

BOWLING
WRESTLING
HOCKEY

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

BOXING
BASKETBALL
OTHER SPORT

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

MEET "HICKEY" NICHOLSON

FRIDAY NIGHT at 8.30

Charlottetown ABBIES

VS.

Moncton Hawks

Reserved Seats—50c, 75c, $1.00.
Balcony—35c. Children's Seats—25c

Tickets on sale at Forum Box Office Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Summerside Badminton

ST. MARY'S, 7; TRINITY, 5.

The third tournament of the Summerside Badminton League was played in St. Mary's Hall on Monday evening, between St. Mary's and Trinity Clubs. Good badminton was played all through and some close finishes were witnessed. At the end of the game St. Mary's were winners with a score of 7 in their favor. The next match will be played on Thursday between the Presbyterians and Summerside High School.

The previous game between these clubs postponed from last week on account of illness will be played at the end of the other league season. umpire, Mr. Jardine.

The scores are as follows:

Ladies' Doubles
St. Mary's, V. Arnett and E. McEneaney; Trinity, L. Linkletter and Harris, won by Trinity, 13-18, 15-11.

St. Mary's, R. Muttart and I. Arnett; Trinity, Martha and Mary Johnson, won by St. Mary's, 17-14, 15-11.

St. Mary's, A. Greene and E. McEneaney; Trinity, S. Meadows and Morrison, won by St. Mary's, 15-9, 15-8.

Mixed Doubles
St. Mary's, J. Moore and T. Arnett; Trinity, Martha Nicholson and Harris, won by Trinity, 15-10, 15-10.

St. Mary's, C. MacArthur and A. Arnett; Trinity, D. Harris and S. Morrison, won by St. Mary's, 15-8, 15-4.

St. Mary's, A. Greene and J. Arnett; Trinity, Z. Linkletter and E. Clark, won by St. Mary's, 12-8, 15-10.

St. Mary's, E. McKenna and A. Arnett; Trinity, Mary Nicholson and Brooks, won by St. Mary's, 15-9, 15-8.

St. Mary's, V. Arnett and J. Bowring; Trinity, H. Rankin and J. Arnett, won by Trinity, 11-15, 10-15.

St. Mary's, R. Muttart and A. Williams; Trinity, E. Morrison and J. Arnett, won by Trinity, 15-8, 16-17, 11-15.

Men's Doubles
St. Mary's, T. Weeks and J. Arnett; Trinity, H. E. Clark and E. Morrison, won by St. Mary's, 15-9, 15-11.

St. Mary's, A. Moore and I. Bowring; Trinity, A. Brooks and S. Morrison, won by St. Mary's, 15-4, 8-15, 15-8.

St. Mary's, A. Abbott and A. Williams; Trinity, J. Sheen and J. Millman, won by Trinity, 3-15, 7-15.—S.

ABBIES FANDOM COME BY AUTO RAIL AND AIR

Abegweits fandom certainly displayed keen interest in their team as evidenced in the numerous supporters who journeyed to Moncton yesterday to take in last night's game with the Hawks at the Stadium. In addition to those who came by train several also made the trip by automobile and some even used the main plane in order to be here to see their team slip through to victory.

Those coming by car set a record for winter travel between the two provinces and report the roads in good shape considering the extremely changeable weather. Among those who came in the two cars operated by Powers' Taxi service were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Gregory, who while in the city are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Thompson, Main Street; Mrs. H. V. Dunbar, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Miller, Portledge Avenue; Col. D. A. MacKinnon, D. S. O., noted soldier and sportsman, Mr. Harvey C. Brown, general proprietor of the Queen Hotel; Mr. Percy Simmons and Mr. George Buntain, who are guests at the Brunswick—Moncton Times.

SILVER FOXES WIN FROM ALL-STARS

The Silver Foxes, ladies basketball team of the Holy Name Club, displaying fast combination and accurate shooting while on the offensive and playing a close defensive game, proved too much of an obstacle for the All Stars, another ladies basketball team from the same Club, to overcome at the Club's gymnasium last evening and as a result when the final whistle blew the "Foxes" were on the long end of a 35 to 14 score.

