MRS. A. BRANDER

The many friends of Mrs. A. Brander of Burlington were saddened to learn of her sudden passing to the great beyond on Friday, April 22nd, after a brief illness. Mrs. Brander who was familiarly known as Aunt B. was the last surviving member of the Sheen family of the late Edward Sheen who emigrated to this country over 100 years ago and settled on the Malpeque Road, north of Kensington. The sterling qualities that were characteristic of the early settlers were manifest in Mrs. Brander, and her many friends will miss her welcoming smile, kind word, and hospitable greeting at all times. She reached the advanced age of 86 years, and she had a boundless store of stories to relate from the time of the early settlers to the present time.

Sincere sympathy is extended to her son, Harry Brander, who is alone left to mourn. The funeral took place on Sunday and was carried out according to the wishes of the departed. Rev. Mr. Osborne conducted the service, which took place at her late residence. He was assisted by Rev. Mr. Spriggs. At the request of the deceased Mr. Bud Mountain, sang very expressively "Face to Face". The pall bearers were all nephews of the deceased with one exception, and were as follows: William E. and Ellis Proffit, Bert Warren, James Joseph and George Sheen. Floral tributes were sent from Mr. and Mrs. Heath Bowens, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Warren, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Moore, the Sheen family and the Proffit family. Interment was in the People's Cemetery at Kensington.

VISITORS FROM THE NORTH - M. A. M. writing in the Oakland Maple Leaf says: I received a pleasant surprise on March 7 when a car bearing a British Columbia license stopped in front of our building on Twelfth street. Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. James of Vancouver were taking a few weeks' vacation down the coast, going south as far as San Diego, and wishing to get a glimpse of Oakland on their way to the southland, made a brief stop here. Mrs. James is a Summeride girl (Mary Grady), daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Grady, who are well remembered by the people of that town. It was a pleasure, therefore, to meet this young woman from the "old home town," and her worthy husband, whose former home is the city of Toronto. Mr. James is manager of the Fairview Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Vancouver. Their tour of the coast included the city of San Francisco, where many friends of Mrs. James reside, among those being her relatives, Mrs. Eliza Hibbert and her sons, Lloyd and George, widow and sons of W. Bradford Hibbert. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. James from the city of Martinez, Contra Costa county, in this state, to San Francisco, was Mrs. Howard Reed (formerly Nora Holt) whose parents are natives of New Brunswick. Mrs. James and Mrs. Reed are intimate friends. Mr. Reed is in business in Martinez. Dr. King Grady, a successful practicing dentist in Vancouver, is a brother of Mrs. James.

PRIEST LIVED 4 YEARS AMONG 5,000 NEGROES

NEW YORK, April 26—The Rev. Francis Jarvis, a mission priest of the Church of England, is en route home from Cat Island in the Bahamas where he has lived alone for four years among 5,000 negroes. His companions were descendants of slaves who were emancipated by Queen Victoria, he said, and they took kindly to the Christian faith. Once they raised oranges and pineapples but now they produce only enough vegetables to eke out an existence. Mr. Jarvis had to travel miles on horseback to cover his assignment, and to cross the seas in open boats to neighboring islands. He will shortly take a charge in the north of Scotland.

Admiral Cagni Dies Suddenly

(Associated Press) GENOA, April 23—Admiral Umberto Cagni, noted explorer and shipping magnate, died suddenly today of a heart attack. In 1900 Admiral Cagni and the Duke of Abruzzi headed an expedition to the North Pole. They came closer to the pole than any man had up to that time. In 1907 the two explored Alaska and climbed St. Ella Mountain. Admiral Cagni headed the government commission which investigated the unfortunate Noble flight to the Pole.

Island Missionary In Far-Off China

Under the heading "Correspondence" in the Oakland Maple Leaf is an interesting letter just received from a missionary in China, a former Prince Edward Islander. During the past several weeks China and Japan have occupied the front pages of the daily papers. Hundreds suffered the agonies of war, and during the trouble the missions have been taxed to their utmost to care for those not actively engaged in warfare.

Rev. Vincent Morrison has been spreading the light of Faith among the Pagans of China for several years; he has undergone many hardships in his great work of bringing the Word of God to the people; and at all times there is the need of financial assistance to carry on the work in a larger way. Catholic Mission, Sung Yang, Chekiang, China:

Dear Mr. McInnis: Many moons have come and gone since I last wrote you. Your esteemed magazine comes regularly, and I am thus kept in touch with you, as well as with other personal friends and events interesting to Maritimers.

On the 6th of this month the moon entered the constellation Aquarius, marking the beginning of the Chinese New Year. With the change in the government, it seems that the officials have lost hope of ever getting the Chinese people to observe the Solar Calendar. They have been observing the Lunar Calendar since time immemorial, and are not willing to abandon a custom so deeply rooted in their hearts. For weeks previous they have been doing a rushing business, buying up provisions for a week's supply, and settling all their outstanding debts. For a week following the New Year everyone enjoys himself, and nobody does a tap of work. After their celebrations are over they go back to the daily grind again, many of them having spent the last copper to their name, toiling and working and waiting for the next New Year.

