IS OPTIMISTIC—Mr. J. Wilfred Boulter, Secretary of the Prince Edward Island Potato Growers' Association, returned to the city last evening from Halifax, where he interviewed the Harbour Commission with regard to securing storage facilities in the Nova Scotian capital for Prince Edward Island seed potatoes. Mr. Boulter had little comment to make on the results of his trip, but was hopeful of favourable developments. He arrived at Borden Saturday evening, but on account of bad weather, remained at Tryon till last night.

SCOUT RALLY WASHINGTON IN CH'TOWN BET ON THE WRONG HORSE

A great gathering of Scout Patrol Leaders from different parts of the Province was held in the "Cottetown" on Saturday, to take part in the first Annual Gilwel Course of Scout Patrol Leadership under the direction of Gilwel Scoutmaster R. J. Parent, Provincial Scout Secretary. Thirty-five patrol leaders and assistant patrol leaders registered, troops from Murray Harbour, Montague, a Lone Scout, and five city troops being represented. The course commenced at two o'clock in Zion Church Hall, and continued until six o'clock, when supper was served. After supper a Camp Fire was held when the four troops, into which these present had been divided, put on an impromptu program of a most creditable and mirth-provoking character.

At the supper Provincial Commissioner the Rev. G. T. Spriggs, Kensington, presided being supported by the Assistant Commissioner, Mr. J. A. Lawson, the Provincial Secretary, Mr. R. C. Parent, Scoutmasters George Walker, R. F. Miller, George Fraser, Harold Nicholson, and Mr. J. R. Burnett. After a hearty and most enjoyable repast provided by a committee of ladies, over which Mrs. Parent ably presided, the chairman delivered a genial and cheery address, and expressed their great indebtedness to Scoutmaster Parent for the time and ability he devoted to this class of boys' work.

Mr. Burnett announced the result of the inspection of patrols, first places being won by the Beaver Patrol, second by the Wolf, third by the Hawk, and fourth by the Bull Dog. More particularly for the new leaders present, Mr. Burnett pointed out that the Boy Scout movement was based on the four ageless and changeless standards of value which separated civilization from savagery, via Beauty, Intelligence, Character and Service. Scouting developed an appreciation of the beauty of nature and all things beautiful. The first requisite of a Scout was to be himself neat, clean, tidy at all times, and especially in uniform. Appreciation of beauty was further learned by concentration on out-of-door activities and the enjoyment of life in the open. Scouting developed appreciation of intelligence by concentration on observation and deduction. It developed an appreciation of the value of character by insistence on reliability and accuracy, courtesy and consideration for others. Scouting developed appreciation of the value of service by calling for at least one good deed a day—being helpful to others without thought of reward. These four were the only real values in life, the standard by which everyone, knowingly or unknowingly, was judged, hence the Boy Scout's concentration upon them in the building of manhood.

Mrs. J. A. Lawson, accompanied by Mrs. Theima Burns, pianist, appeared on the scene, and under their leadership several rousing choruses were rendered.

A telegram of greetings from the gathering was sent to the Chief Commissioner, Mr. John A. Stiles, Ottawa.

Votes of thanks were given as follows: The ladies, for the excellent supper, proposed by Patrol Leader John Denny, seconded by Patrol Leader Maitland Owen; Zion Church, for the use of the hall, by Scoutmaster George Fraser, seconded by Patrol Leader Niall Burnett; Mrs. Lawson and Miss Burns, by Scoutmaster Parent, seconded by Scoutmaster Harold Nicholson; the Chairman, by Scoutmaster Miller, seconded by Scoutmaster Walker.

The Camp Fire which followed was voted one of the best night's entertainments enjoyed for a long time and concluded with three rousing cheers for Gilwel Scoutmaster Parent.

BENNETT'S RETURN IS AWAITED WITH SOME ANXIETY

OTTAWA, Oct. 25—The return to Canada of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, and his cabinet colleagues, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, and Hon. Maurice Dupre, will bring into the foreground once more a number of important matters which are at present quiescent.

Possibly the most important subject which will engage the attention of the Government when Mr. Bennett is once more at the helm in Ottawa is the St. Lawrence waterways project. The United States has intimated its readiness to continue negotiations with a view to evolving a treaty which will result in the work being done on with. A note inquiring when Canada would be in a position to proceed with such negotiations was received here before the Overturn of the Government of President Luis in Brazil Places United States Govt. in Embarrassing Position. It Is Stated.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25—The overturn of the Government of President Washington Luis in Brazil places the United States Government in an embarrassing position, political observers believe. The United States permitted shipment of arms to the Luis Government, but placed an embargo on shipment of munitions to insurgents.

The suggestion that Washington "bet on the wrong horse" is indignant repudiated. The policy of the United States, it is said, simply followed the usual custom dictated by international law. It was further intimated that Washington did not look upon the Brazilian situation as a "horse race."

