EASTERN STARS REPLY TO STATION ENDERS

In answer to Mr. Burns as "to players "that we will not play any team that has league players. We have not played against league players this season. We did play the Anchors, but they are not league players as they have not signed up on any league team this season as yet.

I nanswer to Mr. Burns as "to where we got the name Eastern Stars we want to say "That all our players live on the east side of Great George street; we play the most games in the east end of the city and further every one of our players are stars at the game, therefore the name Eastern Stars. If the Station Enders want a game with us they will have to change their line up and have all intermediate players.

We wish to keep this sport going so come on Station Enders and form the right lineup and we will accommodate you with some games.

Three Rum Runners Wounded in Fight Off New York

(Canadian Press.)

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 5.—Three men, including the captain of the rum laden yacht Vereign New Pork, were wounded one severely when the coast guard cutter Seminole fired on the vessel which attempted to escape capture eight miles south east of Block island last night. The captain and thirteen members of the crew who refused to give their names were held for trial.

The Vereign sailed out of Newport early yesterday taking a cargo of 1200 cases of champagne, whiskey and alcohol valued at $100,000 at Rum Row off Mantauk Point. According to the members of the crew a blank shot failed to halt the craft four solid shots failed to hit the mark, of the next two shots one exploded over the pilot house and the other hit the house injuring the captain and two of the crew, halted the ship.

—FOXES STOLEN.—Mr. R. H. Englis, Kensington, had his fox ranch broken into, on the Malpeque Road, on Saturday night, May 31. One pair of silver foxes were taken. There is a strong suspicion, as to who the guilty parties are, and providing the foxes are not returned it is expected that legal action will be taken. The foxes are marked which will make it an easy matter to trace them. One of the foxes taken belonged to Mr. John H. Lee, Summerside.

—MR. SILAS RAYNOR. — Mr. Silas Rayner, son of Mr. James Rayner and Mary Watson Simmons, died at his home at Greenmount at 4.50 a.m. Monday, June 2. All of his children, five sons and three daughters, were at his bedside before he passed away. Mr. Rayner was in his 85th year, being born April 9th, 1840, at Traveller's Rest. He is survived by his wife, Emily Cannon, with whom he celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Feb. 20th last, and five sons, B. T., Jim, Joe, Archie and E. H., all of whom reside on P.E.I., and three daughters, Mrs. A. P. Wells, of Summerside, Mrs. Hurbert Platts, Kildare Capes, and Mrs. H. J. Hale of Worcester, Mass. He has two brothers living, John Rayner of West Devon, and Wm. Rayner of Morse, Sask., and one sister, Fannie McDonald, Sherbrooke, P.E.I. Mr. Rayner was an old and respected resident of Prince Edward Island, and his many friends extend their heartfelt sympathy to the family. The funeral took place Wednesday, June 4th, at 2 p.m., from his Greenmount residence, interment at Greenmount Christian Church Cemetery.

—SUMMERSIDE DRAMATIC CLUB AT KENSINGTON.—The Summerside Dramatic Club presented the three act comedy "His Uncle's Niece" to a large audience in the Strand Theatre on Saturday evening, May 31st. The play was replete with complex and funny situations, which were admirably depicted by the players. The parts taken by George Clow (a rising young lawyer), and Gertrude Cameron (The woman from Happy Valley, were heavy parts which were well taken. The Black faced comedy dialogue by George Clow and a gentleman from Summerside between the second and third act was well rendered and provoked screams of laughter. This young group of local "thespians" deserve credit for their performance, and no doubt will be heard and seen again on the "boards" in the near future. Miss Ella McMahon, Kensington played the piano accompaniments. The cast of characters is as follows.—Richard Tate, a rising young lawyer, George Clow. Francis Hale, very much attached to the "cause," Lucy Gillis. Alice Malcolm, a close chum of Dora's, Gertrude Cameron. Mrs. Sarah Ann Mullen, a woman of few words; from Happy Valley, Kathleen Cameron. Simon F. Felon, Frank Uncle, who never makes a mistake, Wilfred Kelly. Philander Filmore, "humble and wsie," Hazen McLennan. Timothy Haye, gardner at Happy Valley Junction, Hillard Cameron. Silas Sickelmoore, constable at Happy Valley, Earl Campbell.

