR

CAKE TALK

Today I'd like to give you two little hints that will help you quite a lot in making better cakes every time you bake.

The first I learned a long time ago, from a professional baker—and I've found that women like very much the results they get when they follow this suggestion.

If you are making a butter-type cake, take the butter or shortening... the eggs... and the milk... from the refrigerator, an hour before you start to make your cake.

Try that next time you make a cake. Your ingredients will blend better, to give even, finer texture in both crust and crumb... the eggs will beat up lighter, to give better volume.

Now for my second cake-making suggestion. When your recipe calls for eggs by number, it's best to use eggs of average size.

80 pages packed with success-making cake information... wonderful recipes... full-color photographs. Send 20¢ in coins, postal note, or stamps, with your name and address, to Dept. 12-B General Foods, Limited, Cobourg, Ontario.

OXSTERS CAN SNIFF Oysters have a sense of smell which they use to test the purity of sea water.
