Lee Brewer Wins Feature Event At North Sydney Track

(By The Canadian Press)

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 23—Lee Brewer, classy trotter owned by Allie Lewis of Reserve and driven by George Lewis of New Waterford, won the feature event at today's closing light harness meet at the North Side track.

The Brewer entry finished in third place behind the Halifax-owned Gay Law and Jerry Lee Volo in the first heat, but showed too much speed in the thrilling closing heats.

Bert Doyle's Togo Bars and Marguerite Rose, owned by Vickers and MacDonald of Sydney Mines, registered straight heat victories in the other two events.

The colt race was won by Richard Jabalee's promising Commodore Abbe.

Race Horse Owner Held

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—Spencer Drayton, head of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, announced today the arrest in Philadelphia of James Scaffidi, a race-horse owner, and that with the arrest, the case involving the doping of the horse Old Westbury at Tropical Park last March had been completed.

The former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent said Scaffidi, a Philadelphia contractor, was taken into custody "on the basis of a warrant issued in Miami, Fla., charging him with being an accessory before the fact in the stimulation. Scaffidi is the fourth person to be named by the T.R.P.B. in connection with the alleged doping of Old Westbury, who won the second race at Tropical March 9.

Drayton said Scaffidi was admitted to $500 bail by Magistrate John O'Malley, in Philadelphia, pending a hearing Nov. 15 on a request for his removal to Miami.

Lindrum Retires From Title Play

(By Jack Sullivan, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Oct. 24—(CP)—The snooker and billiards championship door that Australia's Horace Lindrum and others have been battering at for the last 20 years, has been opened wide. Joe Davis has thrown away the keys and declared it an open house.

"Mighty Joe", who has held the world's snooker title for so long—since it was first put up in 1927—that it is known as the "Davis Cup", has given up championship play.

Joe wasn't accepting the mantle of martyrdom when he said he was through with international play. It was "for the good of this popular and thriving game... the struggle for the world's snooker crown should be thrown open to the rest of the field, so that others may be encouraged and a fresh outlook brought to the game."

It was a plain matter-of-fact statement from the world's greatest exponent of the cue game and Lundstrum and company accepted it as such.

His brother, Fred, now is a serious threat for the titles and Joe, naturally, hopes the "Davis Cup" will remain in the family.

Fails To Win

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23—(AP)—World bantamweight champion Manuel Ortiz of El Centro, Calif., stepped out of his class last night but failed to win the California State featherweight championship from Carlos Chavez of Los Angeles losing a decision after 12 rounds before 10,000 at Olympic Auditorium. Ortiz weighed 126, Chavez 126.

It was their fifth meeting. Ortiz had won two decisions and two were draws.

An interesting bit of news to local tennis followers is the report from Montreal that the Misses Beryl and Audrey DeBlois have gained berths on the McGill University ladies' doubles team which will represent the University in the intercollegiate tennis tournament to be held in Montreal this week.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

The "McGill" sisters advanced into the second round of play when they defeated a Western University twosome, June Smith and Pat Hartley 6-1, 5-7, 6-2. In the second round the DeBlois sisters were edged out in a close match by Judy Price and Kay Fowler of Toronto University 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Both girls have been active members of the Charlottetown Tennis Club this summer. They made a family affair of ladies' doubles championship while Beryl took the ladies' singles crown in the local club tournament.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Whistle-blowing in National Hockey League games is going to be less frequent this season, says league president Clarence Campbell. The league's new boss, himself a former referee, was in Detroit for the opener between Detroit and Toronto and expressed himself as follows:

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

"There'll be a full 60 minutes of action. I've instructed all officials to keep the game moving and to lay off the whistle unless it's absolutely necessary."

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Now comes the report, says Baz O'Meara, in the Montreal Star, that Eddie Collins will leave the Red Sox for a Philadelphia club, that Joe Cronin will become general manager and Joe McCarthy the field general. There is much bitterness in Boston because of the way the Reds were euchred out of their expected world series title. They may not have been outplayed but they were outmanaged.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

By one bit of strategy which was a variation of the Boudreau shift the freshman manager Eddie Dyer was able to render almost null and void the great batting prowess of Ted Williams. For this feat he was hailed in some circles as a miracle man which is very far from the truth. Lou Boudreau figured this one out. If Dyer was a miracle man, then where does Boudreau fit?