The "Foxes" are the same team that returned lately from Quebec and Montreal where they split even in two games, winning one and losing one. The Stars, playing together for the first time, gave the Foxes plenty of opposition after getting accustomed to playing with one another and in a return game would give the "Foxes" plenty to worry about.

Billiards

Anyone desirous of entering a tournament for the championship of the Island please leave their names with Fred McMahon, whose office has already entered all interested will meet at the Riverside Billiard Parlors on Monday evening at 7.30 sharp.

CHALLENGE

The Royal Sisters, do hereby challenge the No. 1 Wiltshire girls' team. A friendly game of hockey to be played in Hunter River Rink Friday night, Jan. 27.

Sd. HELEN LEPAGE, (Capt.)

CHALLENGE

The Arena Millionaires, do hereby challenge Mount Herbert to a friendly game of hockey to be played at Mt. Herbert. (Signed) Ken Kenslow, care of Arena Rink.

They say you married Jane because her aunt left her a fortune. That's not so! I'd have married no matter who left it to her!

Holy Name Club Bowling

Last night on the Holy Name Alleys the second game in the goose supper series resulted in a win for the North Enders and by the look of things at present the North Enders are going to eat the Plumbers' goose as this is their second straight win. I McCabe rolled high single of 232, also high three of 642 pins. Next game takes place Tuesday night, Jan. 31 at 7 o'clock.

North Enders
B. McMillan 162 161 162
P. C. Trainor 188 129 181
I. McCabe 204 232 206
F. Coyne 152 212 191
H. McMillan 144 123
Total—2309.

Plumbers' Numbers
A. Lee 127 200
L. Kelly 155 195 124
T. Morrison 162 229 181
J. Gallant 171 113 136
F. H. Trainor 116 115 155
Total—2220.

LADIES' BOWLING

Dodgers
Kit Coyle 185 98 260
Margaret Dunn 141 159 132
Gertie Trainor 80 90 28
Margie McLean 82 65 111
Dot O'Brien 227 144 155
Total—1167.

Geogeters
Jose Gaudet 190 142 144
Angie MacMillan 157 152 151
Madge Dougan 109 159 152
Martha Carragher 113 77 98
Eileen Halloran 80 65 28
Total—1817.

Highest single, Kit Coyle, 260.
Highest total, Kit Coyle, 543.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

The Billiard Tournament continued last night, and in the Class A games, McKenna won from McMillan and Robbin won from Doyle. In the Class B game, Mullins won from Davey.

Tonight Stanley plays Harley in Class A and Brown plays Proude in Class B.

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

LOOKING 'EM OVER

(BY "TEC")

ABBIES AND WOLVES

Tonight at Halifax Abegweits and Wolverines will clash for the second time within a week. The Blue-nose team are at present clinging to a two point lead in second place in the section and will no doubt play heroic hockey tonight in an endeavor to improve their position and at the same time throw a monkey wrench into an Abbie machine that has apparently found itself and to all appearances is prepared to make the fur fly from now on.

Any hockey team that can turn Moncton Hawks back 2 to nil in their own back yard is to be respected and greatly feared. Wolves will be desperate tonight, but the writer is of the opinion that all the desperation and determination in the world won't stop Abbies tonight. The team has found itself and the calibre of hockey now being doled out by them is just a wee bit too much for Wolverines to handle.

TO DECIDE LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

Following Wednesday's game here Big Three League officials will gather at a local hotel to decide the type of playoffs for the circuit. A good many people seem to think that if the Hawks win both league sections they will take the title without a playoff. Take it from me, this won't be so. If the Wolverines take the second place in the second round, which they should do, they will meet the Abegweits, who were runners-up to the Hawks in the opening section, in a home and home series, total goals to count. The winner will then play Moncton in a best three out of five series. I'm not just guessing. I understand the system named above will be the one used. After all, what is a hockey season without a playoff series? Poof, bah and whatnot! A good many fans wait around for the playoffs. After all, hockey's biggest thrills are in league playoffs. Sure there will be a playoff! I'm not guessing. I'm telling you!

THE MIDDERS

The Stewart Street Ramblers and Euston Street Wildcats are also scheduled to start their stuff tonight. The game will be at 7.30.