The boycott against Japanese goods is still on. It is China's most powerful weapon against a foreign foe, and the Japanese have suffered much on account of it. The situation for the past week has been very tense, especially in the Shanghai area and in some of the Port cities. There are ten Japanese men of war standing by in the Wusong opposite to the City of Shanghai, and the sight of these aggravate the Chinese very much. It is a very difficult situation and no one can tell what the outcome may be.

I read with much regret about the fire which destroyed the Falconwood Hospital in Charlottetown. It will be a heavy burden for the people to bear to replace this hospital. I also read of the wonderful help the people of the Island rendered to the destitute in Western Canada. Those who help others will also be helped in their hour of need. So in this period of depression we can always have hope that Divine Providence will provide. We are here in China striving to evangelize the Pagans, and to bring them to the light of truth. We rely upon our friends in the home lands to help us carry on this work, and up to the present we have never been disappointed. They have always come to our assistance in the time of need. So these good people need never despair of obtaining from Divine Providence their daily needs.

May this New Year be to you one of peace and happiness and may the Maple Leaf continue to entertain and delight its many subscribers.

Yours in the Lord,
REV. VINCENT MORRISON

Architecture Of Theatre Criticised

(By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England, April 26 (Canadian Press Cable)—A considerable controversy was in progress today regarding the architectural merits of the new $1,000,000 Shakespeare Memorial Theatre which the Prince of Wales opened yesterday.

Many of Stratford's own most loyal citizens likened the building to a jam factory, while others described the severe brick edifice as resembling a combination factory and barracks. Most critics in the past have praised the bold buildings designed by Miss Elizabeth Scott, the memorial architect, but numerous persons have written lately to newspapers protesting that the "hideous memorial" is an insult to the memory of the Bard of Avon.

The Prince, in his opening speech yesterday, abstained from any allusion to the spectacle the building presents from the far side of the slow-moving Avon, where he landed his aeroplane before attending the ceremony, or as approached from the town.

Some of those who attended the opening held the very modern building with its hard, straight, lines, was out of keeping with the traditional association of Shakespeare with half timber and lattice. Defenders of the theatre, however, maintained it would not be unhealthy for inhabitants and pilgrims to be weaned of certain traditions and to see the works of Stratford's immortal townsmen presented under modern architectural surroundings. Too long, these upholders of new style said, has Stratford been under the spell of what is largely a false old world atmosphere, which has produced a "ye olde tea shoppe" in every street and which offers souvenir door knockers and poker heads, new made at Birmingham, every few yards.

The interior of the new building is in keeping with the exterior. The decorations are modern and in the style to which Britishers have become accustomed through the rebuilding of restaurants and the erection of new theatres. The seats are the last word in comfort.

Stratford made it a whole-day celebration, awakening to the sound of church bells at daybreak. Banners were hung on the walls of houses and other buildings and garlands of flowers were stretched across the streets. There were Maypole and Morris dancing and processions of all sorts.

World's Largest Newsprint Merger

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, April 26—Canadian International Paper Company today became the world's largest producer of newsprint paper.

Announcement that the Canadian organization has acquired New Brunswick International Paper Company and International Paper Company of Newfoundland, Ltd., means Canadian International Paper will control a daily capacity of more than 2,800 tons of newsprint from four mills.

No new financing is involved in the transaction, which is effected through exchanges of securities and represents, according to a statement today "a further step in the programme of International Paper and Power Company for grouping its properties for maximum efficiency in operation and control."

The entire capital stock of the New Brunswick Company has been acquired from International Paper Company, which controls the common stock of Canadian International Paper. All common stock of the Newfoundland Company has been acquired by Canadian International Paper and Power Company. The newly acquired plants are located at Dalhousie, N. B., and Cornerbrook, Nfld. Canadian International's mills are at Gatineau and Three Rivers, Que.

The statement issued today said further: "With few exceptions all properties now controlled are divided into two groups: In the first group, power and utility properties owned by subsidiaries of International Hydro-Electric System; and in the other group paper and pulp and other industrial properties, all owned by International Paper Company and its

Cheaper Ground Limestone

HALIFAX, N. S., April 23—(By The Canadian Press)—Prospects for a reduction in the price of ground limestone to farmers of Nova Scotia Prince Edward Island and part of New Brunswick were held out in the report of the agricultural committee of the Nova Scotia Legislature, which was tabled in the House today.

That the price might be reduced to $2.50 per ton was the statement made later in the evening by Hon. O. P. Goucher, Minister of Agriculture, during consideration of estimates for his department. Up to the present season the price had been $4.00 per ton, but this year it could be purchased at $3.50.

Completion of the lime crushing plant at Pugwash, in Cumberland County, will enable the department to make the product available at lower prices.
