—BEDEQUE AND VICINITY.—Mrs. James Wade nee Helen Schurman of North Adams is visiting her mother Mrs. Albert Schurman of Central Bedeque who we regret to say continues in very poor health.—The young people and children are having their Xmas tree in Central Bedeque Hall, Wednesday evening, Xmas with Santa and his good cheer is indeed a wonderful time for the little ones more especially so now that Santa's cheery voice is heard nightly over the various radios.—The Bedeque musical circles are working overtime these days. Three active units viz: The Bedeque Choral Society, The Men's Glee Club and the Bedeque Orchestra are having weekly practices under the direction of Dr. J. J. Sibley.—They are also contributing to Xmas programme which is advertised for Dec. 29th. Music lovers are looking for a real treat as these entertainers put on a very attractive programme from Moncton in November.—Miss Lillian Donald who was a very popular teacher in Bedeque for three years, recently paid us a visit from her home in Moncton. She plans to leave shortly for the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal for nurse's training course.—The Central Bedeque rink is now covered with a good sheet of ice and we are looking for an early opening, announcement probably Friday night.—Central Bedeque has a gay crowd of young people just now, teachers and students home for the holidays. Among them are Henry Mcyse from Mt. Allison, Ross Wright from P. W. C., Jennie Johnston from P. W. C., Kathleen Frizzle from teaching at Chelton, Hester Inman from teaching at Freetown and Doris Muncy from teaching at Middleton.

—PRESENTATION.—The usually quiet home of Mr. H. P. McNeill secretary of Travellers Rest school was surprisingly invaded on the evening of Dec. 18, when the Trustees, accompanied by some fifty or more of the resident ratepayers came in to spend a social evening, and to give special honor to Mr. McNeill. After all the visitors had assembled Mr. Talmadge Montgomerie, chairman of Trustees, called the nature of their visit, then called on Mr. Harold Moase, the genial young merchant of New Annapolis, who read the following address: Mr. Hubert McNeill, Travellers Rest, Our Dear Friend.—Although at times, such as this, it is very hard to express our real feelings in mere words, yet, in short, we would say that the purpose of this gathering is to manifest our appreciation of the efficient service you have rendered (these many years) as Secretary of Travellers Rest school. Through your kind personality and capable management as secretary, your duty done as a citizen, as a neighbor and kind friend, in other words, having so genuinely acted the man for everything favoring advancement and peace in our district you have well earned that coveted remark, "He is a man!" What a record! The symbolism at Christmastide has much to do with human love, friendship, and affection; so that it is only fitting our "long" esteem of your personal efforts on our behalf should materialize at this time, consequently we ask you to accept this gift, not remember, for it's intrinsic value, but rather as a slight token of our admiration and appreciation of the part you have so ably and honestly played among us. Trusting this small gift and accompanying short address shall be acceptable to you and wishing you and your family a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, we are, Ratepayers of Travellers Rest School District. Needless to say, Mr. McNeill was completely taken by surprise for not until the reading of

MOORE & McLEOD LIMITED

$150,000 Spent For Building Operations In Year 1925

Building operations in this city for the year 1925 reached the dimensions of a small building boom, and approximately $150,000 was spent in the erection of new buildings, and the remodelling and repairing of old ones. Among the more important contracts were the DeBlois apartments, a four apartment building on Water Street, constructed by Cudmore and Webster, and "Bonahinley" the large residence on Longworth Avenue being built for Mr. W. C. S. McLare by MacDougall and MacAulay, and now in course of completion. Two large warehouses have also been erected during the year, namely: DeBlois warehouse on Full's Wharf constructed by Vall Bros., and the W. H. Aitken warehouse near the Imperial oil tanks, built of corrugated iron, and constructed by Mr. Thomas Harper. Another apartment building, the remodelled Morris residence on Water Street, is now in course of construction by Cudmore and Webster, and will be completed in the near future.

