

NEWS of the WORLD in PICTURES

Admiral Louis E. Denfield, chief of United States naval operations, and spokesman for the three United States chiefs of staff who are visiting Europe to discuss the North Atlantic pact military organization, is pictured as he was greeted at Northolt airport, England, by marshal of the Royal Air Force, Lord Tedder, chief of the air staff (left). After the London conferences, Admiral Denfield told newsmen: "All we sought here was an exchange of views and that's what we got. We reached a complete understanding in such an exchange."

In a move that will make it extremely difficult for many Paris designers to have their fall openings as scheduled, 12,000 seamstresses walked out on strike, just five days before many scheduled openings. The girls are shown at a meeting, keeping cool with the help of ice cream cones. Their wage demand is a four-cent-an-hour increase over the present average hourly wage of 15 cents.

"I'm all alone now, Bob was all I had," said Mrs. Nancy McKay, mother of the man whose body was found in a Toronto "lovers' lane." Seen with son, Mrs. McKay has no relatives left in the city.

After Defence Secretary Louis Johnson addressed student delegates attending the American Legion "Boys' Forum of National Government" in Washington, Charles S. Brown, Jr., seated, of War, West Virginia, "Boy Secretary of Defence", and Norman Cohn (right), Waterloo, Ia., "Boy Secretary of the Army", literally "take over" Johnson's office in the Pentagon Building. Johnson told the youth conference that it will probably be unnecessary to reimpose the peace-time draft.

Above is a general view of the wreckage of the Eastern Air Lines passenger plane that collided with a Navy "Hellcat" fighter and crashed on farm two miles from Fort Dix, N. J. The Memphis-bound airliner carried 12 passengers and three crew members and the navy fighter carried one man, all of whom died in crash. So far there is no immediate explanation for the tragedy.

HIGHWAYMEN ON RIVIERA—The Aga Khan, father-in-law of Rita Hayworth and one of the world's richest men, and his wife, the Begum Khan, were robbed by highwaymen near their villa on the French Riviera. Four masked men ambushed their car, shot out the tires and escaped with a jewel case containing gems valued up to $800,000. They also took $6500 in cash.

Just a few hours after his father, Douglas Graham, of Etobicoke, near Toronto, died from gunshot wounds on a neighbor's lawn, Gordon, 16, seen here in a windbreaker with police officer, was arrested and charged with manslaughter. The boy was said to have shot his father with a .22 calibre rifle while they were having an argument. The 36-year-old man had crawled 100 yards to his neighbor's house to seek help, but died before any came.

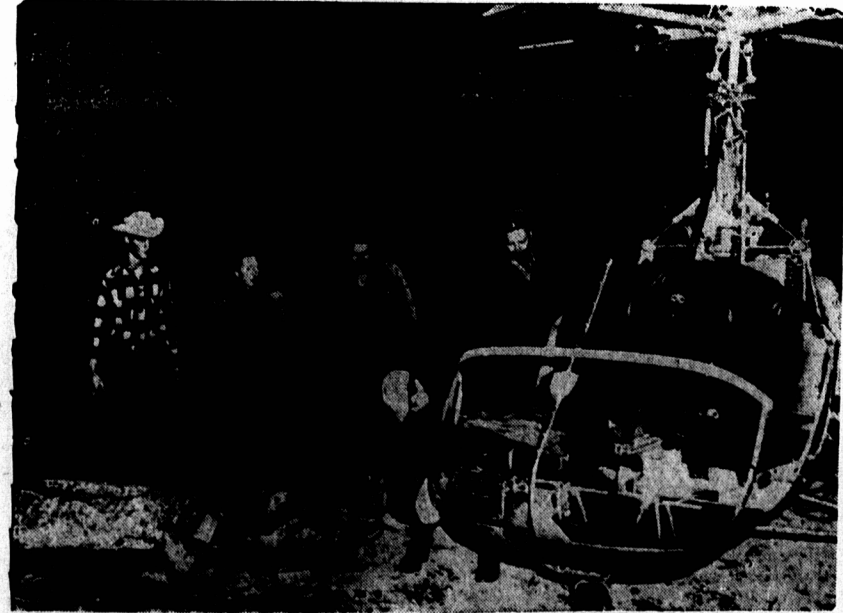

ATOMS UP—I. S. Randall, New York executive, drinks an "atomic cocktail", which he says in American Magazine has helped him recover from cancer. The "cocktail"—radioactive iodine-aided in recalculating his bones. He was suffering from a thyroid condition, which spread cancer through his system, rotting shoulder bones and one vertebra.

