Truro Bearcats Hold Moncton To 3-3 Tie

MONCTON, N.B., Dec. 7 —(CP)— Truro Bearcats rounded out their best week in the Maritime Senior Hockey League schedule Saturday night when they held hard-fighting Moncton Hawks to a 3-3 tie. It was the fifth game in six nights for the League-leading Bearcats and the high-flying Truro team emerged from the gruelling series with four wins and one tie.

Saturday night's game was one of the best of the season on Moncton ice despite Bearcats' obvious intention of permitting Hawks to do most of the forcing while they waited for the breaks. Hawks kept Truro bottled up in their own end of the rink for minutes at a time but superb net-minding by Sonny MacDonald robbed the Monctonians of several scores after they had beaten the defence.

Long John (Kink) McDonald was the standout performer for the Truro team and provided the scoring spark that enabled them to keep on even terms with Hawks. He scored two goals, both in the hard-fought third period. Buck Whitlock, the League's leading scorer, again was a tower of strength to the Hawks and duplicated McDonald's two-goal scoring effort.

The defensive work of Grabowski and Kearns on the Truro rearguard also was outstanding. The Bearcats were without the services of the stellar utility man, Bert Steele, and Grabowski and Kearns were forced to play the entire 60 minutes without relief.

Although play was rugged all the way, with even the forwards handing out stiff body checks, only one penalty was called during the entire game. It went to Lou Medynski in the third when he used his stick to upset Wee Willie Agnew. But the penalty worked against Hawks, and it was while the Moncton team was pressing their one-man advantage that Kink McDonald broke away from a Hawk ganging attack and combined with Robertson for a Truro goal.

Truro scored the first goal of the game at 16:28 of the first period, Barkwell netting Medynski's pass. Fourteen seconds later, Whitlock tied the score on a Hawk ganging attack with Bell and Demchuk assisting.

The second period was scoreless until Demchuk beat Sonny MacDonald after taking a pass from Whitlock and Bell at 19:03. Truro tied the score again at 5:49 of the third period, but Whitlock gave Hawks the lead again seven minutes later after another passing bout with Bell and Demchuk.

Truro dressed only 11 men for the game but showed surprising defensive strength. Hawks were handicapped by the absence of playing coach Les Ramsay. Gene Poirier, a converted defenceman centred for Jodoin and Gagnon, but the line was unable to get going. Ramsay, kept out of the game by an ankle injury directed his charges from the bench.

May Play Mar. Quoit Tourney

Sponsored by the Parkdale Quoit Club, and with the co-operation of the Maritime Amateur Athletic Union, it is hoped that during the coming Summer, with the Parkdale Club as host club, to stage in Charlottetown a Maritime Quoit Tourney which will bring together teams from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island.

The Maritime Amateur Athletic Union is presently attempting to work up interest in this grand old sport and it is hoped within a reasonable time to have a definite annoucement with regard to dates, rules for the tourney, etc.

Winners of the tourney, in addition to gaining the Maritime Quoit title, will be awarded the Maritime Central Airways Trophy which has been donated through the kindness of Captain Carl Burke as emblematic of the Maritime Quoit championship.

P.W.C. Hoop Team Wins Exhibition

Walter Goss's up and coming Prince of Wales basketball quintet cutplayed the intermediate team from St. Dunstan's on Saturday night to the tune of 49 - 20

The Red and Blue were away at a fast clip from the opening whistle ond had built up a 22-4 margin at half time. The Saints playing their first game of the season, rallied in the better competed second half and for a time scored basket for basket with the winners. However, the Welshmen had the edge, outscoring the Red and White 27-16.

The young duo of MacLean and MacLennan sparkled on the offensive for the winners while the rearguard of Sterns and LeClair were as steady as the proverbial rock on defence.

LaChance and Clinton carried the mail for the losers who with more practice will be a definite threat in future intermediate play. The Saints were strange to each other and were faced by a more accurate band of ball tossers Saturday night.

MacLean led the scoring for the evening as he hooped 16 points and played a steady game both ways. The tall centre was pressed hard for honors by teammate MacLennan who threw in 14 points.

Referee: Windy LePage.

Kiddies Program Starts Tomorrow

At a meeting to be held this evening, final arrangements will be made for allottment of time etc. for the Playground Commission Physical Fitness program at the Charlottetown Forum. In the meantime the programme will get underway at the Forum tomorrow morning at 10.00 A.M. when there will be a skate for the pupils of Grades 1 to 3 of Prince Street School. The pupils of Grades 1 to 3 of West Kent School have their opening skate at 11.00 A.M., and in the afternoon at 2.00 P.M. Grades 1 to 3 of Queen Square School will have their turn.

On Wednesday at 11.00 A.M. the girls of Grades 1 to 3 of Rochford Square School have been allotted an opening period.

Complete programme as approved by the Principals of the various schools will be published through the press within the next day or so.

Everything points to an excellent Winter's entertainment of healthy sport for the children and it is felt that parents throughout the City should heartily appreciate the opportunity being offered to the children by the Playground Commission and Department of Physical Fitness.