7 TAC ABBIES

W. J. Foley, Halifax Sports Writer says: "Halifax Wolverines, under the sole direction of Jack Conn, will try new tactics against the Charlottetown Abegweits here Wednesday night. Defensive hockey is "out" so far as the Wolverines are concerned. The players feel they bellation of war debts and reparations would be the best thing that could happen to the world as a whole," he said. "But if that is going further than American opinion is yet prepared to accept, we shall gladly discuss with our American friends, whenever they are ready to receive our representatives, the lines on which an agreement can be reached bearing in mind two things which seem to us essential.

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

CHAMBERLAIN

(Continued from Page 1)

"First, that the settlement to be reached must be the final settlement and, secondly, that it must be one which will not involve resumption of the claim on Germany for reparations which it was the object of the Lausanne settlement last year to end."

Mr. Chamberlain did not mention the gold standard or the possibility of nations improving their trade balance by depreciating currency.

However, he analyzed most other aspects of the economic situation, apparently wanted to engage in a heart-to-heart talk with "American farmers of the middle west."

From Chancellor's speech Leeds business men might have obtained the impression that only middle west farmers of the United States stand in the way of carrying out the British policy of all round cancellation of the war debts. Elsewhere in his speech he spoke of "an important and enlightened section of opinion in the United States which is not so far from our own point of view."

"I can well understand how different is the aspect which the subject of war debts presents to the farmer of the middle west from that which appears to us," Mr. Chamberlain said.

"But there are certain fundamental truths which will out even though they may lie concealed for a time."

The Chancellor asserted that all payments to a foreign country must take the form of sending goods or of rendering services.

"It may well be that this truth has been hidden from the American farmer by transactions which he has perhaps not observed," he said.

Pointing out that Europe had been assisted in previous payments to the United States by the expenditures made by American tourists and by loans from the United States, the Chancellor asserted that at present tourists were spending very little money and that American loans had been cut off.

He denied that he was in any sense uttering threats.

"If you see a man walking along a precipice," he said, "and you point out to him that the ground is undermined, that is not a threat, it is a warning, and it is not less friendly because it is evident that if the man goes over the precipice he is quite likely to drag you down with him."

President Eamon de Valera making his last pre-election declaration, insisted on the continuance of his policy of non-co-operation, including withholding of the land annuities and abrogation of the oath of allegiance to the Crown.

The President repeated the keynote of his policy: That if the United Kingdom wishes to heal the present economic breach with the Irish Free State, "the only terms on our side are that our island and our people shall be left to themselves without any interference."

rency provisions, was considered the simplest method of meeting the problem. It was considered Canadian dollars were entitled to parity with other major industries in protection from the effects of currency inflation.

BURNS CONCERT

(Continued from Page 1)

dauntless spirit of the bard who would "dare be poor," the pathetic and human note which so often characterized Burns' poetry, lent the programme a peculiar quality. Present too was blithe humour and gaiety such as influenced sporadically the life of the Scottish bard. The numbers chosen indicated that "sense and worth" had been carefully considered by the director of the programme, Mrs. A. H. Roper. Much credit is also due to Mrs. K. S. Rogers, and Mr. Albert Blanchard, the accompanists.

The strains of the bagpipes on which was played the native music of the Scots brought with the first numbers the appropriate atmosphere for the successful rendition of the programme. The pipers, Captain A. McDougall, John B. Manderson, and Percy Groom, all old favourites, have never been heard to better advantage. The Islands' peer of Scotch comedians, Mr. R. Walter Burdett, in his first solo rendered, "The Star O' Robbie Burns," in splendid voice, and received a tremendous ovation. His second effort, "A Sprig O' Heather," the final number, was received no less favourably. Both solos brought out admirably the spirit of the evening.

The Sailor's Hornpipe appeared on the programme for the first time in several years, and proved as popular as ever. Three little girls, Misses Doris MacDonald, Josephine Leichter, and Annabelle Lawson delighted the audience with rhythmic movements, and acquitted themselves admirably.

"Look, Lomond" has ever been a favourite song with lovers of Scottish music, and which sung by Mrs. H. S. Henderson in her rich soprano voice it acquired a new and vital spirit, which held the audience spellbound, and brought a thunder of applause.