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Long before Cardinals wobbled into a National League title the St. Louis fans used to rise up and say that given Durocher as a manager the birds would have won in a breeze.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

There were reports indeed that Dyer was serving his first and last year as Cardinals' boss. Now he is firmly entrenched in the saddle certain of a long run unless of course he eventually winds up with Rickey for whom he has that type of idolatry which somehow or another seems to be the hallmark of the Rickey satellites.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

When the series was over he proclaimed that a Rickey team had really won the pennant, that he had learned all about baseball from the Mahatma. Durocher too, who is the pet reclamation project of Rickey, seemed spurred with the same fervor when in an unusual outburst of devotion he proclaimed that he hoped to be with Rickey for life. At seventy thousand dollars a year it shouldn't be too tough a life at that for a produotive person like Durocher.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Given a team like Red Sox the great McCarthy would rise again to great heights. In the meantime the Yanks have no leader. The search for a personality to match or even offset that of MacPhail is a little more exacting than it appeared to be some months ago. Quite a few might want the Yankees but like McCarthy they would rather have them without Larry.

Rivals Fight Draw

BOSTON, Oct. 23 — (AP)—Apparently no. 13 is a lucky number for both Georgie Martin of Boston and Ralph Zanelli of Providence, R. I.

The rival veteran welterweights clashed for the 13th time at the Boston Garden last night and after 10 rounds of bruising battling, the officials turned in findings that resulted in a draw verdict.

They started their fistic feuding as amateurs back in the early '30s. While (an amateur) Zanelli won seven straight times from the Bostonian, Georgie took five wins in a row after they turned professional. Martin weighed 149 1-2, Zanelli 146 1-2.

Gaye Stewart Gives Leafs 3-3 Tie With Bruins; Hawks Edge Wings 6-5

BOSTON, Oct. 23—(CP)—Gaye Stewart's unassisted goal with only 17 seconds to go and his goalie out enabled the undefeated Toronto Maple Leafs to gain a National Hockey League 3-3 tie with the also undefeated Boston Bruins tonight before a packed 13 900 crowd at the Boston Garden.

The Bruins, who had deadlocked their two previous starts with Canadiens and the Chicago Black Hawks, appeared to have the game all wrapped up until Bill Cowley, their veteran center, drew a high-sticking penalty with less than two minutes remaining.

That spurred the wilting Maple Leafs into their most determined attack of the game. The Bruins managed to hold the five mobile players under fair control until a sixth Leaf was rushed into the furious action to turn the tide and set up Stewart's dead-locking counter.

Stewart scored late in the second period, with Norm Poile assisting to cut the Bruins' lead to 3-2. Teeder Kennedy caged the first Toronto goal early in the middle session to put his forces into a 1-1 tie.

Milt Schmidt sent the Bruins into the lead early in the opener and after Bill Shill countered in the second period, the Kraut line's center notched a second goal after Terry Reardon had intercepted an attempted clearing shot by Nick Metz.

Play was halted for 10 minutes late in the second period when goalie Frankie Brimsek suffered a cut inside of his left eye-lid. He came out for a rolling puck and was struck when Gus Bodnar missed it. Brimsek required two stitches inside and two more on his cheek before he was able to resume play.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

DETROIT, Oct. 23—(AP)—Piling up a 5-1 lead in the first two periods as Robert (Red) Hamill and George (Wingy) Johnston poked in two goals apiece, Chicago Blackhawks shoved Detroit Red Wings into the National Hockey League cellar tonight with a 6-5 defeat administered before 11,679 fans.

Chicago's first victory of the season came despite a four-goal Detroit rally in the final period, the last two coming in the final 64 seconds of play. The licking left Detroit in sole possession of the N.H.L. cellar with only one tie to show for its first four games.

Alex Kaleta pumped in an eight-foot back-hander for Chicago's first goal after less than two minutes of play but Roy Conacher of the Red Wings tied it up by lifting a 35-footer into the upper-right-hand corner of the net at the six-minute mark.

