

Jam and Jelly making made easy and sure

SKILL won't do it—even the most experienced housewife knows there are discouraging times when jam and jelly made the old-fashioned way just will not set.

But Certo will do it every time. When you make your jams and jellies the Certo way any fruit is bound to jelly—you cannot have a failure.

Certo is the very element in fruits that makes them jelly. This jelly-making element is lacking in some fruits; in all it grows less as they ripen. With Certo you can make your jams and jellies from the choicest ripe fruits, for Certo itself supplies the necessary jellying element.

Since with Certo it is no longer necessary to "boil your fruit down," an extra quantity is saved for your jam or jelly. You get half again more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit, thus saving all the delicious flavor and color that used to be wasted by long boiling. Order Certo to-day from your grocer. There is a complete recipe booklet with every bottle.

Send the coupon and we will mail you (free) a special colored booklet of recipes and suggestions for jams and jellies.

Jack Dempsey is Selling His Horses

Dempsey is out of the horse racing game with a profit of $7,500, according to George Coburn, his trainer, who has bought the champion's horses and will continue to race them under the name of Canyon Stables.

The principal money winner of Dempsey's string was Old Kickapoo, who won several races after being purchased for $3,600. Dempsey never went to extremes in betting on his horses, Coburn says, his wagers averaging less than $200. His biggest plunge was $500 on Old Kickapoo at 6 to 5.

Although he is selling his racers, Dempsey likes horses and plans to come back with "a bigger and better stable," he told Coburn over the telephone from California. The wish to get rid of all excess baggage in his attempted comeback to the ring is given as his reason for disposing of them now.

IN MEMORIAM

MINNIE GRACE INMAN

One of Hampton's younger and most useful and respected citizens has passed to her eternal rest. Minnie Grace Inman, daughter of John T. and Flora Inman who was born on April 8th, 1891, died on Wednesday, April 27th., at the age of 36 years.

Miss Inman who was never among the strongest or more robust, had been ailing for a number of years and for the last twelve months was constantly in the doctor's care. Her highly nervous temperament only made the strain on her physical strength the greater, and when a threatened attack of appendicitis occurred about April 22nd., the strain was too great and she "passed on" quietly to eternal peace.

During the days of her best health she taught school at Stanley Bridge, N. Carlton, Long Creek, Rice Point and Riverdale. For years was the organist of the Hampton Presbyterian Church as well as an active worker in the Church.

Minnie, as she was known by everybody, was buried in the Cra-paud Cemetery on Saturday, April 30th., and leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother, John T. and Flora Inman of Hampton, her sister, Myrtle and brother, Earle, living at home, her sister, Lottie, (Mrs. H. Lowden) living in the West, and Mrs. J. F. Proffitt (Lena) of Kensington.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Geo. F. Sears of Hampton, and a very large number of sympathetic neighbours and personal friends gathered to show their appreciation of the qualities of the deceased and their sympathy with those who are left to mourn her passing.

MRS. DONALD ROSS.

On Monday, March 21st, Mrs. Donald Ross, a highly esteemed resident of Rennie's Road, near Hunter River, passed away in Charlottetown at the age of 86 years.

The deceased had been in a rather poor condition of health for some time. So that the coming of the end was not altogether unexpected. Under the constant strain of a continued illness the reserve strength of her rugged constitution gradually waned, until on the above date her spirit returned to the God who gave it.

Her husband Mr. Donald Ross having passed away thirty-eight years ago, Mrs. Ross now leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother, three sons and four daughters.

The sons are Alexander Ross, Wheatley River, Duncan Ross, Hunter River, and John Ross, Rennie's Road, with whom Mrs. Ross made her home, and the daughters are: Mrs. John Chandler and Mrs. John McCormack, both of Charlottetown, Mrs. Joseph Matthews, Brackley Point Road and Mrs. Wm. Smith Johnston Road.

Mrs. Ross was one of the early settlers in this part of our Province.

Her maiden name was Miss Eliza McDonald and her old home was Uigg. When quite young she married Mr. Ross who lived then at Crooked Creek. About sixty years ago they came to live at Rennie's Road and here she has since made her home. The deceased was well known throughout the whole countryside.

