A PAPER OBJECTS TO FATHER VAUGHAN'S ATTACK

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The Register Extension, the leading organ of the English-speaking Catholics of Canada, will say editorially next week: "We feel somewhat that Father Vaughan's denunciation of Protestantism as 'A soulless religion' was a serious mistake. It is an offensive phrase, and we have been objecting to offensive phrases. The expression means nothing, and has merely served to stir up bad feeling and to create a sentiment of resentment in the breasts of kindly and well-intentioned Protestants. Abuse never made a convert, and we feel that Catholic truth can be unfolded without inflaming the prejudices of those who hold opposite views. The kindly, tactful words of His Grace Archbishop Burchesl, and the equally kindly, urbane and diplomatic message of His Eminence Cardinal Vannutelli, were more in keeping with the true spirit of the great Eucharistic celebration. The Holy Father himself has been touched by the sympathetic attitude of Canada and the British Empire towards this special religious demonstration, and has given public expression of his satisfaction and gratitude."

"The case of the Real Presence in the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist is very strong. Let the unbeliever sit down to his dying hour, as did Henry VIII, Queen Elizabeth and a host of the early reformers. More than three-fourths of the Christian world believe in the Real Presence to-day. We believe we are right and we think we can prove it, and as we have already done so, we are confident our friends are looking for proofs not abuse."

GENEVA, Sept. 11—The renowned St. Bernard dog Barry III, who saved many lives on the Grand St. Bernard Pass, has lost his life in an avalanche after assisting in the rescue of two storm-bound travellers. Barry last Sunday night guided Father Clavendier to two persons who had lost their way in a storm and who were safely brought to the hospice. Then Barry disappeared. As he often passed hours in the pass, coming to the hospice only when help was required, no notice of his absence was taken until Monday morning, when a search was organized and the dog was found in the debris of an avalanche.

VIGOROUS PROTEST BY THE SONS OF ENGLAND.

MTNTREAL, Sept. 11—At the Montreal District Council meeting of the Sons of England Benefit Society, held in Victoria Hall, Westmount, last evening, the following resolution in the names of Father Bernard Vaughan was adopted unanimously: "That this District Council of the Montreal Sons of England is of opinion that the language of the Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, in his lecture delivered on Thursday last, at the Monument National was as far as concerns Protestants and Protestants, intemperate, abusive and unwarrantable, and as such was a flagrant abuse of the hospitality accorded him by the City of Montreal, liable to provoke a condition of riot among its citizens, and should be resented strongly and emphatically by every member of this Order. Further, that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to Father Vaughan himself, to the Protestant Alliance of Great Britain, and also to the English press of the city of Montreal."

ROME, Sept. 11—Speaking yesterday, the Pope declared that Britain and Canada, by the way wherein the two Eucharistic congresses in London and Montreal were welcomed, gave all lands a lesson in tolerance and liberty. It was by direct command of the Pope that Cardinal Vannutelli expressed in a telegram to the King his thanks and those of all Roman Catholics for the modification of the royal declaration. The Pope was very desirous of conveying his gratitude to the British Government, but as official relations do not exist between Britain and the Vatican, he took the occasion of the congress to testify publicly his satisfaction and gratitude.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11—The great Roman Catholic Eucharistic Congress which has been in progress here for the past week, and has attracted Catholics from all parts of the world, was brought to a close today by the procession of the Blessed Sacrament. Never has such a spectacle been witnessed in Montreal. It is estimated that over fifty thousand people took part in the procession, and that fully half a million witnessed it. People poured into the city from all parts of the Dominion and the United States, and Montreal had today in its gates more than it ever had before.

Some idea of the size of the procession may be gotten from the fact that it took nearly four hours to pass a given point. In the procession walked Cardinals, Archbishops, Bishops, thousands of priests and sisters, besides members of the religious institutions, Judges, members of Parliament, Mayor and Aldermen and thousands of others.