Chicago counted twice in the last three minutes of the opening period—both goals by Hamill—and never was pressed again until Detroit's game but futile rally in the late minutes of the final period.

Johnston's two goals, with Pete Horeck assisting on both, were the only scores of the second period. Lundy counted for Detroit three minutes after the final period opened and Conacher tallied his second less than a minute later to make the count 5-3 for the Hawks.

At 12:51 of the period Max Bentley counted for the Hawks. Jack Stewart rebounded in a shot for the fourth Detroit goal and 36 seconds later Ted Lindsay shoved in another rebound.

Altogether Bibeault had 34 saves in the Chicago nets while Johnny Mowers playing his first game as Detroit goalie since April of 1943, turned back 14 Chicago shots.

Denies Story Harris Will Manage Yanks

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 — (AP) — Stanley (Bucky) Harris, a suave baseball diplomat, is the new manager of New York Yankees — that is if the latest rumor is true

Harris, appointed executive assistant to Larry MacPhail, Yankee president, a month ago, was said by the New York Daily News to have been "sold" on the post at a secret meeting yesterday. The Daily News reported the conference was attended by Bucky, MacPhail, Will Harridge, president of the American League, and Charley Dressen, present Brooklyn coach who the News said, had been named Harris' No 1 aide.

MacPhail termed the story "pure cock and bull."

Neither Harris, Harridge nor Dressen was available for comment.

The Daily News related that Harris, before the World Series, twice turned down the managerial post, but during the Series games at Boston, confided to a close friend that if the job were offered to him again, he would accept

"This (third) offer, obviously, came immediately after the Series when Yankee executives met at French Lick, Ind.," the Daily News asserted. "From there the scene shifted to yesterday's secret meeting here, where final details were worked out—with the inclusion of Dressen as No 1 aide."

The Daily News asserted Harris was given a two-year contract at $40,000 a year

Harris, who first gained fame as the "boy manager" in guiding Washington Senators to the 1924 American League pennant, last was in the majors in 1943 when he piloted the National League Phillies until he resigned in mid-season.

He went to Buffalo in 1944 as general manager of the International League Bisons, a post he kept until named MacPhail's assistant shortly before Bill Dickey resigned as Yankee manager in the closing days of the season.

Homecoming Week For Grand Old Man Of College Football

(By Charles Chamberlain)

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—(AP)—It's homecoming week in Chicago for 84-year-old Amos Alonzo Stagg who arrives with his College of Pacific football team tomorrow, ending a sentimental journey to the scene of his greatest triumphs.

The return of the "grand old man of football," who has served as coach in 542 college games—444 of them while at the University of Chicago—in his 56 years as mentor, has stirred many memories as the city prepared to pay him homage at a big banquet Friday night and between halves of the Northwestern-College of Pacific game Saturday.

Stagg was placed on Walter Camp's first all-America team at end, capping a brilliant athletic career at Yale.

In 1889, to help improve Yale tackling, he suspended a rolled mattress for a target and thus invented the tackling dummy. Other developments credited to his inventive genius are the man-in-motion offence, the 7-2-2 defence and the cross-cross plays now known as reverses.

Stagg at the age of 71 signed as head coach at Pacific, California's oldest college. In 13 years his teams have won 55, lost 70 and tied seven.

American Hockey League Games

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 23—(AP)—Trailing 4-1 at one time in the second period, Springfield Indians tonight rallied to win their first American League hockey game of the season by defeating Cleveland Barons 6-4.

HERSHEY, Pa., Oct. 23—(AP)—Pete Babando, Pennsylvania-born hockey player, scored three goals as Hershey Bears made it five straight in the American Hockey League tonight with an 8-1 victory over Philadelphia Rockets before 5,500.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 23—(AP)—Buffalo Bisons, seeking their first home victory for the third time, were held to a 4-4 tie by Providence Reds tonight in an American Hockey League game before 7,399 spectators.