She was naturally of a strong rugged constitution and in times of sickness and sorrow she was ever ready to give of her help to all who were in need. To many, she was in their trying days of life, a real "mother in Israel" whom they will ever remember.

The great foundation principles of the Christian faith, which had kept her strong, and courageous throughout all of the struggles and trials of life, were not found wanting in the closing years.

The funeral was held at the home her son, Duncan Ross, Hunter River on the afternoon of March 24th.

In the unavoidable absence of her pastor, the minister of the Christian Church at New Glasgow, Rev. R. H. Baxter, conducted the service.

The pall bearers were Messrs. William Bernard, John E. Way, John S. Chandler, James Collier, Neil D. McLeod, John Mobbs.

Interment was in the Presbyterian cemetery at Hunter River.

MR. HAROLD RAMSAY.

"In the midst of life we are in death." How truly these words were exemplified when on Tuesday noon, May 3, 1927, it became known that the spirit of Harold Ramsay, Northam, freed from its earthly fetters had joined the ascending legions to the Great White Throne to receive the reward of a noble and well-spent life.

On April 24th he was stricken down with pneumonia, and all that earthly hands could do was of no avail. At times hopes were held out for his recovery, but God in His wisdom plucked the fair rosbud for eternity.

Although only nineteen years of age, he had endeared himself to all who knew him, and he possessed all the qualities found in true manhood; industrious, honest, upright, conscientious, kind and obliging, never known to speak uncharitably of or about any person; and his one aim in life was to care for his grief-stricken mother.

A very impressive service was held at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Eleanor Newcombe, Northam, and at the Presbyterian church, Tyne Valley, where a large gathering of mourners and friends bade farewell to one whom they loved. The service was conducted by Rev. Andrew Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. Bruce Carew, of the United Church. The text was chosen in Rev. 21:3, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men.

Hymns rendered by the choir were "Abide With Me," at the home, and "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Rock of Ages," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," were sung at the church. Then all that was left of an affectionate son was laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery, beside his younger brother, Earl, who predeceased him eighteen months ago.

He leaves behind him a sorrowing mother, Mrs. William Ramsay, three sisters: Mrs. Hartford Ellis, Tyne Valley, Mrs. Roy Williams, Ellerslie, Mrs. Roy Euman, Portland, Me., and two brothers, Bucher, in Port Arthur, Ontario; Arthur, Northam, P. E. I.

Floral pillow, mother and family; wreath, aunts and uncles Newcombe family; crescent, Northam Institute.

MRS. J. M. LAIRD

A wide circle of friends was shocked and saddened when it became known that Jane, beloved wife of Mayor J. M. Laird, Kensington had passed away, Wednesday, May 4th after a short illness of two and a half weeks. Although in failing health for several years, Mrs. Laird was able to attend to her household duties and take an active part in the community up to the first day of her last illness.

During her sickness she was patient and cheerful, with a bright smile, a warm handclasp and a kindly word for all who came to see her.

She was a daughter of the late David Walker, Kensington, and was born in the year 1855. She was the youngest of a family of ten of which the only surviving member is a brother, Mr. G. Henry Walker of Summerside.

It can be truly said that Mrs. Laird was a sincere christian woman, with a faith that sustained and strengthened her to the end. She was endowed with a gracious, amiable personality and given to a fine hospitality which endeared her to those with whom she came in contact.

In the home she was a loving, devoted wife and mother. In great measure she had all the qualities of splendid womanhood.

Lovely flowers banked the casket and framed the sweet, peaceful face, bringing to the mind the thought, "She drew the draperies of her couch about her and lay down to pleasant dreams."

"I am the Resurrection and the Life" saith the Lord. "He that believeth in Me, though he were dead yet shall he live." Surely those who mourn can take comfort, believing that the loved one has entered into a fuller, larger life.

The esteem and respect in which the late Mrs. Laird was held was shown by the large number of friends who came from far and near to the funeral service, which was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Dr. J. R. Saint, of the United Church, Miss Muriel MacMurdo sang with touching beauty, "There is no Death."

