Found Soapsuds
 An Inspiration

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(C.P.)—Mary Ellen Chase, author of "Mary Peters," a novel of Maine and the sea just published by Macmillan, teaches English at Smith. In that capacity she writes her publishers as follows: "It's absolutely essential," said a freshman to me in exclaiming a bad thing, "that I have a congenial time and place for my writing, a place where I can find some inspiration. I'm sure that as an author you must know what I mean."

"I'm afraid not," I said, recalling that my best, or at least my favorite, chapter in "Mary Peters" was written in the ladies' room of the Buffalo station at 1 a. m. while a fat Negro stopped the dirty floor with soapsuds and sang lustily, "Will there be any stars in my crown?"

Declines to Ban Guides Smoking

SHEFFIELD, Eng., Oct. 12.—(C.P.)—Whether Girl Guides should or should not smoke was debated at some length in the annual meeting of the Girls' Life Brigade when delegates were present from all parts of the country.

It was stated that Brigade laws were too wordy, and a revised form of laws was under consideration. It was suggested that in addition to promising to abstain from intoxicating drink the rules should include a promise not to smoke.

One delegate said that they might as well add abstinence from gambling and many other evil influences. Finally it was agreed not to press the question, and it was allowed to drop for the time being. It was definitely decided, however, not to include a gambling ban in the Brigade law. Mrs. Thrusell, district commissioner of Birmingham, said they all realized the danger, but she thought that some girls' consciences would not let them sign such a pledge. Rather than lose them it would be better to live them and use the influence of the organization on them for their good.

Nutrition Path To Best Health

PROMINENT LEADER OF NURSES URGES PROPER FOOD VITE SMALLER BUDGETS.

EDMONTON, Oct. 12.—People should be taught to use their smaller budgets to their most healthful advantage and should learn how to get the proper foods, declared Miss Elizabeth Smellie, C.B.E. as chief supervisor of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada, Miss Smellie is on a tour of western cities. She is also chairman of the nursing section of the Canadian Public Health Association and fellow of the American Public Health Association.

"The western provinces have made great advances in public health, and compare well with the eastern centres," said Miss Smellie. "We have no deficits, and there is no professional antagonism to our work."

"There is a more acute interest in the subject of health than there has ever been, I think, but I would like especially to stress the need for greater knowledge of nutrition. Several home economic departments of the universities are taking special interest in this phase just now, and are forming voluntary clubs among their dietitians to study the subject."

W.C.T.U. Convention At Freetown

The annual convention of the W.C.T.U. was held in the church at Freetown Oct. 10th. The afternoon session opened with worship service, led by the Summerdale Union. At this period they expressed appreciation of the work of the late Mrs. Isabelle Glidden.

Very sincere words of welcome were given by Mrs. Profit, Freetown, and were heartily responded to by Mrs. Heath Vesev, York. Almost all the unions were represented at this gathering and all reports showed growing interest in the work and increase in membership which was an encouragement to all.

Mr. Leigh Campbell gave the interesting recitation "The Spider and the Fly," which the members enjoyed very much.

The following gave full and detailed reports of their respective departments: Executive, Mrs. L. H. Drake, Cornwall; Prince County, Mrs. John Profit; Queen's County, Mrs. Laura Bustin; The Press and Strangers Secretary, Miss Emma White, Charlottetown; Editor of White Ribbon Tidings, Column, Mrs. Hazen Howard, Cornwall; Treasurer, Mrs. (Rev.) F. E. Boothroy, Hunter River; S. S. Temperance Course, Miss Isla Collett, Bedouke, The President, Mrs. (Rev.) W. A. Thomson, addressed "the meeting and urged that we stand fast, do all in our power to hold our prohibition law, to stress the value of the Temperance course and to educate the young. She closed with repeating "The Builders" and asked that the members and friends try "to make a safe path for the bairns."

Mrs. Boothroy at this time, on behalf of the Provincial W.C.T.U. presented Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. W. A. Thomson, as an appreciation of long and earnest work in the cause of temperance. Mrs. Leigh Warren, Charlottetown, sang very acceptably "All Round the world the Ribbon White is Twined."

Mrs. (Rev.) Patterson, Cavendish, gave a very interesting and instructive paper on the League of Nations, and Mrs. Clarke, North Wilshire, on the use of cigarettes entitled "If Not, Why Not?" The session then adjourned with prayer.

The evening session opened with the worship period led by Bedouke Union, Mrs. J. R. Wright, Vancouver, read the scripture and emphasized the wonderful power of prayer and mentioned the Guidance of God as realized by the Oxford Group. Mrs. John Frizzell led in prayer.

Mr. Brewer Auld sang very feelingly "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" after which Little Mary Matheson presented the president with a beautiful bouquet of gladioli from "Beechwood Gardens."

A dialogue by the members from Charlottetown Union, "Why Ruth Refused to go to the Party" was very much enjoyed by the audience and showed the harmful effect of wine used at parties.

Mrs. Leigh Warren again sang a solo very sweetly, and the members of Cornwall Union gave Echoes from the World's W.C.T.U. Convention at Stockholm, Sweden. Meeting closed by singing "Lead on O King Eternal," and benediction.

The President for the coming year is Mrs. (Rev.) W. A. Thomson, re-elected, and the Vice-President, Mrs. (Dr.) McNeill, Summerside, re-elected.

Nova Scotia Birth Rate Declining

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
 HALIFAX, Oct. 12.—Nova Scotia's census clock was slowing down and registered a net loss of one to the whole population every eight hours, Dr. S. H. Prince, head of the Department of Sociology at King's University said in an address here.

"In the last 50 years the birth-rate in Nova Scotia has been almost cut in two," continued Dr. Prince. "We are filling one cradle where our fathers filled two. In many cases the cradle lies in the attic with the parlor rocking chair."

"He foresaw little promise for the future of the province unless there was a halt in the present practice of 'race suicide.'"

"It is not by any means a matter of pride that Nova Scotia has now become the first province in continental Canada to approximate a 'stationary population'—a condition which has already overtaken France and is being rapidly approached in almost every land of western Europe," the Professor told his audience.

"The last census had shown a decline of 11,000 souls. But he estimated that the decline would be 500,000 Nova Scotian boys and girls who might have been here today but for the great emigration movement."

"Looking on the English logarithmic population formula, he estimated that the province would have 1,000,000 population were it not for the great exodus."

But his chief lament was that the emigration had been selective. "It took not the youngest or the oldest, but subtracted most of all from the central or child-producing age groups."

The present generation is scarcely reproducing itself. The number of daughters is scarcely sufficient to replace mothers of the present day when they reach middle age," the Professor claimed.

"This shrinking of the middle-age groups and a changing composition of the population have vitally upon the social and economic prosperity of the Nova Scotia people, he said. There were fewer children in 1921 than in 1920.

"There is no easy way to the recovery of a lost population. The day is still far distant when the laboratory will propagate the race and the nurseries will be populated by eugenic babies."

At the evening session the principal speaker was E. R. Nickerson, P. M. W. P. of the National Division of North America, of Halifax. He conveyed greetings from the National Division and spoke of the achievements of the order in the 92 years of its existence. "Much had been done," he said, "to save those who were addicted to the terrible curse of liquor." The speaker recounted the progress of the order in Nova Scotia, instancing several of the accomplishments in the cause of temperance. Mr. Nickerson, in conclusion, urged furthering the work among the young people and children.

The Grand Division decided to hold the next semi-annual session in Sackville on May 23rd, 1935, and next annual meeting in Millstream on the second Thursday of October, 1935.