Old time violin music occupied a prominent place on the programme much to the delight of the audience. Mr. Lemuel Jay contributed his numbers in a manner that left nothing to be desired, as prolonged ovations testified.

There were four dancing numbers additional to that already mentioned. Miss Victoria McInnis proved herself mistress of the art of step dancing, while Mr. Donald MacFadyen, seventy-five years of age, gave an exhibition which might well put to shame the best efforts of youth. In the sword dance, Gillie Colburn, Miss Marie Walker, a favorite on the local stage in this difficult and intricate demonstration, surpassed her self, and was enthusiastically applauded. Misses Doris MacDonald, Annabelle Lawson, Josephine Leichter, and Isabel McEachern danced the Highland Fling in a manner that pleased greatly, bore testimony to careful training, and indicated that they are very versatile and talented young ladies.

Mrs. W. J. MacDonald in fine contralto voice sang "Angus MacDonald." The audience demonstrated its pleasure in an unmistakable manner. Mrs. MacDonald is a soloist whom local music lovers would like to hear much more frequently.

Two voices of fine timbre were heard in the duet, "The Crooked Babbe" sung by Mrs. F. M. Nash and Mr. James Calder. The old time song was favorably received, and splendidly rendered.

Mrs. A. H. Roper, the director of the programme, appeared in costume to sing "Callie Herring," and rendered the number with great clarity and with fine effect. The quaint costume of the fishwife was a novel feature.

Much of the comedy for the programme was provided in the one act play, "A Bit O' Heather", in which is portrayed a lengthy romance with a Scotch ending.

Following was the cast:
Jennie Bigg, Mrs. Arthur Henry, John McTavish, Mr. James Calder.

Rev. Cameron, Mr. A. M. Douglas, Maggie McDougall, Mrs. Frances Holt Trainor.

Dr. Grey, Mr. Malcolm McKinnon.

To the great delight of the audience Mr. J. G. MacFadyen sang a song in Gaelic with pleasing effect.

Mr. J. M. MacFadyen tendered to the audience the thanks of the Caledonian Club which sponsored the concert.

The programme concluded with "The Grog Shop" and "The King". The attendance was good, and the audience very appreciative. The concert will be repeated this evening.

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

BORDEN RINK

BORDEN, P. E. I.

Gateway to the Island.

Wednesday, Jan. 25th, 8 p.m.: Victoria vs. Cape Traverse.

Thursday, Jan. 26th: Skating afternoon and evening.

Friday, Jan. 27th: Skating afternoon. Evening announcement later.

Saturday, Jan. 28th: Skating afternoon. Evening Cape Traverse Juniors vs. Albany Juniors, 8 p.m.

Skating after all games. Admission 25c and 15c.

7768-11

Irish Elections

(Continued from Page 1)

had voted six hours before the polls closed.

The impersonators were extraordinarily busy. One third of those who appeared at their polling place in one Dublin district, before noon, found that others had already voted for them. In Dublin alone a dozen persons including three women were arrested on charges of impersonation; five men and a woman were arrested at Cork, and scattered arrests made elsewhere.

To all appearances former President William T. Cosgrave, leading the Cumann na nGaedheal party in its battle for a return to power had done well in the cities, while President Eamon de Valera, who have greatly increased his strength in the rural areas. These were the most superficial estimates. However, not even the trend of the voting may be discernible until Thursday.

The chief figures in the political drama were well guarded through out the day. President de Valera spent the day visiting polling stations in his own constituency of Clare, after casting his own vote and then came to Dublin with a uniformed escort of police guards. Mr. Cosgrave voted in his own riding of Cork and then proceeded by road to Dublin with an armed military guard, bolstered by a special escort for part of the journey.

Mr. Cosgrave pledged to a rapprochement between the Free State and the United Kingdom, and development of the Free State as an integral part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, fired a last shot as the voters went to record their decision, declaring all signs pointed to a record victory for his party, Mr. Cosgrave added:

"Never in the history of the party have we received such enthusiastic support and such vigorous assistance from all sections of the country and from all classes of people. Ireland is once more on the road to her national economic salvation. We are going to keep her on that road."

President Eamon de Valera making his last pre-election declaration, insisted on the continuance of his policy of non-co-operation, including withholding of the land annuities and abrogation of the oath of allegiance to the Crown.

