Young Man Was Proud Parent, and Didn't Care Who Knew It.

There was no booth in the corner drug store. The young man at the telephone therefore could be heard by all the customers who ranged about the soda water fountain.

"Everything is all right," he was saying. "Ma'am? "Yes'm. Eleven pounds. Beautiful boy. Like me, they say.

"Ma'am? "Yes'm. Resting quietly. Would have sent for you, but thought it best not to. Didn't want to worry you.

"Ma'am? "Yes'm. I'll attend to all that. "Ma'am? "Yes'm. I'll tell her you're coming down right away. Beautiful boy.

"Ma'am? "Yes'm. Eleven pounds and looks just like me." He rang off and walked proudly out of the drug store apparently oblivious to the smiling countenances of his interested listeners ranged around the soda fountain.

Vintage Nicknames.

We have nicknames for the vintages which few persons except the wine-drinkers know. Thus the vintage of the present year we call Zeppelin, in honor of the air navigator's achievement and because it is so high.

The sour wine of 1860 was called Garibaldi, and in memory of the Chinese war the 1894 wine is still known as Wei-haiwei.

The vintage of 1896 promised much and gave little, and was nicknamed Li Hung Chang, and another nickname for the same year's wine, Moses, was given because the wine was taken from the water principally.

Ghosts in Scottish Houses. Scotland is rich in ghost lore. There is, perhaps, hardly a castle or ruin which has not some special story clinging to it.

Old and New. The penny—or two-cent—post between England and America is a new and at the same time a very old thing. It is over 200 years old. It existed in 1698.

In those days shipmasters crossing the Atlantic either way were very glad to carry letters and messages. A week or two before their ships sailed they would hang up bags in coffee houses, and all letters dropped into these bags were carried over seas and faithfully delivered at the rate of a penny, or two cents, apiece.

This colony was actually founded at a place still known as Puerto Escondido, but its people were subsequently forced by the Spaniards to evacuate and return to Scot-

OIL TRUST CONSIGNED TO PERDITION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Jeff Davis, of Arkansas, started the Senate today with the declaration that he would like to see John D. Rockefeller consigned to perdition and burned in the flames caused by the consumption of the products of the Standard Oil Company.

He spoke in opposition to a bill authorizing an oil and gas pipe line across the public lands of Arkansas. Accessing Senator Owen, sponsor of the bill, of a business connection with the Standard Oil Company, he engaged in a spirited colloquy with that Senator.

The bill was passed at a previous session of the Senate and was recalled by Mr. Owen to accommodate Mr. Davis. In his speech Mr. Davis contended that the admission of the pipe line into Arkansas would violate the anti-trust laws of his state.

He said that hades was the only place he would be willing to see the Standard Oil Company's pipe line, and that he would be glad to see Mr. Rockefeller incinerated in the flames caused by his own oil.

Mr. Owen denied all connection with the Standard Oil Company and said that the oil in Oklahoma could be got out only through pipe lines crossing Arkansas.

On the passage of the bill Mr. Davis cast the only negative vote.

Old Folks Coughs

Because Resisting Power is Weak Pneumonia Often Follows.

Tells of a Sure Cure and a Never-failing Comfort for Colds, Coughs, Catarrh.

One of the worst terrors of old age is that distressing chronic cough. Colds settle in chest, are wrongly treated with drug-laden and chest-weakening cough syrups, and from year to year the condition has grown worse.

Formerly the cough went away when the fine weather came, but now bad weather makes it worse and fits of racking, tearing, coughing make life a burden.

Because you are old is no reason for suffering with everlasting coughing—those terrible chest troubles, and difficult breathing can be thoroughly cured with Catarrhazone.

You simply breathe the healing vapor of Catarrhazone and instantly its rich balsamic fumes are carried by your breath into the tiniest recesses of the nose, throat, chest, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Just think of it—a direct breathing medicine, full of soothing antiseptic pine essence, that reaches every sore congested membrane in two seconds. No drugs to take—nothing to harm the aged or the infant, because Catarrhazone is the purest, safest cough, catarrh and cold remedy ever devised.

Mrs. M. E. Walford, wife of a well-known farmer in East Shefford, writes: "For three years I suffered with a hard racking cough and bronchial irritation which annoyed me so much at night I couldn't sleep. I tried many remedies, catarrh tablets, sprays, syrups, etc, but they only helped for a short time. Catarrhazone brought me wonderful comfort from the first. I inhaled its balsamic fumes every hour or two and am now free from any trace of cold, bronchitis and catarrh. I can go out in all kinds of weather and don't take cold."

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhazone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substituter. Large Catarrhazone lasts two months, price $1.00; smaller sizes 25c. and 50c.

ANTIQUITIES MADE TO ORDER.

Switzerland Proves Itself in No Way Behind the Rest of the World in This Connection.