The route of procession, which was over the principal streets of the east end of the city, was three miles long. The principal figure in the procession was the Papal Legate, Cardinal Vannutelli, who carried the Host, the 6th Regiment of Montreal forming the escort. As the Host passed through the crowded streets thousands of people were kneeling in adoration. The procession passed off without an accident or a hitch, the weather being ideal.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11—A congregation of thousands of people gathered at the foot of Mount Royal yesterday morning, favored with fine weather to participate in the opening mass of the Eucharistic Congress which had to be cancelled on the previous day owing to wet grounds. Yesterday everything was favorable, and all roads led to the beautiful altar erected at the foot of Mount Royal. Cardinal Vannutelli and many other high dignitaries of the church attended.

The other important function of the morning was pontifical mass at St. Patrick's Church, over which Cardinal Logue, of Ireland, presided. There were no meetings of the English section of the congress yesterday, but the French and educational sections held sessions and discussed a great variety of papers appertaining to the Eucharist.

The colonel reached New York at ten o'clock this morning from Pittsburgh. His auto was waiting for him at the ferry. He hopped into it with agility, was whirled across the city to a ferry for Long Island City and a little later was in Oyster Bay. His first orders were that no one should be permitted to invade the privacy of Sagamore hills, and he immediately relaxed into the comforts and seclusion of his family life. There was much to tell and he spent the day relating the incidents of his trip. Tomorrow he will plunge into an accumulated mass of correspondence.

SHOOTING AT THE KENSINGTON RANGE

Quite an interesting match was fired between the Civilians and the 4th Regiment rifle teams yesterday afternoon. The teams were very closely matched and it seemed anybody's win until the finish. At the two hundred yards the Civilians led by two points, at the 500 yards they had one to the good, but an extra effort at the six hundred yards gave the 4th the advantage all over the ten points. These matches between the above teams are always keenly contested and have been the means of creating great enthusiasm in both clubs. It is to be hoped that several matches will be fired this fall, as they are an excellent training for "bigger" events, like the "Intermaritime" Match, etc.

Special to The Guardian. EDMONTON, Sept. 12—A railway proposition for building a line through the whole Province of Alberta from the international boundary to Peace River, crossing a distance of over 700 miles, was laid before Premier Sifton on Saturday.

There will be a branch line south in Kootenay.

CRIPPEN'S COUNSEL WILL LOOK AFTER THE CASE OF MISS E. LENEVE

LONDON, Sept. 10—Arthur Newton, counsel for Dr. H. H. Crippen, who is on trial here, charged with the murder of his wife, has been engaged to defend Ethel LeNeve, Crippen's typist, who is on trial as an accessory after the fact. This will enable closer co-operation between the two accused persons, who heretofore had not been permitted to consult with one another.

Another step in the fight to save the prisoners from conviction was taken yesterday when two pathologists engaged by the defence examined the body unearthed in Crippen's cellar. Solicitor Newton expects to receive reports from these pathologists in time for use as the basis for his cross-examination of the poison experts when the trial of Dr. Crippen and Miss LeNeve is continued next Wednesday. An analyst has also been retained by the defence to investigate the alleged finding of poison in the body. The engagement of experts to convert evidence offered by the prosecution is unusual in England.

WORRY

An essayist asks his readers if in walking the streets they have ever noticed the weary, careworn looks on the faces of the people they meet, and how few of the men and women of the day possess the sunny, care-free features that suggest a mind devoid of worry; also whether it has ever occurred to them to wonder why so many people look as if they were standing on the brink of a precipice and expected every instant to be hurled to certain death in the rocks below. The chief trouble with the majority of people, the essayist thinks, is that they are abject slaves to their thoughts, and he describes some he knows who give way to despondent thoughts so completely as to lie awake at nights, tossing from one side of the bed to the other, vainly endeavoring to find some way to avoid what seems an impending calamity. In this state of mind some people commit suicide, and others are a continual misery to themselves and a nuisance to others. As there are no good results to be obtained from such conduct, it is surely a folly to give way to it. Some excuse themselves on account of their 'temperament,' and others paradoxically never appear to be quite happy unless they are miserable, and are making others discontented and unhappy.

A WORD OF CHEER. "In life—not death. Hearts need fond words to help them on their way; Need tender thoughts and gentle sympathy, Carresses, pleasant looks, to cheer each day. Then heard them not until they use less be. In life—not death, Speak kindly. Living hearts need sympathy."