The President repeated the keynote of his policy: That if the United Kingdom wishes to heal the present economic breach with the Irish Free State, "the only terms on our side are that our island and our people shall be left to themselves without any interference."

rency provisions, was considered the simplest method of meeting the problem. It was considered Canadian dollars were entitled to parity with other major industries in protection from the effects of currency inflation.

SAINT JOHN 3 COMMANDING SUSSEX OFFICER OF R.C.M.P. HERE

Major-General J. H. McBrien, Ottawa, Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, arrived in the city last evening to inspect detachment headquarters and barracks here. The commissioner will complete inspection work this morning, will visit a number of governmental officials and will leave for Moncton by plane, enroute for Fredericton. He will inspect the New Brunswick headquarters in that city, and will then leave on return to Ottawa.

Major-General McBrien has just completed an inspection of the R.C.M.P. in Halifax. This is his first visit to Prince Edward Island. Major General McBrien took over the command of the Mounted Police last year. While in the city he is staying at the Canadian National Hotel.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Mal. McLeod, Stanhope, at present in the P. E. I. Hospital is reported better.

Miss Laura Watts, Pleasant Grove is reported much better this morning.

Mr. Albert Mellich, Union Road, Lot 51, is spending the winter at York where he is making many friends by his kind and affable manner.

Breeze: "Try one of these cigars my wife gave me Christmas. They're the best things out."

Brays: "How are they when they're lighted?"

MAROONS 3 CHI. HAWKS 0

FORUM, Montreal, Jan 24—(C.P.)—Pupils triumphed over master tonight, as Eddie Gerard led his Montreal Maroons to a 3-0 victory over Tommy Gorman's Chicago Black Hawks, in a fast rugged, National Hockey League match which drew over 7,000 spectators.

It was Maroons third straight victory since they came out of a mid-season slump and was the second straight shutout for young Dave Kerr, recently recalled from the minors. Victory sent Maroons into sole possession of second place in the Canadian Section while defeat anchored the Black Hawks in the basement of the American Division.

BRUINS 3 CANUCKS 2

BOSTON, Jan 24—(AP.)—Playing without the master-minding of Manager Art Ross, the Boston Bruins tonight opened a two week's National Hockey League home stand by out-roughing Canadiens of Montreal for a 3-2 victory in a wild clash.

Ross, who is ill, turned the reins over to Lionel Hitchman, his veteran defenceman, and the Bruins turned on all the speed of which they are capable. They were quick to resent every stiff defensive gesture made by the "Fighting Frenchmen" and blows were freely exchanged during the exciting match.

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

—TONIGHT—
2nd Abbies
VS.
Montague
Game starts 7.45 sharp.
STEWART STREET RAMBLERS
VS.
EUSTON STREET WILDCATS
Game starts at 7 p.m.
1 hour's skating after games are over.
Admission 35c.

CHAMBERLAIN

(Continued from Page 1)

bellation of war debts and reparations would be the best thing that could happen to the world as a whole," he said. "But if that is going further than American opinion is yet prepared to accept, we shall gladly discuss with our American friends, whenever they are ready to receive our representatives, the lines on which an agreement can be reached bearing in mind two things which seem to us essential.

"First, that the settlement to be reached must be the final settlement and, secondly, that it must be one which will not involve resumption of the claim on Germany for reparations which it was the object of the Lausanne settlement last year to end."

Mr. Chamberlain did not mention the gold standard or the possibility of nations improving their trade balance by depreciating currency.

However, he analyzed most other aspects of the economic situation, apparently wanted to engage in a heart-to-heart talk with "American farmers of the middle west."

From Chancellor's speech Leeds business men might have obtained the impression that only middle west farmers of the United States stand in the way of carrying out the British policy of all round cancellation of the war debts. Elsewhere in his speech he spoke of "an important and enlightened section of opinion in the United States which is not so far from our own point of view."

"I can well understand how different is the aspect which the subject of war debts presents to the farmer of the middle west from that which appears to us," Mr. Chamberlain said.

"But there are certain fundamental truths which will out even though they may lie concealed for a time."

The Chancellor asserted that all payments to a foreign country must take the form of sending goods or of rendering services.