Switzerland will have an additional attraction this season for the tourists. "The one hundredth anniversary of the struggle for independence will be celebrated, and the thrifty inhabitants of the little republic," says an American tourist, "always watchful for the coin, are making great preparations for the various celebrations.

Aside from the pageant and other civic festivities, they are laying in a stock of historic souvenirs, for which they know there will be a ready market. An Innsbruck paper says that one of the popular manufactured antiquities is the Swiss flag of a hundred years ago.

A new one is made to resemble a centurion by a process which includes fading the colors in the sun, bespattering it with tallow and laying it in the granary, where the mice soon give it the necessary tattered appearance. Finally it is subjected again to the rays of Father Sun, is mounted on a worn-eaten, broken staff, and is then ready for the English or American tourist in search of centennial trophies."

Saving an Ancient Fresco.

It is not only in this country that church restorers are allowed to do much as they like. An interesting story comes from Hal. The church is under restoration, and the workmen came across traces of a fresco. Its existence had been unknown, and according to the plans the plaster was to come away. Fortunately a townsman knew a process by which the plaster could be taken off intact on canvas. He obtained permission to make the experiment, and it has been carried out with success. He is said to be now the possessor of a valuable fifteenth-century painting. The Brussels museum authorities have learned of the existence of the painting, and they are endeavoring to prevent the alienation of this interesting work of the middle ages.—London Globe.

Robins' Curious Nesting Places.

The two robins which have built their nest in the cover of a meter at the Market Drayton Electric Light works have many precedents in the choice of unconventional nesting places. A year or two ago a robin's nest was built on a book shelf in a night nursery at Chiselhurst which was occupied without interruption by a nurse and child. Four eggs were laid, and two young birds were hatched out. Two other robins built their nest on the axle of a colliery wagon in daily use at Seghill, in Northumberland. Among other curious recent nesting places have been the breast pocket of a scarecrow at Ashbourne, a nail box in a village forge, the skeleton of a crow, and the rifle range butts at Titchhurst, Sussex.—Westminster Gazette.

Buried Treasures in Morocco.

In Morocco it is customary for a man to bury most of his riches in a place known only to himself. This custom is practiced by all Moors, for they cannot trust their own family, who would murder them directly it was known where the money was.

At the death of the head of a family in Morocco digging operations commence at once, but seldom is the money discovered. There must be many fortunes buried away in odd corners of the country. An instance came under the writer's notice at one of the coast towns. During the demolition of a house a considerable sum of money was found built into the wall.

THE MORNING PAPER.

Some Reasons Why it Makes The Best Advertising Medium.

A woman's curiosity to know about society, marriages, births, deaths, forces her to read it. The Morning Paper is before her all day long, and it is she who is doing her household duties, arranging and improving the appearance of her home, that the missing and necessary articles of furniture, rugs, carpets, curtains or other necessities, show up the plainest, and there could be no more opportune time for a dealer to talk about the new goods, the new styles and the bargains offered, for the day or week.

In a majority of homes the newspaper is practically the bulk of the reading matter, and the long, all-day life from 5 a. m. to 10 p. m. of The Morning Paper gives not only the housewife but every member of the family an opportunity to read it.

The Morning paper is read at the breakfast table, again at home at noon, on the trains, in the restaurants. It is read in doctor's offices, professional offices, clubs, hotels, cafes, barber shops. It is read by daylight everywhere you go by both employer and employee.

It is a known fact that throughout the world, possibly with a half-dozen exceptions, the papers with editorial influence and national reputation are Morning Papers.

With these facts in mind, the business man who is looking after the real money-spenders of the family to interest in his goods will consult his best interests by placing his announcements where the women will read them.

Threatened With Diabetes

Happy Escape From Kidney trouble.

The life of a man on the road is not all sunshine. Late travelling, excessive use of rich and sweet foods at hotel tables, too much smoking and the strain of getting business makes it a strenuous life. This is the experience of Mr. H. F. Hardy, written from his home in London: "Late last spring I noticed I was losing strength. I had a great thirst for water and my kidneys were unduly active. Some months earlier I suffered vague pains in the small of the back, was more or less sleepless, and my nerves were more or less on edge. I started to build up—took a box of Ferrozine, which quickly made me feel so much better. I cut out sweets, sugar and starchy foods, and took Ferrozine tablets with each meal. The results were surprising. A renewal of my health and vigor started up that was quite surprising. I lost that intense thirst that made me crave for water, all the time. I wasn't laid up a single day, and attribute my success and robust health entirely to 'Ferrozine.'"

When a man is run-down, nervous, starting up and out of sorts, when he lacks power to stay at things, and the sight of a good meal fails to excite his appetite—these are the surest signs that his condition demands two Ferrozine Tablets at meals. No other tonic so strength-giving and invigorating—try it, 50c a box, six for $2.50, all dealers or The Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Canada.
