TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1915.

THIS ELECTION AND THE WAR

When the war is over Canada will be called into the councils of the Mother Country to arrange settlements and readjust territories.

Sir Robert L. Borden and probably Sir George E. Foster will be Canada's representatives, both Maritime Province men.

The British West Indies, British Guiana, British Honduras and Newfoundland and Labrador will probably be added to the Dominion of Canada in the re-arrangement of territory. The area of Newfoundland is 42,734 square miles; the population 238,670. Labrador has an area of 120,000 square miles and a population of 3,949.

The British West Indian possessions fall into six groups as follows: (1) Bahamas, (2) Barbados, (3) Jamaica with Turks Islands, (4) Leeward Islands, (5) Trinidad with Tobago, (6) Windward Islands. Each of these has a Governor, heads of departments and official staffs appointed by the Government of the United Kingdom. British Guiana and British Honduras, the only British possessions on the American continent apart from Canada are similarly administered.

When these tropical and semi-tropical possessions are added to the Dominion of Canada, they will be administered from Ottawa, and the officials will be appointed by the Government at Ottawa.

The salaries of the officials range from $2,500 per annum to $50,000 per annum.

Here will be an outlet for Canadians of proved administrative ability, and there is no reason why Prince Edward Island should not share in the appointments.

The commercial outlets are also enormous, and the work of development of the gold and diamond industries, the sugar industry, the cocoa industry, the rubber industry, the fruit industry will afford further opportunities for Canada's sons.

Prince Edward Islanders will have opportunities in this direction second to none in Canada.

The Borden Government will be in power at the close of the war, either by arrangement with the Opposition or by the will of the people, declared before the end of the war.

Prince Edward Island by supporting the Mathieson Government will be in line with the Borden Government and will reap the fruits of the Dominion's expansion. After the war Canada will be greater than ever before and the opportunities for Canadians greater than ever before.

By supporting the Mathieson Government you support the Borden Government, which supports the Asquith Government.

By voting against the Mathieson Government you vote for Little Canadianism as represented by Mr Benjamin Rogers and dominated by Quebec.

The future of Canada is as much at stake in the present election as the future of Prince Edward Island.

The future of Prince Edward Island's sons is dependent upon the result of this election as much as the future of the province.

Shall the sons of Prince Edward Island remain hewers of wood and carriers of water, or shall they become rulers and administrators of the greatest Empire the world has ever known?

By your votes on Thursday you decide the fate of your children as well as the future of your province.

By voting for the Mathieson Government candidates you vote for Imperial expansion and Imperial opportunities. By voting for Mr Benjamin Rogers' candidates you vote for Little Canadianism and the Three R's education for your children.

THE PATRIOT SLANDERER

Chief of Police P. M. Hughes of Souris wrote to the Patriot offering "to donate the sum of $25 towards a regimental fund for the P.E.I. Heavy Battery or any other patriotic fund if any committee from the clergy or business men of Souris will on examination declare the letter" (signed "A broken-hearted wife and mother," which appeared in the Patriot) "a genuine contribution from a responsible married woman."

The Patriot has failed to publish Mr Hughes's letter and has failed to accept the challenge.

The letter, Mr Hughes declared, was "so outrageous in its disregard for truth," and "so offensive in its attack on the good reputation of the town of Souris" that he naturally supposed a strict inquiry would have been made by the editor of the Patriot as to the standing of its author and the authenticity of the letter.

But no. If anyone wants to slander the Island and the reputation of the Islanders for political gain he is welcome to the columns of the Patriot.

If anyone has a desire to defame the reputation of the Islanders for industry and sobriety, the Patriot will publish the defamation, if it thinks it may make a little political capital thereby.

If anyone wishes to hold up to public contempt and contumely the public men and private citizens, the Patriot is at his service.

The Patriot gloats over anything that will damn the reputation of the Island and the Islanders.

The Patriot rejoices when it can publish slander and libel on the best living, hardest working and most sober living people in Canada to-day.

The Patriot riots in abuse of the people of the province and considers it the acme of Patriotism to hurl the vilest insinuations against their manner of life.

But—

When it is challenged to prove its assertions. When it is asked to put up the money to justify its assertions.

When it is called to submit its evidence to a committee of the clergy or business men.

When it is asked to submit the bona fides of its scurrilous writers—

The Patriot remains silent.

The Patriot exists to slander and revile the Island and the Islanders.

The Patriot rarely has a word to say in favour of the reputation of the Island or the Islanders.

The Patriot rarely lifts its pen to defend the Island or the Islanders from the attacks of the traducer.

Islanders whom it traduces should return to place and power its editor, his nominees and servile band of slanderers and defamers.

The people of Prince Edward Island will show by their votes on Thursday, the 16th inst., their utter abhorrence of the Patriot, its minions and all their crooked ways.

The Patriot has failed to accept a challenge to clear its reputation and stands condemned before every Islander at home and abroad as a mean, contemptible slanderer.