"It may well be that this truth has been hidden from the American farmer by transactions which he has perhaps not observed," he said.

Pointing out that Europe had been assisted in previous payments to the United States by the expenditures made by American tourists and by loans from the United States, the Chancellor asserted that at present tourists were spending very little money and that American loans had been cut off.

He denied that he was in any sense uttering threats.

"If you see a man walking along a precipice," he said, "and you point out to him that the ground is undermined, that is not a threat, it is a warning, and it is not less friendly because it is evident that if the man goes over the precipice he is quite likely to drag you down with him."

President Eamon de Valera making his last pre-election declaration, insisted on the continuance of his policy of non-co-operation, including withholding of the land annuities and abrogation of the oath of allegiance to the Crown.

The President repeated the keynote of his policy: That if the United Kingdom wishes to heal the present economic breach with the Irish Free State, "the only terms on our side are that our island and our people shall be left to themselves without any interference."

rency provisions, was considered the simplest method of meeting the problem. It was considered Canadian dollars were entitled to parity with other major industries in protection from the effects of currency inflation.

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

CHAMBERLAIN

(Continued from Page 1)

bellation of war debts and reparations would be the best thing that could happen to the world as a whole," he said. "But if that is going further than American opinion is yet prepared to accept, we shall gladly discuss with our American friends, whenever they are ready to receive our representatives, the lines on which an agreement can be reached bearing in mind two things which seem to us essential.

"First, that the settlement to be reached must be the final settlement and, secondly, that it must be one which will not involve resumption of the claim on Germany for reparations which it was the object of the Lausanne settlement last year to end."

Mr. Chamberlain did not mention the gold standard or the possibility of nations improving their trade balance by depreciating currency.

However, he analyzed most other aspects of the economic situation, apparently wanted to engage in a heart-to-heart talk with "American farmers of the middle west."

From Chancellor's speech Leeds business men might have obtained the impression that only middle west farmers of the United States stand in the way of carrying out the British policy of all round cancellation of the war debts. Elsewhere in his speech he spoke of "an important and enlightened section of opinion in the United States which is not so far from our own point of view."

"I can well understand how different is the aspect which the subject of war debts presents to the farmer of the middle west from that which appears to us," Mr. Chamberlain said.

"But there are certain fundamental truths which will out even though they may lie concealed for a time."

The Chancellor asserted that all payments to a foreign country must take the form of sending goods or of rendering services.

"It may well be that this truth has been hidden from the American farmer by transactions which he has perhaps not observed," he said.

Pointing out that Europe had been assisted in previous payments to the United States by the expenditures made by American tourists and by loans from the United States, the Chancellor asserted that at present tourists were spending very little money and that American loans had been cut off.

He denied that he was in any sense uttering threats.

"If you see a man walking along a precipice," he said, "and you point out to him that the ground is undermined, that is not a threat, it is a warning, and it is not less friendly because it is evident that if the man goes over the precipice he is quite likely to drag you down with him."

President Eamon de Valera making his last pre-election declaration, insisted on the continuance of his policy of non-co-operation, including withholding of the land annuities and abrogation of the oath of allegiance to the Crown.

The President repeated the keynote of his policy: That if the United Kingdom wishes to heal the present economic breach with the Irish Free State, "the only terms on our side are that our island and our people shall be left to themselves without any interference."

rency provisions, was considered the simplest method of meeting the problem. It was considered Canadian dollars were entitled to parity with other major industries in protection from the effects of currency inflation.

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

CHAMBERLAIN

(Continued from Page 1)

bellation of war debts and reparations would be the best thing that could happen to the world as a whole," he said. "But if that is going further than American opinion is yet prepared to accept, we shall gladly discuss with our American friends, whenever they are ready to receive our representatives, the lines on which an agreement can be reached bearing in mind two things which seem to us essential.

"First, that the settlement to be reached must be the final settlement and, secondly, that it must be one which will not involve resumption of the claim on Germany for reparations which it was the object of the Lausanne settlement last year to end."

Mr. Chamberlain did not mention the gold standard or the possibility of nations improving their trade balance by depreciating currency.

However, he analyzed most other aspects of the economic situation, apparently wanted to engage in a heart-to-heart talk with "American farmers of the middle west."