Toronto district's sixth slaying in nine days was recorded by police when Douglas Graham (above), 36-year-old truck driver, died of wounds made by a .22-calibre rifle, after staggering from a party at his home in Etobicoke township. Graham died about 100 yards from his home after running to a neighbor's home to try to get a doctor.

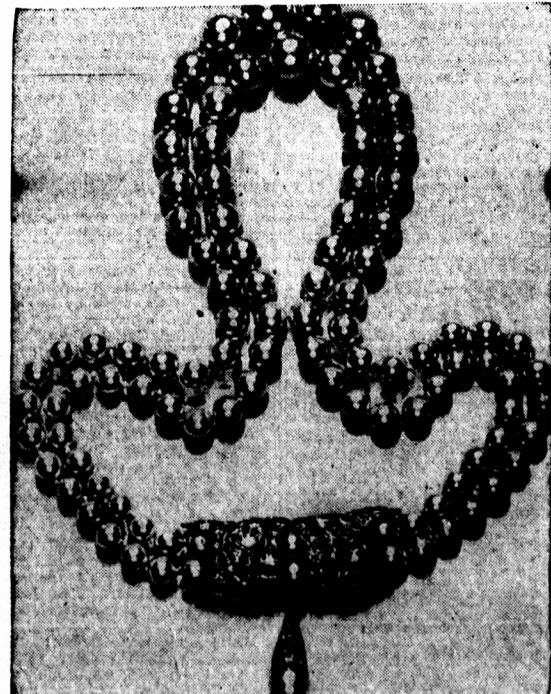

Wedding plans of young Hamilton couple were thwarted when Ernest Jolley, 19, was killed and his fiancée, Evelyn Van Walleghe, 20, was seriously injured when motorcycle they were riding crashed into a taxi just south of Caledonia, Ont. Accident is believed to have been caused by a blown tire from bike or taxi. The couple were planning to be married this Saturday. Here, policeman is seen looking over wreckage of what was once a shiny motorcycle.

Twelve-year-old Terence "Kaye" Hallinan is shown on a stretcher near the helicopter which cleared the 10,000-foot spires of the high Sierras to effect his rescue. Terence was injured when he slipped and fell on his head as he mounted a horse while on a pack trip in the mountainous wilds back of Yosemite National Park in California. He could not be moved by hand or horseback because of his injuries. Test Pilot Jay Deming made the unparalleled rescue—a daring leap over 20 miles of the most rugged terrain in the Sierra chain. Others at rescue scene are, left to right, Guide Don Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Hallinan, parents of the boy, Ranger Wayne Jacobs and Pilot Jay Deming, stooping over in white cap.

A lot of fish in this catch which consists of 370 pounds of blue marlin. The fish, which is believed to be the biggest ever landed at Bermuda, was caught by Durham Stephens, who will certainly be the envy of his neighbors when he gets home.

The pearl necklace and its diamond clip shown here is just one of the glittering baubles filched from the Aga Khan and his begum in daring highway holdup on a lonely road outside Cannes, France. The bandits, in true movie thriller style, shot out the tires of the Aga's car as he and the begum were travelling to visit son, Aly, and daughter-in-law, Rita Hayworth. Altogether, value of the "take," which consisted mostly of jewels, was estimated at $650,000.

Shown above is a police conception of what the murderer of Alfred Lasing, 23, of Toronto, looked like. Alfred, a war veteran, was murdered when he tried to prevent a robber of a grocery store from escaping. The killer escaped, eluded police by fleeing through crowd.
