J. M. McDONALD, Hartsville, has left the teaching profession to take a position with the Mutual Life of Canada. J. O. Arsenault, the general agent, is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. McDonald.

The office hours for the news department are from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. to 4 a. m. For the advertising and subscription departments from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. It is useless to ring either of the above departments at any other hour.

THE Mother's Magazine, of which Miss Marion Wathen is editor, is now published by the David C. Cook Publishing Co. of Elgin, Illinois, whose excellent publications are an indication that nothing has been lost by the change.

SAMUEL INGOS, Hazelbrook has refused the handsome sum of $200.00 for his barometer offered him by A. Clow, North Wiltshire. Mr. Clow's intentions was to buy this handsome young mare for brood purposes. This being Mr Ing's prize filly he intends holding for a higher offer.

THE Guardian is pleased to note that the forthcoming publication, "The Past and Present of Prince Edward Island", from the publishing house of B. F. Bowne & Co., and under the advisory editorship of Hon. D. A. MacKinnon, L. L. B., K. C. and Hon. A. B. Warburton, D. C. L., K. C., has received and is receiving a satisfactory and liberal patronage from the people of the entire Island. It is earnestly requested by the editors and publishers that all of those who are to have biographical notices in the work will take the utmost care in correcting and endorsing their sketches when sent to them, and promptness in returning them to the publishers as requested.

JOHN ROSS, principal of Victoria School District, and head master of the Victoria Avenue School, Hamilton, Ont., up to a short time ago, was the recipient of a well deserved honor at the hands of the teaching profession of that city a few weeks ago. The head masters and teachers of all the schools assembled at Victoria School and one of them read to him a complimentary address while another presented him with a substantial purse of gold, after which all of the head masters spoke in appreciation of Mr. Ross and his services. The recipient showed much feeling in his reply. The address was beautifully illuminated and was set in a frame made from material from the old oak seats in his school. One of the teachers sang two solos with splendid effect. The many friends of Mr. Ross in Kingston and other parts of this province will be glad to hear of the compliment paid him.

SOME days ago twelve teams were seen at Fredericton Station the object being to take Rev. A. S. Stewart's furniture to the manse. There were a number of ladies there to put things in order; the stove was put up in the kitchen, the furnace was set going and in a short time the manse was in commotion. In the evening things were arranged in good shape when all left for home. On Tuesday evening a large number of ladies and gentlemen drove to the manse to welcome Mr. Stewart and family to the congregation. The ladies were well supplied with things useful in the pantry and it was left well stocked. They then took charge of the dining room and a large table was set and loaded with the good things provided. After the table was cleared John A. Matheson was called to take charge of the meeting. The object of the meeting was to welcome the pastor and his family to the congregation. The sacrifice he had made in leaving his former congregation at this time of year was an evidence that his heart was in the work. A number of those present followed all testifying to their pleasure at being present on such an occasion and assuring Mr. Stewart of their pleasure of having him pastor of this congregation. Mr. Stewart made a fitting reply. On Wednesday morning the manse was again taken by storm when a large number of men with teams drove to the door. On this occasion they were going to make it hot for the minister and in the evening it was evident that they had gained their object as there was a year's supply of firewood hauled to the wood-house.—Con.

WOOD ISLANDS.

Feb. 2—All deeply regret the departure of Rev. A. S. Stewart who has accepted the call to Strathroy. All are pleased to see D. Gillis fully recovered from a severe attack of measles.

Wm. Young was seriously injured in the woods by his horse taking a fright. J. H. Nelson has returned to his home in Wood Islands after spending some time in Boston.

An aged lady Miss Ann Munn accidentally fell on the ice a few evenings ago. Many are glad to say by the timely aid of a young gentleman she was not seriously injured.

The roads are in grand condition, for driving and horse-racing is the order of the day. The Guardian regrets to announce the severe illness of Alexander McMillan who has been confined to his bed for the past few days.

A search light was seen around Hooligan's Corner a few evenings ago and a large crowd soon assembled together but all their efforts were in vain to find the missing article. It is getting late for Milnes but still they are seen flitting along the road in the moonlight.