Election talk took second place Saturday to the Joe Louis-Joe Walcott scrap the previous night with fight fans gathering on every corner to discuss the decision that robbed the 15 to 1 underdog, Walcott of a million dollars and the world's heavyweight title.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Given no chance whatsoever to beat the hitherto invincible Louis Walcott confounded the experts with his performance, but he in turn was confounded when the judges voted against him and in turn saw the record crowd still more confounded as they vented their disapproval by filling Madison Square Garden with a sound of boos unprecedented in the fight game.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Now Walcott's manager has let it be known that he will protest the decision. How much good it will do still remains to be seen. But to the perhaps millions who either listened to or saw the scrap there is no doubt in their mind that Friday night saw the reign of the Brown Bomber end and underdog Jersey Joe Walcott ascend the throne.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Starting today local fight fans will have the opportunity of witnessing the fight on the screen. Showing at both the Prince Edward and Capitol Theatres for three days and nights Manager George Walters lost little time in securing the films and it is expected that large crowds will avail themselves of the privilege of witnessing the scrap through the eyes of the camera and by so doing settle a lot of the arguments that are now waging fast and furiously.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

The announcement appearing elsewhere in this page of a meeting to organize minor hockey in the City for the winter months comes as a very welcome bit of news to the hundreds of young players making up this bracket.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

As in the past most of the Juvenile and Midget games will be played in the Forum in the form of double-headers on Friday nights to enable the many youthful followers of the various teams to attend without having their studies hampered in any way.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

During the past two seasons through the efforts of a few interested sportsmen and the co-operation of the Forum, through its genial Manager, C. F. Archer, marked strides have been made in bringing along the youngsters. Those interested are fully aware that if we are to ever bring the name "Abegweit" back in Senior sport it is necessary to develop so many players here in Charlottetown that it will be impossible for them all to migrate to "greener pastures."

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

With the stage all set for another good winter, and with numerous prospects within the ranks of the youngsters, all that will be necessary to do a real job and furnish excellent entertainment will be the support the parents and friends can give by turning out to cheer the youngsters in the various games.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

For the first time in their history, the Detroit Red Wings appear to have an outstanding candidate for the Calder Trophy, awarded annually to the National Hockey League player adjudged the "Rookie of the Year".

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

There is no secret about the Detroit club's nomination. As a matter of fact Red Wings officials feel that the more people who know about "their man" the better. It is James Alexander McFadden, a chunky son of the Emerald Isle.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

If the voting was to be done now, there wouldn't be any doubt about McFadden's election. His position as co-holder of the N.H.L. scoring leadership along with Maurice (The Rocket) Richard of Canadiens, speaks for itself. He has nine goals and 12 assists in 17 games for a total of 21 points. Richard has 10 goals and 11 assists.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

But this factor, important as it is in evaluating a hockey player, doesn't nearly begin to tell the story of the hard-going centre's real worth to the Red Wings. In the parlance of the hockey brethren he is what is known as a "two-way" player. He is as effective when his team desires to protect a lead, as he is at harvesting goals. That's the reason he has seen as much, if not more action than any Detroit player this year.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Incidentally, it is interesting to note in checking over the past winners of the Calder Trophy, since its inauguration in the season of 1936-37, that it has never been won by a defenceman. Toronto has had the most winners, five, starting with Syl Apps the year the cup was first put up for competition.

Leafs Win Two Games Over Week-end To Take 4-Point Lead

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 —(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs edged out Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 tonight for their second victory of the week-end, retaining leadership of the National Hockey League. The Leafs beat Chicago 12-5 Saturday.

The Leafs now are four points in front in the N.H.L.

Emile (Cat) Francis of Regina appeared in the Chicago net tonight, replacing rookie Doug Jackson who let 12 goals in Saturday. Francis came up in a hurry from Kansas City to take over from Jackson who has allowed 42 goals in seven games since he succeeded Francis two weeks ago.

Bob Goldham of Chicago and Gus Mortson of Toronto mixed it up in the first period when they threw off their gloves and Mortson was floored with a right to the chin.

Gus Bodner of the Hawks suffered a deep skate cut over his right instep in the second period and is expected to be out for at least three weeks.

TORONTO 12, CHICAGO 5

TORONTO, Dec. 7 —(CP)—Maybe Chicago Black Hawks will be forced to dangle the other half of their once-famous Bentley brother act as trading bait to obtain a suitable goalie but they'll have to do something drastic to assure National Hockey League fans they won't again have to witness such appalling efforts as the one displayed Saturday night by rookie Doug Jackson.

The Hawks lost one half of the Bentley duet in a swap with the Leafs and Saturday night Max fired three goals against his former mates as the world champions swamped the Hawks 12-5 before 13,471 fans in the highest scoring N.H.L. game of the season. Doug, other half of the disjoined Bentley act, was kept off the score sheet.

Jackson, elevated from Kansas City Plamors of the United States League, received a slight facial cut after Harry Watson beat him for his third goal after 40 seconds of the third period and retired for repairs.