When the news of the military coup in Rio De Janeiro reached this capital over press wires today officials were obviously surprised. All comment was refused. It was pointed out by observers that the policy pursued by the State Department could hardly be considered by the incoming Brazilian Government as amiable.

The United States has immense interests in Brazil where its commerce is in competition with that of Great Britain, Canada and other nations. The goodwill of the Brazilian Government is therefore of the utmost importance to Washington.

THE FOX EDITION

Tomorrow's issue of The Guardian will contain a report of the formal opening of the Fox Show to be held in the Exhibition Building tonight at 8 o'clock. The special Fox Edition will contain several very interesting articles relating to the fur industry. There will be a description of the foxes exhibited and of the pen arrangement in the building, also a description of the booths at the Show. This issue of the paper, illustrated with cuts of prominent breeders, will be very interesting and you should not miss getting copies to send to friends and relatives abroad.

Would Restore M. P. P. As Title In Province

FREDERICTON, N. B., Oct. 25—Restoration of the old abbreviation denoting legislative rank in New Brunswick following 1911, the present designation, M. L. A., is strongly urged by Premier J. B. M. Baxter.

Premier Baxter favors the use of the term Member of Provincial Parliament, through its historical significance as an important link with the past.

Remarking on the subject at the state reception for Lord and Lady Willingdon, Hon. Mr. Baxter expressed regret that other provinces in Canada had been aped in this as in other matters pertaining to the provincial legislature.

During the administration of the late Hon. J. K. Flemming in New Brunswick following 1911, the old form went into disfavor in some quarters through order by the Premier of the day, although the change was never officially sanctioned by the legislature.

Defeat Saint Dunstons Saturday Afternoon 6 to Nil On Rain Soaked Field.

Scoring two unconverted tries, one in each half of the game, Abegweits returned triumphant from their gridiron battle with Saint Dunstons Saturday afternoon with a 6 to nil score and the coveted Prince Edward Island football championship tucked snugly under their belts. The series, the best two out of three games, was won in straight heats by the wearers of the red and black. The score in the first League game was 3 to nil.

The Abegweits are to be heartily congratulated on their performance to date this season, they having also defeated Mount Allison fifteen 6 to nil and their rivals, S. D. U. 9 to 0 in an exhibition fixture. Scoring 27 points to 3 against it is a fair fall's work, even if they do not play another game. However, here's hoping that the locals are not finished for 1930 and will continue on to further triumphs.

Saturday's tussle was hard fought every minute of play with Saint Dunstons forcing the Abegweits into dangerous positions, which took excellent field generalship and timely kicking to save.

The first score of the game was made after ten minutes of even play, when the Abegweits three-quarter line opened an advance from centre field. Saunders started the play on a pass from Ryan, picking halfback, the former got going, then tossed the oval to "Pat" Powers, whose long peddles covered plenty ground before handing the ball back to Saunders who in turn passed to "Hickey" Nicholson on the Saints' ten yard line. Nicholson went over clean. Saunders failed to convert the try.

In the beginning of the second half, the University squad took a new lease of life. For over five minutes they battered and tore their way into the Abegweits lines, which threatened to crumble time after time as the red and white legion made heroic but futile efforts to cross the scoring zone. This determined onslaught of nearly ten minutes seemed to slow the Collegians up to some extent, with the result that they soon found themselves on the defensive and being slowly but surely pushed back into their own territory. The work of the Abegweits forwards led by "follow-up" Bob Shaw and "Woody" Woolner was predominant in this counter attack which finally culminated in the Abegweits second score. After three unsuccessful attempts to buck the red and white line, Woolner on receiving a neat pass from Nicholson, hurled his 185 pounds at the opposing forwards to squirm and duck his merry way for a try. Glen Partridge failed to convert.

The Saints in losing the championship to such a formidable team as the Abegweits, have nothing to reproach themselves for. They gave the champions three great football battles, in which they were forced to extend themselves.

The line-ups:

S. D. U.	Full Back	ABBIE'S
O'Connor	Quarters	O'Neill
Murphy	Nicholson
Doyle	Germeley
Duffy	Larter
Coyle	Power
	Halves
McDonald	Ryan
Doucette	Saunders
MacMillan	Partridge
	Forwards
Croken	Dixon
Cass	L. Connolly
Killoff	J. Connolly
Shreenan	Woolner
Campbell	Jeckins
McCarthy	Smith
McLellan	Ayers
McCormac
Referee—Neil Mathieson.

PUNTS AND TACKLES

Neil Mathieson made a very efficient referee.

Len Connolly and George Ayers were a bulwark of strength to the Abegweits front line.

The Saint half and three-quarter lines battled on even terms with their opponents.

O'Neill is a great fullback.

Cass, McLellan, Shreenan and McCarty played a game of a game for the University crew.

Ball handling was almost impossible due to the wet and greasy condition of the field.

Doyle's kicking was one of the big features of the set-to.

Abegweits—How about a few Mainland games?