From Chancellor's speech Leeds business men might have obtained the impression that only middle west farmers of the United States stand in the way of carrying out the British policy of all round cancellation of the war debts. Elsewhere in his speech he spoke of "an important and enlightened section of opinion in the United States which is not so far from our own point of view."

"I can well understand how different is the aspect which the subject of war debts presents to the farmer of the middle west from that which appears to us," Mr. Chamberlain said.

"But there are certain fundamental truths which will out even though they may lie concealed for a time."

The Chancellor asserted that all payments to a foreign country must take the form of sending goods or of rendering services.

"It may well be that this truth has been hidden from the American farmer by transactions which he has perhaps not observed," he said.

Pointing out that Europe had been assisted in previous payments to the United States by the expenditures made by American tourists and by loans from the United States, the Chancellor asserted that at present tourists were spending very little money and that American loans had been cut off.

He denied that he was in any sense uttering threats.

"If you see a man walking along a precipice," he said, "and you point out to him that the ground is undermined, that is not a threat, it is a warning, and it is not less friendly because it is evident that if the man goes over the precipice he is quite likely to drag you down with him."

President Eamon de Valera making his last pre-election declaration, insisted on the continuance of his policy of non-co-operation, including withholding of the land annuities and abrogation of the oath of allegiance to the Crown.

The President repeated the keynote of his policy: That if the United Kingdom wishes to heal the present economic breach with the Irish Free State, "the only terms on our side are that our island and our people shall be left to themselves without any interference."

rency provisions, was considered the simplest method of meeting the problem. It was considered Canadian dollars were entitled to parity with other major industries in protection from the effects of currency inflation.

FORUM H-O-C-K-E-Y

CHAMBERLAIN

(Continued from Page 1)

bellation of war debts and reparations would be the best thing that could happen to the world as a whole," he said. "But if that is going further than American opinion is yet prepared to accept, we shall gladly discuss with our American friends, whenever they are ready to receive our representatives, the lines on which an agreement can be reached bearing in mind two things which seem to us essential.

"First, that the settlement to be reached must be the final settlement and, secondly, that it must be one which will not involve resumption of the claim on Germany for reparations which it was the object of the Lausanne settlement last year to end."

Mr. Chamberlain did not mention the gold standard or the possibility of nations improving their trade balance by depreciating currency.

However, he analyzed most other aspects of the economic situation, apparently wanted to engage in a heart-to-heart talk with "American farmers of the middle west."

From Chancellor's speech Leeds business men might have obtained the impression that only middle west farmers of the United States stand in the way of carrying out the British policy of all round cancellation of the war debts. Elsewhere in his speech he spoke of "an important and enlightened section of opinion in the United States which is not so far from our own point of view."

"I can well understand how different is the aspect which the subject of war debts presents to the farmer of the middle west from that which appears to us," Mr. Chamberlain said.

"But there are certain fundamental truths which will out even though they may lie concealed for a time."

The Chancellor asserted that all payments to a foreign country must take the form of sending goods or of rendering services.

"It may well be that this truth has been hidden from the American farmer by transactions which he has perhaps not observed," he said.

Pointing out that Europe had been assisted in previous payments to the United States by the expenditures made by American tourists and by loans from the United States, the Chancellor asserted that at present tourists were spending very little money and that American loans had been cut off.

He denied that he was in any sense uttering threats.

"If you see a man walking along a precipice," he said, "and you point out to him that the ground is undermined, that is not a threat, it is a warning, and it is not less friendly because it is evident that if the man goes over the precipice he is quite likely to drag you down with him."

President Eamon de Valera making his last pre-election declaration, insisted on the continuance of his policy of non-co-operation, including withholding of the land annuities and abrogation of the oath of allegiance to the Crown.

The President repeated the keynote of his policy: That if the United Kingdom wishes to heal the present economic breach with the Irish Free State, "the only terms on our side are that our island and our people shall be left to themselves without any interference."

rency provisions, was considered the simplest method of meeting the problem. It was considered Canadian dollars were entitled to parity with other major industries in protection from the effects of currency inflation.

BOTTLES WANTED

Pints and quarts.
Phone 117
7771-1-25-21