These little birds, noted in their own special line, show remarkable ability in travelling to and from one place and another. On Friday last the pigeon was taken out to John McQuaid's, Royalty, and on being released started directly for this city. It took only fifteen minutes for the carrier to make the trip. After having once gone over a route as often as released and judging by the fast time made on the first journey speedy return trips can be expected.

Corsets that help your figure toward perfection

NO OTHER SINGLE CAUSE does so much for a woman's comfort and grace as a well chosen corset.

The good corset is the touch of perfection for a well fitting gown—and goes far to redeem an ordinary gown from mediocrity. It's the foundation for your complete scheme of attire—and should be regarded with keenest attention according to its importance.

To-day we announce another great big shipment of the corset that we honestly believe is the very best in the market.

You will note that, as in the best season, so in the incoming one—the keynote is slenderness. This season in addition to the immense range of medium priced goods, we have prepared a very choice showing of high grade corsets that will meet the need of any figure.

Of course we have always the best corset values at 50c 75c and one dollar each—hundreds of these in enormous range of style—and every size and then also—these new ones.

Ladies Fur and Fur Lined Coats

With such a winter before us as the present indicates, fur coats become necessities instead of luxuries. But in any event a fur or fur lined coat well selected is a very sensible investment. The garment is good for years of service if properly cared for, and style changes have hardly to be consulted—the cut of most fur and fur-lined coats varying so slightly from year to year. The cost may be less than you think if you buy here. For we are now offering coats of exceptional value from $25.00 up to $100.00—some of which are shown in our windows. These coats are made in the best manner from carefully selected skins etc, and are all guaranteed by us and what's more we guarantee them to be this season's goods not a last year's coat in the lot.