—FUNERAL SERVICES. — The funeral of the late Mrs. Dr. Keir took place at Alberton the afternoon of the 27th instant. Throughout the day people crowded into town to pay their last respects to the deceased and before the hour for starting had arrived the street before the house was filled with waiting mourners. Promptly at two o'clock the funeral cortege took its departure from the house wending its way toward the Church. The pall-bearers and the floral offerings preceding the hearse which was followed by the mourners and the line extended far to the rear, while many had preceded the remains to the Church. The Rev. G. A. Christie, the Revs. Godfrey and Seymour in the chancel with him, conducted the services. The church was filled to overflowing by the assembled throng. The prayers, the Lesson, the Hymns and the Eulogy each held the close attention of the congregation, after which the remains were carried to the grave, which had been lined with cloth and evergreens by the I. O. D. E. The services here were conducted by the Rev. G. A. Christie. A host of friends and acquaintances had assembled and the funeral was in every way the largest and the most impressive witnessed in town for many years. The pall-bearers were Messrs W. C. Lawson, E. O. Barbour, J. C. Tuplin, M. M. Foley, H. J. Larkin and S. R. Burke. Floral offerings and the donors were as follows: Spray, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunter; wreath, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, O'Leary; wreath, Miss Ross and nurse staff P. C. Hospital; cross, P. C. Hospital; wreath, Mr. E. O. Barbour and family; star, Active Service Chapter I. O. D. ..*LOOKING FOR CRIMINAL—That Montague The Beautiful long since famous as a tourist resort is rapidly coming to the fore front is fully evidenced by the fact that a few days ago, Chief of Police White received a circular from Western Canada containing a full description, together with the photograph of a man suspected of stealing a large sum of money. While it is altogether unlikely that he will, should the suspect however approach anywhere near these borders, with the ever vigilant eye of our undaunted Chief on his trail, his chances of escape, if any will indeed be mighty small.—J

..*NARROW ESCAPE—What nearly proved a fatal accident took place near Montague a few days ago. While Mr. Archie Bruce a farmer living on the Queen's Road, was engaged spreading slag, his horse "Tony" in some unaccountable manner took fright and ran away. Mr. Bruce becoming entangled in the reins was dragged several hundred yards. From his shouts which could be heard for a considerable distance, "Tony" apparently realized that something was wrong and stopped short, saving his owner from serious injury. Mr. Bruce is an ardent advocate of slag as a fertilizer, and its good qualities are supported by the fact that prosperity is no stranger in the Bruce homestead, and with his amiable and equally industrious help mate, this couple could easily retire instead of continuing as hard working tillers of the soil.—J.

Rev. J. F. Denny

call for the ministry, and entered Didsbury College, Manchester, where he studied for four years graduating, 1904, when he was accepted for the Methodist Ministry and appointed to the Sussex Circuit. Having a great desire to enter the foreign mission field, he offered his services which were accepted, and in 1907 he was ordained and sent out to British Guiana for work among the Negroes and East Indians. For fourteen years he labored strenuously in that field with very considerable success, and after he had retired, a writer in one of the newspapers described him as one of the three best preachers who had ever influenced the young in the city of Georgetown.

Rev. Mr. Denny was a journalist as well as an engineer and clergyman. When through the unexpected death of the Editor of the leading daily newspaper in Georgetown his assistant was promoted to the position, Mr. Denny was asked to fill the breach and did so with very considerable success.

There was nothing narrow about Rev. Mr. Denny. He loved freedom, he was most charitable in his views of others, and most considerate in guiding footsteps, especially of young men, into the right path by means of reason and love instead of hell-fire.

Rev. Mr. Denny had a particularly heavy domestic burden to bear. His wife's health broke down on her way from British Guiana to St. John, and she has been a patient in a mental institution since. He was left with six young children to care for, all under fourteen years, and this together with his ill health and parochial duties at times seemed more than his frail body could stand ,but he always buoyed himself up with the hope and expectation that everything would turn out all right in God's good time.

Now he is gone, and his little ones are left fatherless and even worse than motherless.

Christian charity will not fail in their time of need.

Rotary Luncheon

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Rotary Club was held last evening in Cafe Paul. The President W .M. Rowe, presided during the business session after which W. J. P. McMillan introduced the speakers of the evening.

Mr. Harold Jenkins the first speaker, gave a short and concise outline of present emigration troubles in the Province and made a few suggestions as to how they could be coped with and finally overcome.

Mr. J. O. Hyndman, who followed suggested controlled immigration as a solution of the depression which has resulted from the exodus of farmers.

Mr. J. A. Clark gave a short account of the way in which the Experimenttal Farms bring together large groups of agriculturists for the discussion of farm affairs and problems relating thereto.

Mr. Chas. Chandler commented on the existing depression in business and building conditions. He stressed the need of government economy in the matter of high salaried officials of all departments.

Mr. C. L. Miles expressed the opinion that the present conditions were the lowest curve of a natural and regular cycle which through time would swing back to a position of normalcy and prosperity.

Mr. Everett Mutch reviewed the working conditions of Island fishermen and showed briefly how such could be greatly improved.

The delegates who will represent the club at the Rotary International Convention in Toronto June 16 20 will be Wm. Rowe, Reuben McDonald, J. A. Clark.
