

EIGHT ATTACKS BY DESTROYERS

Put Four Russian Ships out of Action

One Sunk, One Stranded, Two More Disabled—Attempting to Escape. Driven Back Into the Harbor.

TOKIO, June 26.—Admiral Togo's detailed report of the attempted escape of the Russian fleet from Port Arthur indicates that the Russians had considerable difficulty in emerging from the harbor and that they were unable to re-enter it during the darkness.

The operation of coming out lasted from 11 a. m. to 3.30 p. m., after which the Russians found themselves closely watched by the scouting squadron, but until 6.15 p. m. they were not sighted by the Japanese main squadron, which was lying perdu waiting a favorable moment to attack.

When the fleets sighted one another a distance of 14,000 metres (about 15,000 yards) separated them. The Russians formed a double column line ahead, one column being composed of six battleships and four cruisers, led by the Czarevitch, and the other column consisting of the Novik and seven destroyers.

However, the Russians quickly steered back to Port Arthur, followed by Admiral Togo's fleet in line ahead, but it was nightfall, before they were within range.

These doings are much discussed in Japan, where the experts apparently incline to the view that such an enterprise will be repeated, profaning a serious dash for freedom.

London, June 27.—The Central News, has received the following dispatch from its Tokyo correspondent, dated June 25 evening.

"A detailed account of the naval battles at Port Arthur has just been published here.

"The Russian battleships Perovskiy, Foltava, and Sevastopol and the cruisers Byzan, Akol, and Novik attempted to emerge from the harbor at dawn on June 23, led by steamers used for clearing the mines. At 11 A. M. the battleships Czarevitch, Retvizan, and Pobieda joined the others.

"All the ships then advanced, endeavoring to dispose of the mines laid by the Japanese; but they were hindered by two Japanese torpedo boat destroyers which had been guarding the mouth of the harbor.

"At 3 P. M. the Japanese torpedo boats exchanged shots with seven Russian destroyers which were covering the clearing operations. One of the Russian destroyers was set on fire and rested inside the harbor.

"Subsequently the Japanese decoyed the Russians out to sea, and awaited an opportunity to begin a general action, but between 8 and 9 p. m. the Russian ships made for the harbor. The Japanese torpedo boat destroyers and torpedo boats chased the Russians, and at 9.30 delivered the first attack, in consequence of which the enemy was driven into

HOW THE PALLADA WAS STRUCK BY TORPEDO.

The Russian armored cruiser Pallada, which was torpedoed by the Japanese during the second attack on Port Arthur, has been drawn up on the smaller dry dock at that point. The effect of the explosion is strikingly shown in the photograph. The man standing in the gash in the vessel's side made it evident that a hole 10 feet in diameter, roughly speaking, was made. The Pallada, having all steam up and being near the shore, managed to beach before sinking. No attempt had been made by May 15, when the picture was taken, to repair the damage, and it is very doubtful if either the machinery or the mechanics can be found in Port Arthur to perform such work.

The crown of womanhood is motherhood. But uneasy lies the head that wears the crown or anticipates this coronation, when there is a lack of womanly strength to bear the burdens of maternal dignity and duty. The reason why so many women sink under the strain of motherhood is because they are unprepared.

"I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. J. W. G. Stephens, of Mills, Northumberland Co., Va. The reason for this advice is that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best preparative for the maternal function. No matter how healthy and strong a woman may be, she cannot use "Favorite Prescription" as a preparative for maternity without gain of health and comfort. But it is the women who are not strong who best appreciate the great benefits received from the use of "Favorite Prescription." For one thing its use makes the baby's advent practically painless. It has in many cases reduced days of suffering to a few brief hours. It has changed the period of anxiety and struggle into a time of ease and comfort.

The proprietors and makers of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, of Buffalo, N. Y., ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

attacks were delivered, lasting until dawn of Friday.

"In one of these assaults the Chirataka twice torpedoed a battleship of the Perovskiy type and sank her. A battleship of the Sevastopol type and a cruiser of the Diana type were disabled and towed away.

"The Russian vessels re-entered the harbor during Friday.

"The newspapers publish eulogistic articles upon Admiral Togo's prompt action."

Subsequently a third Russian battleship was found stranded on Tiger Rocks.