Rangers Spring Surprise Defeating Canadiens 4-1

MONTREAL, Oct. 23—(CP)—A battling crew of New York Rangers pulled a major surprise here tonight as they upset the World Champion Montreal Canadiens 4-1 and went into a tie for the National Hockey League lead with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Rangers' scrappy crew outskated and outfought in the first period when Canadiens took a 1-0 lead, scrambled back in the second to ram three goals past Bill Durnan and wound it up with a fourth in the last session.

A crowd of 10,446 paid their way into the Forum to see their favorites upset.

The game was full of action, penalties and injuries. Goalie Bill Durnan had to leave the ice for repairs early in the second period when a hard drive from Edgar Laprade's stick caught him in the forehead. He came back, somewhat battered, and from the face-off beside the net Rene Trudel grabbed Oal Gardner's pass and beat Durnan easily at 3:44.

Rangers kept pressing, and their drive paid off with goals by Phil Watson from Neil Colville at 15:30 and one by Brian Hextell on a pass from Alfie Pike at 17:04.

Edgar Laprade made it 4-1 at 4:28 of the third when he pounced on a rebound off Durnan's pads after Grant Warwick laced one through a maze of players.

Glen Harmon, aggressive Canadiens defenceman, notched the losers' only goal on a solo effort at 2:43 of the first period.

The game was held up several minutes in the third period after Maurice Richard, lofting the puck over to referee King Clancy, drove it over the boards and hit a woman spectator. She was carried from her seat with a gash over her eye and Richard drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty for shooting the puck at the referee. That drew a storm of protest and programs littered the ice, but Richard cooled his heels in the box, taking the ice only for the last 45 seconds of the game.

SUMMARY

First Period:

1—Montreal, Harmon (unassisted) 2:43.

Penalties—Reardon, Trudel, Mosdell.

Second Period:

2—Rangers, Trudel (Gardner) 3:44.
3—Rangers, Watson (N. Colville) 15:30.
4—Rangers, Hextall (Pike) 17:04.

Penalties — Harmon, Laprade, Lach, Leswick.

Third Period:

5—Penalties—M. Colville, Richard (10 minute misconduct).

French-Speaking Canucks Enthusiastic Over Football As Played By Alouettes

By SYD THOMAS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Oct. 24—When a few sportsmen last summer decided they could sell football to the French-speaking Canadians they proved to be good prophets. That crowd of more than 18,000—paid admissions 17,310—that last Sunday saw Montreal Alouettes down Ottawa Rough Riders 25-15 showed that Montreal had become football conscious with a bang.

Of those 18,000, generally conceded the largest crowd ever to see a football game in Montreal, more than half were French-speaking Canadians, publicity director Doug O'Toole of Alouettes estimated.

They enjoyed it too, singing that lusty old Habitant song "Alouette," and whooping it up at every opportunity.

At the same time they proved that Montreal isn't color conscious and that if a man delivers the goods he is accepted. The fans have gone for the negro stars with Alouettes with as much gusto as they cheered Jackie Robinson of Montreal's baseball Royals in the International League.

Far from showing any racial prejudice, the football followers have taken a great liking to jovial John Moody, plunging halfback star of the "Larks," who leads the fans' popularity poll by a wide margin.

Herb Trawyck, husky negro lineman and another United States import, also is a prime favorite.

Naming the team Alouettes, and the winning combination coach Lew Hayman fielded, helped rouse interest. But Jean Baptiste went for the game with vigor ever since the first time he turned out rather gingerly to see what this football was all about.

When 10,000 fans turned out in the rain Oct. 13 to see Alouettes play the last-place Hamilton Tigers, president Leo Dandurand lost his last shreds of doubt.

Dandurand, a colorful figure in the Montreal sports world, was a bit dubious when Hayman first put the plan to him. French-speaking Canadians never had been sold for the game before, and if they didn't like it there might be a dismal flop financially.

That worry is dispelled now, and the main problem is where to put all the fans if they turn out in greater numbers. The Royals' baseball park, where the games are played, won't hold many more than last Sunday's crowd.

It all adds up to a bumper season, and Montrealers already are dreaming of a Grey Cup, their first since 1931 and only the third since 1907.