PROHIBITING TEMPERANCE

The Temperance Alliance is supposed to support temperance, temperance men, temperance advocates, temperance principles and temperance candidates.

The Secretary of the Temperance Alliance, Mr David Schurman, the Travelling Secretary of the Alliance, Rev. W. D. Wilson, and a band of Grit heeled are out opposing temperance men, temperance advocates, temperance principles and temperance candidates.

The Secretary of the Temperance Alliance, the Travelling Secretary, and their coterie of Grit supporters have been campaigning in Murray Harbour in support of Mr A. F. Bruce, who was unseated in 1902 for corrupt practices and supplying drink to the electors.

Judge Hodgson, on whose certificate Mr Bruce was unseated, wrote a scathing letter to the Grit Government of 1902, demanding the prosecution of a number of Mr Bruce's Grit supporters for flooding the district with drink and for other corrupt practices.

On the motion of the then Premier, Mr Peters, seconded by Mr Benjamin Rogers, the Liberal Government declined to take any action against the men whom Judge Hodgson reported.

The Temperance Alliance Officials are now supporting the man who was unseated in 1902.

Are the electors of Murray Harbour to tolerate this insult to their intelligence when they have two life-long temperance men and temperance advocates in Messrs A. P. Prowse and Murdoch McKinnon to represent them?

The members of the Temperance Alliance, the great body of temperance people, and the churches loathe and despise the tactics of the insincere Secretary and Travelling Secretary of the Alliance, who, out of a spirit of personal revenge, would sacrifice the cause of temperance in Murray Harbour.

These same insincere officials have carried their campaign into the Cardigan district in opposition to two pledged temperance men and total abstainers, Messrs John A. Macdonald and J. A. Dewar.

The two officials of the Temperance Alliance are supporting Mr J. J. Johnson, who is not a declared supporter of prohibition, who is not a teetotaler and who has been the principal defender of those prosecuted for contravention of the Prohibition Law.

These two officials are also supporting Mr J. W. Caruthers, who has been convicted of contravention of the Prohibition Law.

Are the respectable temperance, god-fearing people of Cardigan district to be driven to the polls by Messrs Schurman and Wilson in support of the opponents of the effective administration of prohibition?

Is the Temperance Alliance to be prostituted as a machine of the Drink Traffic and Rum Sellers in Murray Harbour and Cardigan?

If so, the days of the Temperance Alliance are numbered, for no self-respecting man, be he Grit or Tory, would for a moment give countenance to an organisation which is run in the interests of the drink traffic at elections, while preying upon the temperance sentiment for financial support between elections.

By their deeds ye shall know them.

PROTECTION PRODUCES MUNITIONS

Millions of dollars' worth of munitions of war are now being manufactured in the industrial plants of Canada and more large orders for additional goods are on the way from the Allies. Mr D. A. Thomas, the representative sent to Canada to supervise the purchase of munitions by the Right Honorable David Lloyd George, stated in an interview in Toronto that the munitions manufactured in Canada were of excellent quality and were quite satisfactory.

The wisdom and foresight of those who framed the National Policy and put it into effect has been strikingly justified from a military as well as from an economic standpoint. In time of war our factories are protecting our people and property as in times of peace they promoted national prosperity. If Free Traders had been allowed to put their policy into effect, thereby making Canada an adjunct of the United States, their war orders would not now be placed in the factories of Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Winnipeg and many other Canadian cities, but would be filled by the factories of Chicago, Buffalo and Philadelphia, upon which we would have been industrially dependent both in times of war as well as in times of peace. Protection has not only protected our industries and allowed them to exist and develop, but is now enabling us to forge weapons in our own country to protect our selves from our enemies.—Industrial Canada.

BAD BOYS.

(The 'New Statesman,' London.)

Among the many classes which have acquitted themselves with distinction in the present war the bad boys must be included. It has just been announced that no fewer than 19,648 boys trained in reformatories and industrial schools have served in the war since August last. Three of them have won the Victoria Cross; twenty-five have earned the Distinguished Conduct Medal; twenty have been mentioned in despatches, and three have obtained commissions. This is encouraging news for parents. It will remind them that the worst child is redeemable. It may even revive the conventional theory that the worst children are the best. The prejudice in favor of naughty children has always been common among parents. They are afraid of a child that is too good, as of a creature that is not likely to live long. They are more comfortable in the presence of a little kicking, screaming, tearing, thing. They may denounce it, and in circles in which people do not restrain themselves, they may even fight it with their fists, but, on the whole, they console themselves with the thought that it is showing a manly spirit. It is the same all through its boyhood and youth. Even the most nervous parents do not of course, wish their son to grow up a scoundrel, but in nine cases out of ten they would be terrified if they saw him growing up a saint. Many a hero has been bred in the reformatory and many a convict has been educated in the Sunday School. On the other hand, this must not be taken as meaning that the balance is not struck in favor of an early discipline of virtue. After all, it may be fairly argued that the reformatory is a much more rigid school of discipline than the Sunday School.
