CHARLOTTETOWN Male Chorus in beautiful Irish Airs, Prince Edward Theatre, March 16th and 17th. 8353-3-11-31

"SWEET VANITY"—The Guardian's serial story of the modern girl begins this week. Watch out for the opening chapter.

FURTHER PARTICULARS—The hostesses at the Crystal chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star afternoon tea last Friday were Mrs. Samuel French and Mrs. Wm. Batt. The table was decorated with yellow daffodils and Mrs. (Dr.) Rogerson won the ladies first prize. Delightful music was furnished during the afternoon by Miss Mae Sterns and Miss Annie Watson. Two solos were also pleasingly given by Miss Margaret Sterns.

Fiddlers Contest

On the eve of Feb. 26th, the portals of Kelly's Cross' spacious hall were drawn aside to admit an audience whose magnitude was never exceeded on former occasions. Over four hundred were seated, while standing space was at a premium. The embodiment of this universal and magnetic attraction emanated from "An Old Time Fiddling and Stepdancing Contest," held under the auspices of the Catholic Women's League. Much credit is due this active group of femininity, whose untiring efforts, vigorous energy, and intelligent foresight, under the capable leadership of their competent and progressive president, Mrs. John H. Nantes, were greatly responsible for the conception and bringing into being of this unique event—an absolute novelty in this locality.

The excellent order, characteristic of St. Joseph's parish, prevailed throughout the entire social evening; and the interested listeners were spellbound by the captivating strains of the melodious "old-time reels," and the graceful, dexterous and subtle step-dancing of the various contestants. It seemed difficult for ordinary mentality to discern who should be decorated with the laurels; but the judges, judiciously chosen, handled the situation artfully and efficiently, arriving at a decision which seemed, by the hearty applause, to be in conformity with the general consensus.

A dainty lunch was then served by these generous women to the contestants and those participating and assisting in the success of the evening. Subsequently, old and young tripped the light fantastic toe until the wee sma' hours of time. Deep gratitude is cheerfully extended to the "Crapaud Buckle Busters," who generously assisted in the furnishing of the music, whose effect was sufficient to convey you mentally from the "clutches of old man depression," into the "Elysian fields" of jollity.

The following are the prize winners: Fiddlers—1st, Clifford Ferran, Crapaud; 2nd, Joseph Costello, Tyrone. Step-dancing—Gents' 1st, Amos Costello, Emyvale; 2nd, John Costello, Emyvale; Ladies' 1st, Helen Costello, Tyrone; 2nd, Gertrude Costello, Tyrone; 3rd, Margaret Hennessy, Charlottetown.

The judges were: Rev. Father McDonald, Summerfield; Leo Berrigan, West River; Adrian Rogerson, Crapaud. Congratulations are extended to all except "old man weather" who continually kept throwing "a wet blanket" of snow on the environment, but failed to dampen the spirits of even the timid, for the entertaining and affable manner in which another link was forged in the golden chain of sociability.

A plastic rivet that seals the hole when heated to a temperature of 200 degrees has been invented to replace screws in fastening lenses in rimless eye-glasses.

"Acts Like a Flash" COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS

It all depends on you! If you want to be rid of your stubborn cold and be up and doing in a few hours, you'll ask your druggist for a bottle of Buckley's mixture and take it as directed.

That tough old hang-on cough that nothing seems to help is an easy task for Buckley's after just the first sip you'll know it's on its way out. Buckley's acts like a flash, 70 per cent of Canadians use it for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and all other respiratory troubles—it loosens things up, it neutralizes the acid content of the throat, it soothes the inflamed lining, it breaks up the phlegm, it is free from anything harmful. For your health's sake demand Buckley's for cheap imitations are numerous.

Islanders in Cambridge And Massachusetts

These parts of the New England territory have experienced very wintery weather during the last two weeks with an abundance of snow and high winds, which have brought a decided chill to the atmosphere, but the change has not been unwelcome, as many say it is much better for trade and business of all kinds; better also for health and the agricultural districts claim that it is best for the soil in view of another season.

The change in weather conditions is nothing to the flurry created by the financial crisis which came on us like an earthquake on Saturday last, finding multitudes with little or no money in their homes and every bank closed tight, so that no cash was available anywhere. Neither the morning newspapers nor the radio messages having made any reference to the crisis, many were on their way to the banks for their supply to meet the usual expenditures of the week end, when they first learned of the crash that had overtaken the money market of the nation. The mass of the people however, are not "panicky," but calm and confident, feeling that the Presidential proclamation of the bank holiday week, is a wise provision in the circumstances and that a readjustment of the financial status of the country must now be made. "And now at least hope!"

"There ain't no money fur nothin'," a boy said in Cambridge on Sunday last, "but we got our breakfast this morning and expect our supper to-night," and "we're all going to Sunday school and Church just the same." Good boy for sure!

A very interesting assemblage of ministerial and lay representatives of the Calvinistic Church of New England, commonly known as the "Greater Presbyterian Day" took place on Thursday last in the Presbyterian Church of Brookline. Notwithstanding the severe weather, many ministers and laity came from different localities and spent a happy and very profitable day in consideration and prayer about the things concerning the Kingdom of God. The general theme of the day was "A Revival of Vital Religion," the morning and evening sessions being devoted entirely to this subject. "What is a Revival" was ably discussed by Rev. Wm. Brown, of Providence; "The Abiding Value of Revivals," by Rev. J. W. Lowry, of Cambridge; "How can we secure and Experience a Revival?" by Dr. Alex Allison of Bridgeport, Connecticut. Devotions were led by Revs. Wm. Nicol of Quincy; Harold L. Wilson, of Providence; Dr. Alex Mitchell of Somerville and George W. Warren, of East Boston. The Moderator of the United Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. C. S. Cleland of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Chas. W. Kerr of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., brought the greetings of their respective denominations in eloquent and reviving addresses which were well received. An earnest spirit of revival and evangelism pervaded the meetings and of earnest desire for a spiritual quickening within the Church.

The inauguration ceremonies at Washington, of Franklin D. Roosevelt, as President of the U. S. A., created more than ordinary interest. The new President's address so full of courage and faith and optimism, and of implicit trust in the over-ruling Providence and mercy of God and with its concluding call to prayer on the part of the people, made a deep impression. It is the universal hope on all sides that the new regime will bring back stability and confidence and prosperity. So note it be!

Hockey at Victoria

The Baptists continued their string of wins when they defeated the United Church 4-1 on Thursday, March 2, thereby assuring themselves of first place in the play-offs. The United, minus four players including their regular goalie, gave Rogerson, Baptist goalie, more to do in two periods than Miller (his first try at pushing rubber), had in three.

L. Inman opened the scoring for the Baptists on a hard shot from left wing. C. Wright evened it up a few minutes later when he picked up C. Howatt's rebound and shoved it in the corner of the net. A minute before the bell Inman again scored in a mixup around the United's net. As the second period got well under way K. Thomas made the sweetest rush of the evening. Circling his own net he carried the puck right through on

Miller and rattled the twine for the third tally. The Baptists' last goal was made in the third period when H. Wood picked up the rubber in front of the United's net, drove a low shot at Miller at close-in, giving him no chance to save. The bell sounded with the Baptists trying their best to keep the rubber from clogging the mouth of their net.

Only three penalties were handed out, although soft ice made many spills look like trips to the cooler for some one. Messrs Ralph Taylor and Charles Logan refereed. The lineups:
