

It's hard to excuse Dishpan Hands

Guests arriving—everything perfect except...

MY dinner table, set with all my best china for our dinner to Jim's new friends, had never looked prettier. But it made my poor hands look dreadfully coarse by comparison. They simply broadcast 'Dishpan'

"And because I know it's just such little things that others judge us by, I became self-conscious... ill at ease... at my own dinner table.

"Of course it was foolish of me. With Lux always in the house I was still using old-fashioned harsh soap for the dishes. Until that night I had not realized just how pitifully rough and red it made my hands look.

"Now I use Lux for all my dishes. And for cleaning, too! My hands no longer are reddened and coarse. I'm really PROUD now of my dinner-table hands."

Many household soaps—flakes, chips and cakes—are made in the old-fashioned way. They contain harmful alkali that makes the skin rough.

There is no injurious alkali in Lux. Made by a remarkable process, Lux actually SOOTHES the skin, leaves it a little whiter and softer than before.*

Instant, sparkling Lux suds, ready before you ever put your hands in, are so rich and CLEANSING that the dishes seem almost to wash themselves!

The big package of Lux washes six weeks' dishes! Lovely hands for so small a price!

*Many beauty parlors use Lux in manicuring the nails, to soften and whiten the fingers.

—FUNERAL SERVICES.—The funeral of the late Mr. Peter Morrison, which left his residence on Water St., Georgetown, at 9 a. m., was one of the largest seen for some time. The services at the Church and grave were conducted by Rev. O. Kiggins. The pall bearers were: T. E. Morrisey, Daniel Skinner, F. J. Solomon, James Skinner, James McPhee, Peter Ross.

—FIRST COMMUNION CLASS.—A number of pupils of St. James' Church, Georgetown, received first Communion. As the children entered, dressed in white, with white veils, the Organist rendered pleasing music. Mass was celebrated by Rev. O. Kiggins, who gave the children Holy Communion, and also addressed the children briefly, imparting good advice to the youthful recipients. Later in the morning they were enrolled in the Scapular. A.

In Memoriam

MISS MARGARET DAWSON

Seldom or ever were the people of any community more shocked than were the people of Albany when they had learned that in the early morning hours of Tuesday, April 10th, Miss Margaret Dawson, the youngest and the dearly beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Dawson had passed quite suddenly away at the early age of 20 years.

The deceased was possessed of quite a strong constitution and scarcely knew what it was to be ill. For several years she had been the day operator in the Central Telephone Office, Albany, and was always ready for her work.

For a few days in the early part of April she was not feeling quite so well as usual, and acting under the doctor's orders she had planned to rest for a week or more.

A course of medicine was prescribed but instead of improving she grew gradually worse and in about three days time the end came. But strange and mysterious as her death may have been all that medical skill and kind friends could do was done—but all to no avail.

On the above mentioned date her zentle spirit winged its heavenward flight.

Besides her almost heart-broken father and mother, Margaret leave to mourn the loss of a kind and loving sister two half-brothers and one half-sister and three full brothers and three full sisters.

The half brothers are Frank Dawson and Major Dawson, New York and the half sister is Mrs. Augustus Waddell, Tryon, and the full brothers are Murdock Dawson, Stirling Dawson and Charles Dawson, Albany—the last mentioned brother Charles has passed away since his sister's death, and the full sisters are Mrs. Albert Brown, New York and Misses Christie Dawson and Sadie Dawson at home. Margaret was well and favorably known throughout the whole countryside—in fact, because of her position in the Telephone office throughout a large part of the Island—will be much missed by a large circle of relatives and friends.

It mattered little what came of her she had a cheering smile and a pleasant word for everybody.

Although the Central Telephone Office is a very trying place, she was ever calm and unruffled and always played the part of a lady in all of her dealings with the public.

She has been spoken of as one of the most popular—if not the most popular of all of the operators in the employ of the P. E. Island Telephone Company.

Her passing will mean a great loss to her many friends and admirers; but while all shall miss her it is the home that her loss will be felt most keenly. Her very presence there was always a benediction. She carried an atmosphere of good cheer with her and radiated sunshine upon all with whom she came in contact.

Her loved ones will often sigh for the touch of a vanished hand, and long for the sound of a voice that is still—but all to no avail. No more will the touch of that vanished hand be felt and never again shall the sound of that voice that is now stilled be heard again upon the earth.

Margaret was a loyal member of the Presbyterian Church at North Tryon and was ever ready to help out in every good work. She had indeed learned the art of being always kind and helpful.

Through her days of illness she never murmured nor complained. Even then she was thinking more of others than herself—lest she might be a trouble to any. Death had no terrors for her. She knew in whom she had believed and she was persuaded that she was able to keep what she had committed to His trust against that day. Her passing was one of sweet peace. The funeral was held on the afternoon of Thursday, April 12th.

Although the day was very wet and the roads almost impassable people were present from every side and a large concourse followed the remains to their last resting place.

In the absence of Rev. R. Hensley Gavert in Halifax, the service was conducted by Rev. D. M. Lamont assisted by Rev. George Somers.

After a short service in the house the regular service was held in the Church of Scotland, Cape Traverse.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and consisted of the following:

Pillow—Father, Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

Cross—Major Dawson, Saranac Lake, New York.

Motherhood!

Peterboro, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to me. I had become all run down, tired, weak and miserable, had no appetite and my nerves were all upset. I saw the 'Prescription' advertised as being helpful to prospective mothers so I decided to try it. It built me up, quieted my nerves, gave me an appetite and I got along fine. The remainder of the time was able to do all my own work. I had comparatively no suffering, and my baby was very strong and healthy."—Mrs. Lotie Murney, 301 Townsend St.
