Thin Hogs

We find that there are a number of small, thin, unfinished Hogs, under one hundred pounds (100 lbs.) being marketed at the present time. During the winter weather there is considerable butcher shop trade for these Hogs; but from now on, with milder weather, there will not be this outlet; and as these Hogs are too small for packing purposes we must refuse to receive thin Hogs, even at a reduction in price.

We do not anticipate any marked decline in the Hog market, and the Farmers will do well to feed, and finish their Hogs properly, before marketing.

WEDDING BELLS.—A quiet wedding was solemnized at Georgetown, on March 15, when Miss Gertrude Whiting of Georgetown, became the bride of Rev. G. G. Morehead of Montague. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. M. McGowan. The bride and groom were unattended. After the ceremony the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Charlottetown and elsewhere.

POWNAI NOTES.—The young people for many miles around find great pleasure skating on Mayflower Mills pond favorable evenings.—Rev. Littlejohns and Mr. Carvers radio give much pleasure listening to concerts and theatres from Canadian and American cities.—The other evening we were much interested listening to singing by Miss McKenzie and others that took place at a concert at Charlottetown.—Our school is progressing favorably under Winson Smith teacher. We are trying to learn what has happened in the management of the Prince of Wales College, as it is now, we feel it is extremely hard to educate our boys and girls high enough to enter, with any hope of getting through. Some are thinking of sending them to other colleges where they can pass and receive just as good if not better education, with the same study and preparation as was formerly for our Prince of Wales College when trying for entrance. We know it is not all from neglect of our boys and girls studying, such change has been made. Mr. George Carver is stocking up heavily for spring retail trade, and has already got more applications from summer tourists than they can well accommodate.—Mr. William Judson is still not able to attend his business but is improving in health. We miss him for blacksmith and machine work.—A few of our most nervous residents are much interested in the ghost seen at midnight at the Governors Island oil boring plant, for fear it should drift this way.—Our League, that meets weekly had for one of its debates recently "Are foreign mail order houses a good thing for this province or not?" after all that could be brought up on both sides in argument, some even stated that Eatons Catalogue was studied like a Bible in some houses and great amusement for the children. The judge was decided by ballot of the meeting and decided by a small majority in favor of the mail order house. Some think it should have been judged by disinterested men in business.

Never Let a Cold Get a Start.

Vapors Check a Cold Overnight

There are many ways to treat a cold but only one DIRECT way—with vapors that can be inhaled. Vapors penetrate immediately into every corner of the air passages and lungs, soothing and healing with every breath.

Vicks is so remarkably successful in treating cold troubles because it acts like a "vapor lamp in salve form."

When rubbed over throat and chest the body heat releases vapors of Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine. At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin. This double, direct action often checks the worst cold overnight.

MILES STANDISH

THE INDIAN COUNCIL

This is the beginning of the last week of the story of Miles Standish. If you have been saving these dolls you will soon have a whole set with which to act this Thanksgiving-time story.

After Miles Standish left John Alden he hurried to the Indian council. There he was met by an Indian who handed him a rattlesnake skin filled with arrows, a challenge of warfare. In his angry mood the Captain jerked the arrows from the rattlesnake skin and, filling it with powder and bullets, returned it to the Indian. "Here, take it!" he cried. "This is your answer."

Then, indeed, did the Captain have serious business on hand. War was declared and it was up to him to protect his little band from the stronger ranks of the red men. He prepared to march north to the Indian encampment of the chief Watawamat.

(Here is the brave Watawamat. Color his skin a light reddish brown. His belt and moccasins are of tan leather. Make the feather in his hair and those in his arrows red, green, and blue.)

TREE-TOP STORIES

AIRPLANES

JOHNNY was sitting in the cherry tree. It was a pleasant place to be. He could look down, and up, and all around... and dangle his legs. The sky seemed much nearer, too. As he looked into the deep blue sky he spied a small black speck sailing there. Then he heard the humming of an airplane. It came overhead and hurried on its way. The Johnny saw another black speck, but heard no sound. It circled and came nearer. Johnny laughed. "Ho! Mr. Blackbird thinks he will do some airplane stunts, too," he said.

Have you tried
Bon Ami
POWDER?

You'll like Bon Ami Powder. Just as you've always liked Bon Ami Cake. Women who have used it are all singing the praises of this other form of Bon Ami. The same magic ingredients in a handy, sifter-top can. Soft and scratchless, Bon Ami Powder blots up dirt without hard work.

It cleans and polishes quickly, and thoroughly. Nothing can equal it for making the bathtub glisten, cleaning the refrigerator, or restoring the lustre to aluminium, copper, agate and tin.

But for windows and mirrors, most housewives prefer Bon Ami Cake! Convenient in size and very economical.

Gentle to the hands, gentle to the surface it cleans—Bon Ami in either form is the magic cleanser. Women find it an economy of time and money to keep both these "partners in cleanliness" in the home. They meet every cleaning and polishing need.
