Lobster fishing is very brisk here this season and the two packing plants are rushed with several days back kept alive in crates at the harbor. The size limit was expected to kill the fishing but instead it made fishing much better and the price of lobsters are well above that of other years.

Mr. P. A. McLellan, Inspector of Fisheries, was here last week.

Mr. Gerald McAdam has started cream hauling with his two trucks, his brother Reginald operating one on the south side of the Island hauling to Morell, while the other works west hauling to the city.

Mrs. Ralph Aldershaw who was seriously ill at his home for some time, was removed to the Charlottetown Hospital late last week for an operation and at time of writing is reported doing nicely.

Latest word from AC Carol Murphy, R. C. A. F., who for some time has been in a serious condition in a military hospital in Ontario is reported as unimpaired after a week end. Carol is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Albert Murphy, and attended S. D. U. before entering the air force. Last fall he made one trip home on leave.

Many friends here of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Nause, regret to learn of their departure for Kensington, where Mr. Nause, has been transferred as manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, the same position as he held here, but a larger branch.
During their stay here Mr. and Mrs.
Nause made a score of friends who will always be very pleased to see them in their leisure time. They leave Morell with the best wishes of every one both bank customers and social friends.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ted MacEwen who last week started life together after a pretty wedding performed by the Rev. S. J. Boyce, B. A., at Cardigan. Mr. Boyce, was stationed here for several years and this young couple who were under his care for years asked for the honor of his service in performing their wedding ceremony. They will live at Feler's Harbor, where they have purchased a new house from Mr. F. L.
Arnold. Their many friends wish them success and happiness as they travel the road of life together.

Most of the dirt roads in this vicinity are being repaired and now the heavy road machine and tractor have started to do their part.

His friends regret that the serious condition of Mr. John G. MacDonald, remains unchanged. It is hoped to remove him to Camp Hill Hospital this week. He is a veteran of the last war.

Friends of Joe McNally, Tracadie, will regret to learn of his serious illness at his home. He has been confined to his bed for the past three months.

A welcome visitor here was Mrs.
Joseph McNeill from Bale Comeau.
Mrs. McNeill, who before her marriage was Mary McEachern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McEach-ern, has not been home for a number of years and at present is spending some time with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Anneas McEachern at Charlottetown before returning to Quebec.

Owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Joseph McMillan her son Arthur was called home over the weekend.

Miss Eileen O'Brien arrived home from New York City last week.

To Build 4-Motored Bombers In Toronto

OTTAWA, May 20—(CP)—Amin-itions Minister Howe told the House of Commons today that four-engin-ed bombers are to be produced in Toronto. He said until they are in production the plant concerned will be tapering off the output of the aircraft which it has been turning out.

Mr. Howe was replying to criticism brought forward by Joseph Harris (Con. Toronto-Danforth) in a letter from one of his constituents claiming that men were being laid off in Toronto war industries, particularly De Havilland Aircraft, because they produced too rapidly.

DON'T WADE NARROW STREAMS

Narrow trout streams are much damaged by wading, and should be fished from the banks. No angler should wade any stream unless he cannot reach the likely spots from shore. In going down stream the angler makes much noise, which alarms the fish and causes them to seek refuge. Fishing up-stream, the noise made by the angler is muffled by the rush of the stream; through a harder method of fishing, it picks twice as many fish. These are opinions of David Gray, who raises many brook and rainbow trout.

A WRINKLE

It is sometimes necessary to tie on a new fly or lure, or even to repair a leader, while standing in a stream. A belt-tying holder makes this easy. Hang the holder on the belt, slip the post of the reel into the metal loop of the holder, and the rod is securely held resting against the shoulder. Thus you have both hands free, and your rod in a safe position.

TO SAVE FUEL

To save coal, fuel experts say don't shake the grates excessively.
Gentleness will do well. Shake only until you can see the first red glow in the ashpit.

Nazi 1942 Farm Program Is Behind Schedule

(By Ernest G. Fischer, Associated Press Staff Writer)
LISBON, May 18—(AP)—German farmers, who are at least three weeks behind schedule on their 1942 crops, have been ordered to increase the production of vegetables, vegetable fats and potatoes. At the same time, Marshal Goering told growers that the 1941 acreage in grain and sugar beets must be maintained.
Unfavorable weather, insufficient fertilizer, the shortage of manpower and horsepower, and tardiness in the delivery of seeds are obstacles delaying this program.

Shortage of Fats

Although Nazi propagandists claim that the Reich produces approximately 600,000 tons of butter yearly, ranking second only to the United States, Germany has suffered from a shortage of fats since before the war.
The war with Russia has cut off the overland route to the Orient by which Germany obtained whale blubber from Japan and soy beans from Manchukuo.
Whaling has failed to solve the problem because of the long perilous voyage to the whaling waters.
Of 185 margarine plants in Germany, 136 are closed because of lack of raw materials.

Vegetable Demand Up

The demand for vegetables has increased because of low rations in meat, butter and eggs. Per capita vegetable consumption for the five years before the war averaged 105 pounds per year, but in 1941 consumption per capita was 165 pounds, according to German statistics.

Truck growers increased their vegetable acreage 45 per cent in the first two years of war. In 1942 a further increase of 25 per cent was decreed. At the same time farmers were ordered to plant at least 15 per cent of cultivated land in potatoes, reducing the planting for feedstuffs and brewery grain.
Goering called last winter the "longest, worst and most stubborn in more than 100 years" and acknowledged that spring farm work was "later than usual."

Labor Difficulty

The most serious difficulty, however, appears to be the shortage of labor and German sources estimated that at least 600,000 laborers were needed. Already 1-600,000 of the 2,100,000 foreign workers in Germany are employed on farms and in forestry projects. In addition 800,000 prisoners of war are used in agriculture.

House Of Hate

"Don't we all!" Estelle's tone was flip, but her dark eyes shrewdly darted over the three figures in front of her. "Come on, Paul—let's start things."
"They're started," he said shortly, turning back into the drawing room.
"Mr. Leighton, do come and be our fourth," Estelle urged.
Alan hesitated but, when Serena gave him a little nod, he followed Estelle into the house.
Serena, left alone on the porch, stared unseeing into space. Then, with a little moan, she buried her face in her hands. . . .
A few minutes later, she was roused by the sound of her mother-in-law's voice. It was raised in anger.

Who cleaned my room today?

"I did," said Estelle.
Serena, stepping into the drawing room, saw Mrs. Comstock in the doorway that led to the hall. In her hand was a small green bottle containing a liquid. She now extended this with a melodramatic gesture.
"You admit it then?" Estelle asked.
"Admit what?" asked Estelle.
"What on earth's the matter, Mother?"
"Matter!" Mrs. Comstock buried the bottle into the fireplace, where it broke into fragments. "Wouldn't you say something was the matter if you discovered that some one had tried to poison you?"
A gasp went round the room.
Paul leaped up. "What are you talking about? What's that stuff you tossed into the fireplace?"
"Arsenic," said his mother. "Arsenic which some one substituted for my sleeping medicine!"