There are left to mourn besides her sorrowing husband, three daughters and one son: Marion, Mrs. Alexander Tulloch, Lynn, Mass., and Miss Myra Humphrey, Salem, Mass., by her former marriage to the late Robert Humphrey. They came home and were with their mother during the last few days. Mattie, Mrs. J. R. MacDougald, Kensington, and Harold on the homestead at Kelvin.

There are also six grandchildren.

The floral tributes were: Friends, crescent and spray, the family.

Wreath, Stewards of the United Church, Kensington.

Wreath, W.M.S. of the United Church, Kensington.

Wreath, Town Council, Kensington.

Cross, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Walker, Summerside.

Spray, Mr. and Mrs. Parmenas Orr.

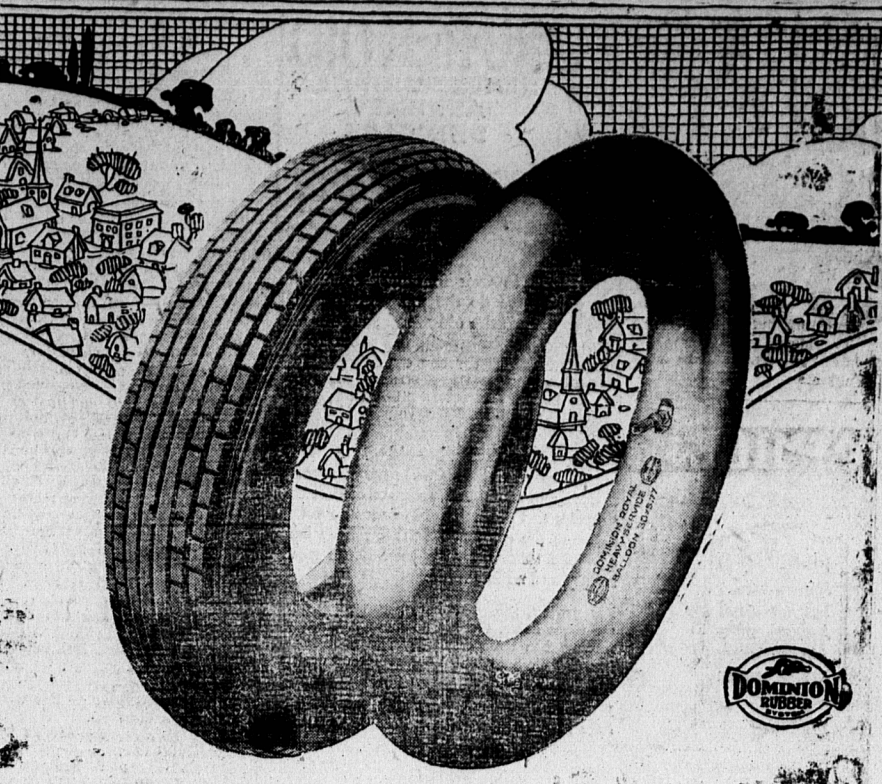

Boquet, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Schurman.

Spray, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Kennedy.

MRS. L. SCHOOLEY

—Evans' Studio
London, Ont.—"Ever since I saw this great benefit my daughter received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during her second expectant period, I have never neglected the opportunity to recommend it to every prospective mother. I was with my daughter when she was miserable and sick. Thru my advice she took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and from the very beginning she gained in health and strength, was able to be up, and attended to her household duties right up to the last. She had comparatively no suffering—the least I ever witnessed. My only regret has been that I did not know of this wonderful medicine while bringing up my own family." —Mrs. Louisa Schooley, 565 Hill St. All dealers, Fluid or tablet form.

These Tire-Mates prolong the life of your tire

THE most expensive part of a tire is the casing. Dominion Royal Tubes are built to protect and prolong the life of the casing.

You may save a dollar by buying a cheap tube and lose many times that amount in damage to the casing of your tire.

Dominion Royal Tubes are uniform and smooth in action. They are non-porous and do not gradually leak so that the casing runs at too low an air pressure, which causes irreparable damage before the driver is aware that his tire is in danger.

The Dominion Royal Tube and Dominion Royal Cord Balloons fit each other with precision and exactitude, making them perfect in their action. In fact, any tire would be the better for using Dominion Royal Tubes because there is not a better tube made.