Miss Minnie A. Emery paid a visit to the city by the Murray Harbor train. All think of all the papers that come this way The Guardian is the best.

A few days ago while two of our young men were returning from Montague Bridge they were mentally got astray and had to call to a cottage by the road, but alas they were only a mile from their own cottage by the sea.

STOMACH ON THE BRAIN.

What if a Man Gain the Whole World, and Lose His Appetite. The man with a well-behaved stomach never thinks about it. He eats what he likes and likes what he eats. He knows he'll enjoy it, because he knows he has a stomach that will easily digest it. All things look good to him; he will sit close to the table, and with a merry twinkle in his eye and a world-peace expression, he will "start" on the delicious meal before him.

But the man with a bad, brash, gurgly stomach is the man who is always thinking about it. He can seldom eat what he most likes, and seldom likes what he eats. His stomach worries him before meals, after meals and between meals. It is on his brain. It robs him of his cheer and interferes with his daily work.

Around him is a dark spirit which presses itself forward in his thoughts, crying: "I am weary, I am diseased, I am nervous, I am sick, languor, worry, I am conceived in quick lunches and pappy food, and nourished by gully meals. I rob brains of their force and bodies of their life. I steal away nerve and vim. I bring heart disease and apoplexy. I make the world a pit of weariness and darkness. I am woe, I am death. I am dyspepsia. But yet, I bring also hope, light and future health, because by my gloomy presence I give you warning and a chance to escape me."

This is a bad dream, but it is the daily dream of the dyspeptic. If it were not for the white we couldn't tell the black. If it were not for dyspepsia, we couldn't know the joy, the happiness of a well-ordered digestion. All the world looks bright to a man of good health, and good health is impossible without a good, hardy stomach. And any sick or weak stomach can be made a good, strong one by just taking something that will digest your food for you, instead of letting your tired stomach do it. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the most effective little tablets in the world for this very thing. If you feel bloated after eating, or you have nausea, aversion to food, brash, irritation, sour stomach, heartburn or dyspepsia, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will stop it because one grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food.

Your stomach is overworked. Let it take a rest. You're not yourself when you have a bad stomach. These tablets will do the work that the stomach has to do and make you feel bright, think clearly and give you ambition and power to concentrate your attention on your work. You'll feel good. You should always have a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on your dining table. They will make you get all the good possible out of everything you eat, and you'll enjoy it.

Worth Reading

Not how CHEAPLY but how SATISFACTORILY can I be fitted with glasses? THAT'S THE QUESTION which every THOUGHTFUL person SHOULD ask. Cheap or ill-fitting glasses CAUSE more strain to the eyes, and take more TIME TO CAREFULLY and ACCURATELY fit glasses. Time is VALUABLE and cannot rightly be given for nothing. THE EXACT FITTING and cannot rightly be given for nothing. We therefore do NOT test eyes FREE and we feel that no REASONABLE customer expects us to do so. We invite those interested to see us about their eyes. G. F. HUTCHESON Optician.

An Excellent Showing.

The Annual Statement of the North American Life Shows Good Progress.

The Report of the North American Life Assurance Company presented at the Annual Meeting, which appears elsewhere in this issue, shows that the Company has been making gratifying progress. A notable feature of the Statement is the good increase shown in the amount of the net Surplus, notwithstanding that the Company again reports large surplus payments to policyholders whose policies have matured. The Company again follows its usual practice of including only the book value of Bonds, Stocks, etc., in the assets; and it is seen from the Statement that a Surplus of over $100,000 is shown in the market value over the value in account.

A new departure, no doubt prompted by the recent public disquietude over the insurance situation, is especially noted in the Statement. The Board of Directors announce that "the Annual Statement, showing marked proofs of the continued progress and the solid position of the Company, and containing a list of securities held, and those upon which the Company has made collateral loans, will be sent in due course to each policyholder." This action on the part of the Directors and the desire it exhibits to make the policyholders acquainted with the actual situation, will no doubt be satisfactory to all who are interested in the Company.

The Statement of the year's growth, shows what careful and conservative methods, backed by sound business judgment and judicious management will do for the Company and the policyholders. There can be no doubt that this Company is living up to its motto—"Solid as the Continent."
