— TRENTONIAN SURVIVOR HOME — Harry Dye, Jr. is now at his home in Summerside having arrived the sinking of the Canadian Corvette, Trentonian. He reports that after the torpedo hit the ship everything was done in a calm and orderly fashion and there was no sign of panic among the crew members. He was on the bridge when the explosion took place and when the torpedo hit aft, he was quite a distance from the danger area. He went overboard in a Carley float and spent nearly an hour in the water which was very cold. Two English motor launches picked the survivors up. Harry is home for 30 days. Twenty-eight of these constitute his "survivor's leave" and the rest was coming to him as his annual leave. He has been in the navy for about two years. His mother, Mrs. Harry Dye, resides on King Street and his father is in the services.—S.

—KINSMEN MEETING — The guest speaker at the meeting of the Kinsmen Club of Summerside on Tuesday was Mr. Davis Liddane, principal of Summerside High School. He congratulated the members in having the good sense to organize themselves into a service club in his opening remarks and went on to deliver an interesting talk on the subject of the Role of Education in developing world understanding and as a basis of peace. After dwelling on the need for greater vocational training in schools he made a plea for greater study of the humanistic subjects particularly history. He stressed, however, that history should not be considered merely as a recital of dates and battles but can be made really interesting. Mr. Norman McDonald was chairman of the meeting and Mr. Henry Wedge was a guest. After the meeting the members were guests of the club president, Mr. Harold Gaudet, at a residence on Beaver Street.—S.

PACKED HOUSE SEE ALBERTON PLAYERS' FINE PERFORMANCE

—The Institute Hall, Alberton, was packed to overflowing Friday evening, March 16th, when Alberton Dramatic Club presented "Aunt Minnie From Minnesota'. This is a great comedy with plenty of action and thrills. The various roles were well taken by the cast, twelve in number, some of whom were seasoned veterans, while others were comparatively new comers to the theatrical field. Miss Florence Keefe, in the leading role of Aunt Minnie, surpassed her usual portrayal of a difficult part, bringing round after round of applause from the large audience. Mrs. Laura McLellan, as Mrs. Evans capably and efficiently carried out the motherly tone of the play while Miss Bertha Doyle and Miss Mae O'Malley as her daughters Elvira and Eva respectively, captivated the crowd with their superb acting and thorough accomplishment of two difficult assignments. Mrs. Cecil Wallace as Patience Perkins, the maid, was outstanding in this particular role bringing to the stage a fine dramatic talent and a finished accentuation of her lines from beginning to end. Mrs. Everet O'Shea and Miss Jean Murphy as Nella Nelson and Cornelia Curtis respectively, gave of their best in adding laurels to an already fine feminine cast.

John W. Wallace, as Old Andy Andrews took his part admirably well, bringing out the laugh producing incidents as none other can do it. Dr. G.L. Keefe, as Worthington Winter, showed himself capable of rising to the occasion and putting over a part more or less difficult, effectively and well. Dr. J.D. Cummings, as Silas Spencer, the Mayor, was certainly in his right role and showed beyond a doubt the dramatic training of boyhood days in Grand River. George Irving, as Emery Eaton, annually participating in plays, took a hand part splendidly and brought plenty of laughs in every act. Everett Shea, as Guy Graham, a new comer to the stage, was exceptionally good and showed that next year he is going to be a real contender for any leading role.

The children with their appropriate costumes for the Kerry Dance gave a stellar performance of this Irish dance and showed marvellous training at the hands of the Sisters of the Western Hospital.

Some two dozen boys and girls in Irish Airs, were delightfully entertaining and added greatly ot the evening's program.

Music was furnished by Mrs. R.A. McKenna, pianist Messrs. Howard Foley, Frank O'Connor and Henry Myers. A delicious lunch was served by the C.W.L. to the entire cast after the show.

Ontario Election Date Will Affect Federal Choice

OTTAWA, March 27—(CP)—Date of the forthcoming federal election is dependent to some extent on the time chosen for the Ontario election, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today in the Commons.

"I cannot fix the date (of the election) at the moment, not knowing when the Ontario election may take place, and that is another feature that has come into the picture; because any date we may select will have relation to that," Mr. King said.

"But I had hoped that the election might follow very shortly after the termination (April 17) of parliament. I do not mean the date of polling, but the beginning of the campaign might easily take place while the San Francisco conference itself is on. It would be impossible to be sure that in going to San Francisco one would be able to remain there even to the close of the conference in those circumstances."

Newsmen Have Trouble Finding Front Line Now

WITH THE U.S. 1ST ARMY, March 26 — (AP) — The war has just run off and left the "front line" correspondents.

In the first place, nobody knows just where the front is, and trying to get up forward to get news from advance elements of the 1st Army is giving correspondents a beating worse than they took during the dash across France last summer.

The surging attack has left the press camp far in the rear, and as a base of operations it now is almost useless — except for daily briefings by a staff officer in the morning and late afternoon, meals and a place to sleep.

But no correspondent can get too far away from the censorship and communications centre so the daily problem is to get as much news as possible, and then to get back and get it sent.

Correspondents returning from the field with stories late in the day and sometimes after dark look like dirt-track race drivers, their faces are so blackened by the dust thrown up by endless convoys.

With the front moving at such speed, correspondents are trying to get a mobile press camp which can keep at least within reasonable driving distance of the forward elements, and at the same time maintain reliable communications, because there are no indications of any immediate halt to the attack.

KING HEDGES

position of Canada in regard to world security. His statement that Canada's obligations under the proposals of Dumbarton Oaks, on which discussion at San Francisco will be based, would be limited to whatever aid her Parliament should commit her to at a later date was no more, he said, than the suggestion of the great powers. He said it was not his proposal and that he should not be held responsible for it.

Equivocal Statement

At the same time, he did not say that he was opposed to the proposals or that the delegation to San Francisco would be authorized to improve upon them for greater world security. He still left the possibility raised by Progressive Conservative members, that he would be able to make an election appeal to isolationists on the grounds that Canada was not committed to anything.

Mr. King went farther than he has yet gone in support of the "no-commitment" policy of his Government before the war. He stated that it was alone because of the fact that Canada had not been committed to anything that she had given so much voluntarily for this war. Such an attitude ignores completely, of course, the probability that a more forthright commitment of Canada before the war might have helped to prevent the war. If we had stood as firmly for right before the war as we stand today, our enemies might have thought twice before taking their present course of action.

Twice, in his speech, the Prime Minister referred to the coming federal election. He stated that he could not set that date until Ontario had set its election date (as Ottawa circles predicted last week) but that it would be "very soon" and "very shortly." He indicated that he would not be able to spend much time in San Francisco, because he would be needed to run the election at home.

He further pointed out that election writs might be issued any time after the San Francisco conference started. This would mean an election Monday June 25th very possible indeed.

Island Visitors

Seen in the gallery of the House of Commons yesterday were four Progressive Conservative Candidates for Prince Edward Island: W.C.S. McLure and W/C John Angus MacLean D.F.C., Queens, H.F. MacPhee, K.C., Kings and Col. E.H. Strong, MC., Prince. They are in Ottawa attending a meeting of Progressive Conservative party candidates from across the Dominion.

Painful, Pus Filled Boils the Cause of Much Misery

If you suffer from boils you know how sick and miserable they made you feel.

Boils are an outward indication of impurities in the system, and just when you think you are rid of one another crops up to take its place and prolong your misery. All the lancing and poulticing you can do may not stop more coming.

To help overcome boils you should purify the blood, so why not give that old, reliable blood medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, a chance to show what it will do in helping you get rid of them? Thousands have used it for this purpose for the past 60 years. Why not you?