Toronto fans have not seen such a wobbly performance by a pro netminder since the night late last winter when the Hawks plucked Emile (The Cat) Francis from Regina amateur ranks to replace Paul Bibeault. On current showings, Bibeault still looks good enough to outblock either Jackson or Francis even while wallowing in the minors with Buffalo Bisons.

BOSTON 1, CANADIENS 0

BOSTON, Dec. 7—(AP) — After going through seven straight National League games without a victory, Boston Bruins shut out Montreal's Canadiens, 1-0 tonight, before a 13,900 crowd at the Boston Garden. Defenceman Pat Egan lashed in a 30-footer during the fourth minute of the middle session.

Pete Babando launched that game-winning play by heading a five-man rush and he set up Joe Carveth for a close-up shot. Carveth then managed to bat back his own rebound to Egan.

Canadiens were aggressive throughout but the Bruins' checking was so effective that they had only 19 shots as goalie Frankie Brimsek turned in his second shutout of the season.

Canadiens played without their top scoring threat, right winger Maurice (Rocket) Richard, who suffered a knee injury Saturday night while his forces were topping the Detroit Red Wings, 4-0.

Summary:

Durocher Back As Manager Of Dodgers

Refuses To Recognize Louis

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 —(AP)—The National Police Gazette, arbiter of boxing in the days of John L. Sullivan, announced in a statement Saturday night it is withdrawing recognition of Joe Louis as world heavyweight boxing champion and recognizing Jersey Joe Walcott.

H.H. Roswell, publisher, said a championship "belonged to any challenger when he demonstrated decisive superiority."

Walcott's Manager To Protest

NEW YORK, Dec. 7— (AP)— They refought the Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott encounter on 10,000 street corners today, and at the finish the somewhat overaged dark destroyer still was heavyweight champion of the world.

There will be yet another revival of Friday night's 15-round thriller at 11 a.m. tomorrow, when Walcott's manager, Joe Webster of Camden, N. J., is to beard the New York State Boxing Commission and demand that his man be awarded the title on the "point system."

The result there will be the same.

There isn't a chance that Webster's appeal will alter the 2-1 verdict. They don't make refunds on fight results. As one well-known rustic figure explained it, chairman Eddie Eagan of the Boxing Commission "is just bein' courteous to an outsider."

The "point system" on which Webster will base his claim comes into use in New York State only when an official finds that his card shows that two men have fought a draw on the basis of rounds won. In that event, he adds up his points to give the victory to one or the other. The idea was thought up by Eagan to avoid draws.

Neither gladiator showed up Saturday to claim his cheque. Louis remained up in Harlem, having cold compresses applied to his nearly-closed left eye. Walcott, whose strange, shifty style almost scored one of the great upsets of boxing history hurried to his Camden home early in the day after learning that one of his six children was ill.

Examination showed that Louis' right hand, which he hurt when he banged Walcott's close-clipped skull in the fifth round, was not broken, but it still was swollen and painful.

The promoters had not yet figured what each fighter would draw but it was believed Louis would receive $70,000, Walcott $24,000.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Dec. 7 — (AP) — Leo Durocher returned to baseball Saturday as manager of Brooklyn Dodgers "without prejudice" from Commissioner A.B. Chandler, who had suspended him for the entire 1947 season.

Gracefully yielding to the inevitable, Burt Shotton, who won a pennant as the interim skipper last season, retired from active management to accept a vague but lucrative position that he termed "a nice, old man's job". The 63-year-old Shotton will oversee the work of the managers in the Dodgers' 26-club farm system.

No salary terms were announced for Durocher but it was believed the figures will match the $50,000 his contract was reported to have called for last season. Actually, the contract has not been signed and may not be until spring training but that is a mere formality. It will be for one year.

Shortly after the Brooklyn announcement, Chandler followed with a statement designed to clarify Durocher's status.

Chandler said that "as far as the commissioner's office is concerned, Leo Durocher returns to baseball without prejudice and will be judged by his conduct in the future."

Breaking his own silence decree on the stormy Havana episode of last spring which led directly to Leo's suspension, Chandler said: "The grounds were sufficient and were known both to Durocher and Mr. Rickey." He added there had been "an accumulation of unpleasant incidents."

Meeting Tonight

There will be a meeting of various sponsors, managers, and coaches, interested in the organization of Midget and Juvenile Hockey in the City of Charlottetown, tonight at 7.30 at the Travel Bureau Office.

These leagues will be run under the jurisdiction of the Abegweit Amateur Athletic Association.

Get New Manpower

HALIFAX, Dec. 7 — (CP) — Halifax Crescents will be bolstered by a veteran forward, a rookie cage cop and a new import when they take the ice against circuit-leading Truro Bearcats for a Maritime Senior Hockey League fixture here Monday night, manager Gerald Hanrahan announced today.

Added to Halifax's line-up for tomorrow night's battle will be Tommy (Windy) O'Neill, a former Toronto Maple Leaf who played for Crescents last year, Gummie Gilfoy, formerly with Maritime junior champion St. Mary's of Halifax, and Maurice Gougeoun of Ottawa, who arrived here Saturday.
