Coins Handled Automatically

A tremendous amount of labor is saved daily at the office of the Detroit street railways by automatic coin-handling machines. A bank of machines handles an average of 200,000 coins each day. The machines are operated by one-third horsepower motors. The coins are placed in hoppers at the top, in all denominations, just as they come from the fare boxes on the cars. Without further attention, battered and badly worn pieces are thrown out and the remaining coins are sorted into their respective denominations. These are accurately counted and properly wrapped in rolls of any desired amounts.

CAN IT BE STOPPED.

People who live near, or have occasion to go near, the Lefurque Abutment, Summerside, on Sundays are beginning to get first-hand knowledge of what it may be like on the Mexican border at times. Every Sunday, according to the reports, there are frequent and furious sessions with the tricky pasteboards, some of the sessions ending up with a free-for-all fight. One of these fist encounters was staged last Sunday and it is said that quite a bit of blood was spattered over the battle area before the slaughter was finished to the satisfaction of all concerned.

MASONIC PARADEE.

One of the most attractive functions of the fall season in Summerside was the annual church parade on Sunday last of the Masonic Lodges. More than fifty brethren, under the direction of Marshall Albert Oakes paraded from their rooms in Water Street to the Methodist Church, where a very apt and helpful sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. George R. Morris. The music, specially arranged for the occasion, was most delightful, including a special anthem, with Mrs. Morris as soloist; a baritone solo by A. F. Sharpe; a male quartet by Messrs. L. B. Crue, G. Rowless, J. Heustis and C. Campbell.

—GET YOUR DICTIONARY—It is said, so the story goes, that a preacher had been reminded that some of his sermons contained words that were rather elongated, as it were, and that his sermons, entire, were pretty much of the same family. It is said, so the story continues, that the minister made the following apology to his congregation: "Respected Friends: My oral documents having been the subject of your vituperation, I hope it will not be an instance of vain eloquence or supererogation, if I laconically promulgate, that avoiding all syllogistical, aristocratical and peripatetical propositions, all hyperbolic exaggerations, all philosophical, philologically, politically, or polemically considered, either in my diurnal perorations, or nocturnal lucubrations, they shall be definitely and categorically assimilated with and rendered congenial to the occupants, caputs and cerebrums of you, my most superlatively respectable auditory." The story does not say whether the preacher was harmed in any way afterwards, or if more than the usual time was consumed by the congregations on its way home.

—LIVED TO REST—The funeral of the late James B. Dempsey, who remains arrived here on Monday evening from Regina, was held on Tuesday morning to the R. C. Cemetery. This was the first cargo of produce to leave any island port this fall. A.

—SPORTS—Sports have taken a leap in Georgetown this past summer, especially it is noticeable in the school grounds. Jumping pits have been erected and all pupils both boys and girls are practicing every day in the athletic line. The boys are also procuring a football and with training will no doubt be able to give a good account of themselves this fall. The teachers and pupils are endeavoring to arrange a field day for the boys and girls and if this will be accomplished it will be open at least to the schools of King's County and probably to the Island. A.
