DRAW TOURIST TRAFFIC

Concrete highway near Midland, Ontario

PERMANENT CONCRETE HIGHWAYS

A worth-while asset to any community

Traffic follows the line of least resistance: it seeks the roads along which it can flow with the greatest degree of safety and comfort. So, is naturally heaviest on concrete roads and communities offering them benefit accordingly.

Concrete paving offers other very tangible values. It will "dress up" any neighborhood: make it more liveable. It facilitates rapid transit between places. It provides a desirable element of fuel and tire economy to motorists.

Concrete needs little upkeep. Over a period it will make any given budget more productive of NEW MILEAGE. Advocate it at every opportunity.

BEDEQUE

One of the most interesting and instructive debates ever held in the General Bedeque Hall was held on Wednesday evening, May 27th to a very large and appreciative audience. This was the semi-final debate between the Young Peoples Society of North Bedeque and the Young Peoples Society of Centreville Bedeque.

The subject was Resolved That A union of the Maritime Provinces would be beneficial to Prince Edward Island. The North Bedeque Society upheld the Affirmative side with the following speakers: Captain, Mr. Austin J. Jardine, assistant speakers, Miss Florence McCaull and Mr. Wilbert Stavert. The Negative Side was upheld by the Centreville Bedeque Society, the speakers being Captain, Mr. Irving Toombs, assistant speakers, Mrs. Ralph Callbeck and Mr. Horace Wright. The judges were: Mrs. Nell MacLeod, of Summerside; Mr. Robert Gordon, of Summerside; and Mr. Louis Cairns. Mr. Emmerson of Huestis ably presided at the chair. The speeches were the best ever prepared and given by these Societies. The subject, brought forth very interesting points for our people on Prince Edward Island. The judges had some difficulty in summoning up the points as the Affirmative side upheld their side to almost equal with that of the negative. However, the surplus in points were on the Negative side, the Centreville Bedeque Society. Congratulatory remarks were made by the Chairman, Mr. Emmerson Huestis of Wilmot Valley, and Mr. Horace Wright, Lower Bedeque. The Captains of the debates, Mr. J. Austin Jardine, North Bedeque, and Mr. Irving Toombs, Centreville Bedeque, made some complimentary remarks, congratulated their opponent team on their success in winning the debate and to the other team, in having prepared such excellent speeches. A vote of thanks was tendered by the Chairman to the three judges and to all the speakers who spared no time in preparing their matter. As a special solist at the opening of the debate, Miss Winnifreda Wright, Lower Bedeque, rendered very beautifully "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." The large audience which gathered to give their support to these growing Societies, were fully repaid by the splendid effort of the speakers on the debate, people having come from Summerside, Tryon, Freetown and Carleton. The Centreville Bedeque Society won in the "debate" carried on by the different Societies and it looks like they intend to carry on this good work. The closing number of a very successful evening's entertainment was the singing of the National Anthem.

CHARLOTTETOWN

In Summer's golden midst I saw thee first
Fair city, smiling o'er a wealth of waves;
When from "the Hochelaga's" distant deck mine eyes
Paid homage to the isle that Neptune laves.
Prince Edward; crescent brooch the great Gulf chokes
To nestle in her bosom's gentle strength;
Where deep-throb heart-throb with each swelling shows
Her pride in this, her loveliest ornament.
Thy beauty charmed my soul ere ever stepped
My foot upon thy glowing eastern shore;
Like maiden's cheek tinged with its healthy blood,
Rich thro' the earth the red life stream doth pour.

Here in these hall our infant Nation lay,
Of Nature blest, with Royalty's acclaim;
Here statesmen conference held which echoed the seas o'er
In that loved Mother Isle of glorious fame.
What other lures our burgeoning city holds
The peace-deserting wanderer's heart to soothe;
Unworried Time a vision fleet unfolds
Of marvellous rest and life's delight renewed.

Intermaritime Rifle Practice

Practices for the Inter-maritime Rifle match which will be held at Halifax on June 11th will commence this afternoon.

Coach F. G. Kennedy will be at the Rifle Range at 2 o'clock for the purpose of testing the grouping of the various rifles. For this purpose a miniature Rifle range is being prepared under the direction of Allan McCabe. Rifles are fired from a fixed rest at 50 yards and the group of shots measured. The extreme variation in a good rifle should not be over one inch. On Monday, Wednesday, Saturday and the following Monday of the next week try-out matches will be held at which those desiring to take places on the team are expected to shoot. Coach Kennedy will be present every afternoon at two o'clock for the purpose of squading the competitors and supervising the shooting.

For those who desire to get in more practice, arrangements have been made to open the range every afternoon next week.

CALIFORNIA SPORTSMEN MIGRATE TO OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—(U.P.)—Oregon may become California's sportsmen's paradise.

The state Chamber of Commerce reports that from 15 to 20 real estate transactions a day for Oregon property involve Californians. Many of the sales are in Southern Oregon, fishermen's paradise.

Numerous estates along the famed Rogue river are owned by California sportsmen who come annually to enjoy angling in President Hoover's favorite stream. Game abounds in this section.

Some of the California buyers maintain large farms for fruit and dairy cattle. Others build their vacation residences on the very banks of the streams. Through recent legislative action, Rogue river was closed to commercial fishing in the interest of sport.