Among the residences erected during the year are the following:

- By MacDougall and MacAulay: house for Mr. Raoul Raymond at Southport; house for Mr. Fred Ross at Keppoch; house for Mr. H. R. Stewart, Spring Park Road.
- By Cudmore and Webster: house for Mr. Frank Clarke on Upper Prince Street; house for Mr. Geo. Vickerson on Upper Hillsboro St., House for Miss Bertha Dose, The Esplanade.

—EASTERN NOTES.—On Xmas night a crowd of young people gathered at the home of Mr. Douglas McIntyre to welcome back Misses Annie and Florence Deagle students of St. Mary's Convent, Souris. The evening was spent in singing hymns and songs. The party ended by wishing them many happy wishes for the coming season.—Miss Annie Deagle and sister Florence are spending the Christmas holidays at the home of their uncle, Mr. Douglas McIntyre, Fairfield.—Mr. and Mrs. W. Longaphie were visiting in this city during Xmas holidays the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Lapiere, Grafton St., City.—Mr. John Aufferly of this city spent Christmas with his uncle John Doucette of East Point.—Mr. Stephen Lapiere of Boston spent Christmas among his friends at Red Point and will return to Boston after the holidays.—Mr. John Aufferly has returned from Tignish where he spent the week end, the guest of Mr. Joseph McInnis, Tignish.—Miss Julian McInnis of Red Point spent Christmas holidays at her home. Miss McInnis is sales-lady of Mr. Pool's store Souris.

LORD ROSEBERY

House On Cliff Ordered Moved

FOLKESTONE, Eng., Dec. 29.—The chalet here of Lady Sybil Middleton, which is balancing on the edge of a cliff is to be moved by order of the Mayor, Lady Sybil, sister of Lord Grey, built the chalet, with the corporation's consent, on the cliff along which runs Folkestone's famous civic promenade, where she could enjoy the sunbath and see far over the water. Some of those who objected to the presence of the chalet on city property are declared to have gone so far on several occasions as to attempt to push it over the cliff. Mr. regarders of the fact that the titled owner was inside.

COUGHING!
Take half a teaspoon of Minard's internally in molasses. Eases the throat, stops the cough.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

A Victorian statesman who still prefers Victorian ways. He frequently drives an Epsom Downs in a horse-drawn carriage with a postilion rider on one of its two riders. Although he is seventy-eight, and owns cars, he prefers the quaint, old-fashioned method of transportation.

Birkenhead Told To Control Tongue

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Blunt intimations have been given to Lord Birkenhead that unless he can control his vituperative language in the House of Lords he cannot hope to remain Secretary of State for India.

Even his friends in his own party have been scandalized by Lord Birkenhead's recent savage attacks upon Lords Danesfort, Oxford, Haldane and Arnold.

Even his cabinet colleagues are openly criticizing him, saying that the House of Lords does not want soap-box orators and pointing out that his methods tend to discredit the Government.

The Conservatives of York have placed themselves on record in open condemnation of Birkenhead's intemperate language, particularly his references to the "imbecility" of his opponents in the House of Lords.

Sir Samuel Hoare

parsnips and turnips frequently send their roots down ten feet, these scientists have discovered. The roots of pumpkins and squashes, often growing at the rate of 2 to 2.5 inches a day, reach as far from the base of the plant as the widely spreading vines, often fifteen to eighteen feet.

The lettuce also is shown to be a thirsty plant, its roots reaching depths of six to seven feet. The tap root of only a half-grown beet were found to have shot downward five feet, the root branches spreading three feet on all sides.

These scientists, in conjunction with F. E. Clements, also found a high mortality in the struggles of plants to gain a livelihood. Observing plants shooting up from the Nebraska prairie, they discovered that their crowding occasionally has resulted in mortality as high as eighty to ninety-eight per cent.

"Thus the old struggle of existence going on quietly and quite unnoticed is vividly portrayed," the scientists state. "The ultimate object of pitting various kinds of grasses and herbs in these battles for supremacy is to trace out what has actually occurred in the past and to account for the present grouping and interrelation of plants."
